Truman Orders ERP Speedup

Authorizes Use Of Full Grants By Next April 2

Means New Congress Will Be Asked For Supplemental Fund

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — President Truman tonight ordered full speed ahead on European recovery. He authorized use of the full $4,000,000,000 in Marshall Plan grants by next April 2.

The action shortens by three months the period for which the money was appropriated.

It means that the new Congress will be asked for a supplemental appropriation — about $1,250,000,000, by estimate of Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman—to carry ECA through June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

Hoffman has stated ECA will spend at a slower rate in the next fiscal year, but so far has given no estimate.

The ECA administrator disclosed last month he would seek the speedup and, in fact, has geared his spending to that expectation.

Hoffman Reports Progress

Hoffman told reporters that "substantial" progress now is being made in boosting European production and exports, and that "now is the time to hit and hit hard for recovery."

Congress last April 3 voted the $4,000,000,000 for recovery grants plus another $1,000,000,000 for repayable loans. It specified that the money should cover costs up to next July 1—or 15 months—except that the President might authorize its use in 12 months if he deemed it necessary.

The White House disclosed that Hoffman asked for the speedup on October 29. His letter declared it to be ECA's judgment that only such action would meet "the pressing minimum needs" of the 16 Marshall Plan countries, the Allied zones of Germany, and Trieste.

Mr. Truman's reply was dated today. It said:

"After considering your recommendation, I deem it necessary, in order to carry out the purposes of the Economic Cooperation Act of 1948, that the entire $4,000,000,000 be made available as recommended by you."

Doesn't Apply To China Aid

Charles G. Ross, Mr. Truman's press secretary, said the speedup did not apply to the $275,000,000 China aid program, separately administered by ECA.

The Chinese appropriation was for 12 months. It therefore will run out simultaneously with the present European funds. Another $125,000,000 in a military aid fund for China is virtually exhausted: ECA does not control its spending.

ECA has been footing the bill for European purchases at an average rate of about $1,000,000,000 a quarter, without counting loans to 13 countries which now total $837,000,000.

Sun Fo Becomes Premier Of China

NANKING, Nov. 26 (AP)—As Communist armies edged closer to Nanking's Yangtze River barrier today, Sun Fo became premier of the uneasy Chinese government.

Elevation of this son of Sun Yat-Sen, "father" of the Chinese republic, might be the first step towards creation of a "war cabinet" to try to cope with the critical military situation.

Some observers, however, said Sun apparently took the job because President Chiang Kai-Shek could not get anybody else to do so. This was the case when outgoing Premier Wong Wen-Hao was chosen six months ago.

Sun Fo has been president of the Legislative Yuan since 1932. He has close support of the rightist clique, but it is not generally regarded as a "strong man." The Legislative Yuan approved his appointement, 288 to 44.

The Legislative Yuan also voted to send an appeal to the United States Congress for military and economic aid, dubbing the Communists the instruments of an "international aggressive bloc."

The hottest war front meanwhile shifted slightly south to the Suhsien- Lingpi line, some 150 miles north of Nanking.

Suhsien is 45 miles by rail south of Suchow. Lingpi is 35 miles by road east of Suhsien.

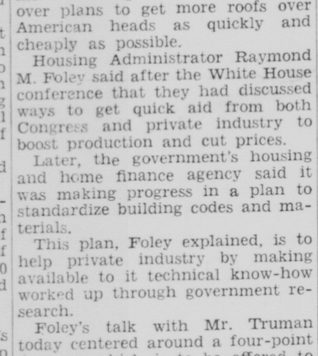

Government dispatches from Suchow headquarters said both sides were bringing up reinforcements for a major battle expected momentarily. It outcome may well determine control of the entire northern Yangtze region.

Murray Re-Elected As CIO's President

Warns Communists In Organization To Cease Propaganda

RETAINS POST—Philip Murray (above) was re-elected president of the CIO by acclamation as the organization wound up its annual convention at Portland, Ore., yesterday.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 26 (AP)—Parading, cheering CIO delegates today re-elected as president a stern Philip Murray who asserted he would never "permit Communistic infiltration into the national CIO."

Gone was Murray's former peacemaking role as the 600-odd delegates would up their annual convention by re-electing all officers by acclamation. For Murray, it is the start of his ninth year.

Murray warned the Communists that remain in the CIO to "cease and desist" their Communistic propaganda. He then appealed to all CIO unions to take care of any violators.

The final day of the week-long convention also saw Murray make a friendly gesture toward the AFL. He reiterated his invitation to the AFL to confer on economic and political problems, but this time in conciliatory terms without any of the sarcasm that sometimes accompanied previous invitations. It was clear, though, that he was not accepting an AFL invitation to merge.

Precedent-Making Conclave

It was the end of a precedent-breaking convention. For the first time in many years a bitter floor fight broke out over CIO policies and Communists. The fight raged daily—until today's session, which was all cheers and applause.

It was not quite unity, for a small minority—less than 10 per cent of the delegates—refused to take part in the longest ovation ever given Murray. It was a 39-minute demonstration with chanting, singing delegates parading about the convention hall, throwing confetti, waving flags and clapping hands.

Murray also announced he intended to push at once an intensive organizing campaign, similar to that of the mid-1930s when the CIO was born.

"I charge all of you to engage in the mightiest organization crusade that has ever been undertaken in this country," he told delegates.

Murray will go into the campaign armed with authority from the delegates to take "proper action when necessary" against unions which have failed to grow. These include several left-wing unions, the particular target of Murray and the convention.

Executive Board To Meet

Actually, the power was voted to the executive board, but Murray was expected to play the leading role in any crackdowns. An executive board meeting has been called for tomorrow, and the issue might come up then.

The right wing, strongly in majority, gave long ovations to others re-elected. Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey got the longest—13 minutes. Albert J. Fitzgerald, one of the nine vice-presidents, got the shortest—one minute.

Fitzgerald is head of the United Electrical Workers Union, which has been accused of being Communist-dominated. Fitzgerald also bolted CIO policy to support Henry Wallace in the last campaign.

Fitzgerald, however, told delegates in this convention he didn't "give a dam for Russia" and would support President Truman if he puts his campaign platform into effect. No candidate was put up to oppose him.

Housing Problem Subject Of White House Discussion

Plan To Standardize Codes Progresses

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — President Truman and the government housing chief today talked over plans to get more roofs over American heads as quickly and cheaply as possible.

Housing Administrator Raymond M. Foley said after the White House conference that they had discussed ways to get quick aid from both Congress and private industry to boost production and cut prices.

Later, the government's housing and home finance agency said it was making progress in a plan to standardize building codes and materials.

This plan, Foley explained, is to help private industry by making available to it technical know-how worked up through government research.

Foley's talk with Mr. Truman today centered around a four-point program which is to be offered to Congress probably in January:

1. Federal aid for low-rent housing projects for low-income families.
2. Federal loans and grants for slum clearance.
3. Federal aid to farmers for rural homes and repairs.
4. Federal sponsorship of a long-range housing research program to help private industry.

Foley said that in addition to the legislative program, the government will make a nationwide effort to win cooperation of builders, lenders, labor and other interested groups to stimulate more home construction at lower costs and rents.

The housing legislation being planned is similar to the twice-beaten Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill, named for Sens. Taft (R-Ohio), Ellender (D-La.) and Wagner (D-N.Y.).

Ellender has announced he will revive such a bill as soon as Congress meets.

The government's standardization program depends on cooperation among technicians of private industry, contractors, builders, and even universities, Foley said.

One specific problem already attacked is the uniform plumbing code. A committee composed of representatives of the National Association of Master Plumbers, the United Association of Journeymen Plumbers, the United States Public Health Service and the National Bureau of Standards has developed a uniform plumbing code for housing.

Wagner Will Be Asked To Retain Senate Seat

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP) — Democratic Party strategists plan to ask the veteran Sen. Robert F. Wagner, of New York, to retain his Senate place for the next two years.

One party adviser who asked that his name not be used said today Wagner, who has been in poor health in recent years, also will be asked to pass up chairmanship of the Senate Banking Committee.

Stricken Boy Who Wanted To Die Has Plea Granted

SEFFNER, Fla., Nov. 26—(AP)—Donald Younglove, who pleaded with his dad to put him to sleep so he'd never wake again, died today.

He died of a rare, painful, disease — dermatomyositis — which causes complete atrophy of the muscles. Donald knew for a long time he was going to die.

For six months his parents watched his healthy, husky body waste away until the 14-year-old boy weighed only 35 pounds.

When the story of Donald's illness was known scores of persons called to offer help. A telegram from Canada said a clinic was sending a serum which might help. Others offered medical advice.

The Youngloves were grateful for those offers, but they knew nothing could help. Top specialists had told them so.

Donald was an active youngster before the strange disease cut him down. He won scholastic awards. He helped his dad, a disabled war veteran, build a house on their five-acre farm.

The illness struck as he was about to take a trip given him for 4-H work.

As his body became weaker Donald often asked his father for an overdose of the morphine that kept the constant pain down to a dull ache.

"Put me to sleep, please Daddy, so I won't ever wake up," he whispered several tiems.

The Youngloves have been sleeping in half hour naps around the clock to give Donald what care and comfort they could.

The weary mother, Mrs. T. F. Younglove, said in a low voice:

"I couldn't say we are glad. Yet it is a blessing that Donald's suffering is finally over. But you can never be glad when your child dies, no matter what the circumstances. Still Donald is at peace at last."

CAB RUNS AWAY-- The bathroom at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Swanson, Los Angeles, had an unexpected visitor yesterday when this taxicab crashed into it. The driver reported the cab stalled at the top of a hill. He got out to push and the car rolled over an embankment, skidding 300 feet into the house. His passenger, Marie Johnson, 18, suffered a possible brain concussion.

Red Bloc Blasts ERP, U. S. Aid To Greece

Some Delegates Doze; Assembly Rejects Polish Resolution

PARIS, Nov. 26 (AP)—Russian bloc delegates charged today that the United States "is waging war against the Greek people" and conducting an economic cold war on Eastern Europe. Some of the other dleegates in the United Nations Assembly slept through the harangues.

The Assembly sided with the United States on the economic aid issue. It voted 33 to 6 against a Polish resolution which western delegates in the United Nations Asactually was a condemnation of American support of the European recovery program.

Hector McNeil, Britain's acting foreign secretary, was among those who dozed off when Ales Bebler, of Yugoslavia, began an attack on American policies in Greece. Speaking loudly in French, Bebler declared:

"In short, the United States of America is waging war against the Greek people. They (the United States) are doing it openly before the eyes of the whole world." He took the view that the present anti-Communist Greek government does not represent the Greek people.

Charges U. S. Builds Airports

Lt. Gen. James Van Fleet, head of the American military mission, is present at all meetings of the Greek Defense Council, the Yugoslav continued. The national Greek army is "teeming" with United States officers known as liaison officers and war is being waged with the tacit approval of the United Nations, Bebler said, adding:

"The United States is waging this war for reasons which are revealed by the building of military airports in Greece for thei Flying Fotresses and the building of ports and strategic roads in the direction of the northern frontiers of Greece."

He called on the Assembly to reject a Political Committee resolution which condemns Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria for helping the Communist rebels in Greece.

The Assembly also has before it a Russian proposal intended to directly counter the Political Committee's resolution. The Russians demand that the Assembly discontinue immediately the Special Commission on the Balkans and that all foreign troops and foreign military personnel (American and British) be withdrawn from Greece.

Second Oldest U. N. Case

The Greek case is the second oldest controversy in United Nations history. The Russian-Iranian case is the oldest.

Russia lodged a complaint with the Security Council in London on January 21, 1946 calling for the withdrawal of British soldiers from Greece. Later the Russians broadened the charges to include American military personnel. In various forms the Greek question has been before the United Nations since that time.

Only the Slav bloc supported the Polish resolution to forbid economic pressure by one nation against another as a means of influencing domestic or foreign policy.

New Four-Cent Air Mail Postal Card Is Planned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Plans for a new four-cent air mail government postal card were announced tonight by the Post Office Department.

The new card will be issued in connection with the several postal rate changes which become effective January 1, 1949, by act of Congress. Many of the rates will go up on that date, including an advance from five to six cents for air mail letters. However, air mail postal cards will be an exception, with the rate decreased from five to four cents.

Postmaster General James M. Donaldson said the new postal will have its first-day sale at the Washington post office on January 10.

Venezuela Envoy Carnevali Resigns

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — Venezuelan Ambassador Gonzalo Carnevali said tonight he has presented his resignation to the revolutionary government now in power in his country.

He said in a statement he did so "to avoid wrong interpretations on the dignity of his position here."

"But I will remain as ambassador," he continued, "until my successor is named which can not be done while the government of Romulo Gallegos, which is the constitutional government of Venezuela, is the only one recognized by the United States."

There has been no indication yet from the State Department on what it will do regarding he question of recognizing the Venezuelan revolutionary regime.

In recent similar political turnovers, the United States has continued diplomatic relations in accordance with a resolution adopted at the Bogota Inter-American Conference early this year.

This resolution stated that continuation of dpilomatic relations in such cases is "desirable" but that recognition is not to be taken as approval of the internal policies of a country."

ECA Will Honor Grain Contracts Despite Ban

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — The Economic Cooperation Administration said tonight it will honor some $50,000,000 in grain contracts between European nations and private American dealers.

Such transactions were barred Tuesday by a directive from President Truman to ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman. Under that presidential order, grain purchases financed by ECA are to continue to be handled by the Federal Commodity Credit Corporation rather than by private dealers.

However, Dennis A. Fitzgerald, ECA's director of food and agriculture, told newsmen tonight of an agreement to honor outstanding contracts. He said an official order covering the matter will be issued Monday.

"Olds" Prices Boosted

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 26. (AP)—General Motors Corporation tonight boosted prices on some of its 1949 Oldsmobile cars and announced that production of two "Olds" series—the '66' and '68'—would be discontinued for 1949.

White House Won't Ask Chiang To U. S.

But Generalissimo's Wife Plans Visit To Ask For Assistance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — Chiang Kai-Shek won't get an official White House invitation to come here to discuss China's plight. But his wife is planning on a visit.

President Truman turned down a suggestion by Rep. Sol Bloom (D-NY) today that the Generalissimo be asked to come to the United States to present a first hand account of conditions in China, where Communist forces have overrun much of the north.

Emerging from the President's office, Bloom told reporters that Mr. Truman "didn't see how Chiang could leave China at this time." The Congressman, who is slated to head the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said he reached the same conclusion after talking over the matter with the President.

Bloom Wants "Real" Information

But, Bloom asserted:

"What we need is real information about the Chinese situation, information of the kind we cannot get simply by sending men into China to stay a few weeks."

Meanwhile, Madame Chiang's impending visit was made known by the State Department and confirmed by the Chinese embassy.

Both said they knew no details at all, even the time of her arrival or the length of her stay.

There appeared to be little doubt in any quarter, however, that the prime purpose of her mission would be to solicit further and stepped-up help from the United States for the Central Chinese government in the war against the Communists.

Created Sensation In 1942-43

She appealed for such assistance over the radio last Sunday, in a broadcast from China. In that speech, she said she had received requests from many quarters that she undertake a trip to the United States. She said, however, she was not able to leave immediately.

Madame Chiang, educated in the United States, made her latest appearance here in the winter of 1942-43. She created a sensation by addressing the two houses of Congress in January, 1943. She also made a grand tour of the United States during that visit.

Dept. Store Sales Dip Is Continuing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Department store sales during the week ended November 20 ran below a year ago for the third consecutive week, the Federal Reserve Board reported tonight.

The unusual continued downtrend extended over the entire nation, the report indicated.

Continuance of the department store sales dip was taken in official quarters as a further indication of mounting consumer resistance to current prices, although that was not considered the only or necessarily even the chief cause of the dip.

Other factors regarded as influential included unseasonable weather in many parts of the country, and the possibility that the American public is returning to its tradition of waiting late to do the Christmas shopping.

The reserve board report showed the dollar volume of sales for the November 20 week was six per cent below the comparable period a year ago.

For the two previous weeks, there had been dips of nine and eight per cent, respectively.

The reserve board report followed closely one by the Commerce Department showing total retail sales for October were slightly below September, after allowance for seasonal factors, and little changed from the level of the preceeding four months.

Security Council Neutrals Discuss New Berlin Plan

Based On Replies To Currency Questions

PARIS, Nov. 26—(AP)—The six neutrals of the Security Council began discussions tonight on a new compromise formula to end the Berlin blockade.

Their discussions were based on Soviet and Western Power replies to five questions from Juan Bramuglia, leader of the neutrals, concerning details of the Berlin currency tangle which were published tonight.

In its reply the Soviet Union stood pat on the Moscow agreement of August 30 for the introduction of the Soviet zone mark as Berlin's only currency as a condition to the ending of the blockade. The accord never was put into effect because the four military governors of Germany split on interpretations of how the mark would be controlled by the four powers.

West Calls For Commission

The joint Western reply showed Britain, France and the United States called for a four-power financial commission to supervise the activities of the bank in the Soviet sector that would issue the marks.

They also maintained that the German city administration should be the agency for licensing Berlin's civilian import and export trade under supervision of the four-power commission.

The Russians said the commission itself, in which they would have a voice, should do the licensing.

The Western replies specified that the American, British and French military authorities should have the right "freely to import food and fuel and power" into their sectors and should control the sale of these imports.

Food, Fuel, Power Exempted

The Russians exempted Western shipments of food, fuel and power from the license requirement when such deliveries were intended to supply the Berlin population in the form of aid. The phrase about aid was not explained.

The Western Powers recognized that the technical problem of controlling the Soviet mark in Berlin without interferring with the econ-

Life With Father Rough On Stalin, Alienist Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—One of the Nation's leading psychiatrists said tonight he has it from an eyewitness that Stalin, as a boy, was bossed around plenty by his old man —and didn't like it a bit.

Asserting that life with father was also rough on two other lads who grew up to be dictators—Hitler and Mussolini—Dr. Edward A. Strecker, of the University of Pennsylvania, posed these questions.

"Could it be that the cold, rigid father authority of their childhoods conditioned in the dictators a hatred of all authority other than their own?

"Could it be that in their ruthless behavior toward the helpless, the leading motif is revenge for the indignities and pain inflicted upon them as children?"

In a lecture prepared for delivery at the National Naval Medical Center, Strecker said:

"Perhaps it is a coincidence but if so it is a highly suspicious one, that there is a similarity of pattern in the child lives of three dictators, Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin. At the hands of their fathers, they all suffered non-loving brutal authority and became attached, perhaps too deeply bound, to their mothers. It is noteworthy, too, that the rulers of Russia, the members of the Politburo, all suffered personally from the Czarist regime."

In a footnote concerning Stalin, the doctor declared without amplification "the author has access to a reliable eyewitness account of Stalin's childhood in his native village of Georgian Russia."

He said "Mr. Moltov and Mr Gromyko et al" have shown "a large measure of immaturity" in their activities at the United Nations conference table.

Brooklyn Men Say Proposals Not Acceptable

Ryan Claims Move Is Attempt By Reds "To Becloud Issues"

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—Newly proposed terms to end the paralyzing East Coast dock strike encountered opposition here tonight but found favor in Philadelphia.

A police-estimated crowd of 2,000 men, which leaders said came from Brooklyn union locals with 13,000 members, decided at a Brooklyn meeting to reject the proposed contract when they vote on it tomorrow. They urged other members to do likewise.

In Philadelphia, however, a union official said a general membership meeting voted to accept the terms and that Philadelphia's 6,500 dock workers would go back to work Monday. The statement came from Paul Baker, international vice president of the AFL longshoremen's association, which represents the stevedores.

Earlier, a union delegate from Boston had been quoted as saying here that longshoremen in his port and in Philadelphia and Baltimore were not agreeable to the new terms. The delegate's name was not disclosed. His purported statement was made at the Brooklyn meeting, according to union members attending.

Ryan Blames Communists

Joseph P. Ryan, ILA president, declared here that the Brooklyn opposition was "an attempt by the Communist Party to becloud the issues."

He asserted that the meeting was "an incentive to our men to come out and repudiate their (the Brooklyn men's) action which is not conducive to the best interests of the longshoremen."

Ryan added, however, that he was not attempting to influence the union membership in its scheduled vote tomorrow on the contract terms —the second set to be worked out by company and union negotiators. Rejection of the first led to the strike of some 65,000 East Coast dock men.

The ILA president said many of those at the Brooklyn session were not members of the union. He said they merely were men allowed to work on piers during the war.

Only members in good standing will be permitted to vote in secret balloting tomorrow, he said.

92,000 Involved In Walkout

The Brooklyn meeting had been called to form a rank and file committee to fight acceptance of the new pact.

Their action came as the nation's virtually strike-bound shipping industry hoped for an affirmative vote on terms worked out to settle the strike here, as well as that of CIO longshoremen on the West Coast. Some 92,000 men are involved in the two walkouts, which have tied up 500 vessels at piers in this country.

The new terms for both coasts were worked out Thanksgiving Day.

A previous East Coast contract, which called for a 10-cent hourly wage boost, was rejected earlier this month, setting off the current waterfront tieup.

While police put the attendance at the Brooklyn meeting at 2,000, Ryan said reports to him indicated about 1,000 or 1,100.

Earlier, Ryan said that in the event of union ratification of the new agreement any union member who reported to work at 7:55 a. m. (EST) Sunday would be permitted

Israel Agrees To Armistice Talks

PARIS, Nov. 26 (AP) — Israel insisted tonight that Egypt must agree to armistice talks before the Jews free 1,200 Egyptian troops trapped at Faluja in the Negev.

Aubrey S. Eban, of Israel, told the Security Council's seven-nation Palestine committee that his government was willing to review the entire Negev situation. But first, he said, Egypt must accept the council's November 16 resolution asking Arabs and Jews to negotiate on an armistice throughout the Holy Land.

Israel formally accept the call for armistice talks today. There have been no replies from the Arab states.

In turn, Mahmoud Fawzi, of Egypt, declared Israel was defying the council's order of November 4 for withdrawal to the lines occupied before October 14 in the Negev.

"If the United Nations cannot handle this microscopic matter with the support of the big powers I wonder when and where it can handle anything else," he commented.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting United Nations mediator, reported to the committee on progres on the council's resolution calling for the withdrawal.

He said Israel was refusing to give up Beersheba, biblical town in the Southern Negev that was taken in the offensive beginning October 14. She is insisting on keeping some mobile forces in the Negev area which she claims were there before October 14, Bunche added.

He said Egypt, on the other hand, has refused to leave some strategic positions unless Israel complies with the withdrawal order.

Truman Orders ERP Speedup

Means New Congress Will Be Asked For Supplemental Fund

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — President Truman tonight ordered full speed ahead on European recovery. He authorized use of the full $4,000,000,000 in Marshall Plan grants by next April 2.

The action shortens by three months the period for which the money was appropriated.

It means that the new Congress will be asked for a supplemental appropriation — about $1,250,000,000, by estimate of Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman—to carry ECA through June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

Hoffman has stated ECA will spend at a slower rate in the next fiscal year, but so far has given no estimate.

The ECA administrator disclosed last month he would seek the speedup and, in fact, has geared his spending to that expectation.

Hoffman Reports Progress

Hoffman told reporters that "substantial" progress now is being made in boosting European production and exports, and that "now is the time to hit and hit hard for recovery."

Congress last April 3 voted the $4,000,000,000 for recovery grants plus another $1,000,000,000 for repayable loans. It specified that the money should cover costs up to next July 1—or 15 months—except that the President might authorize its use in 12 months if he deemed it necessary.

The White House disclosed that Hoffman asked for the speedup on October 29. His letter declared it to be ECA's judgment that only such action would meet "the pressing minimum needs" of the 16 Marshall Plan countries, the Allied zones of Germany, and Trieste.

Mr. Truman's reply was dated today. It said:

"After considering your recommendation, I deem it necessary, in order to carry out the purposes of the Economic Cooperation Act of 1948, that the entire $4,000,000,000 be made available as recommended by you."

Doesn't Apply To China Aid

Charles G. Ross, Mr. Truman's press secretary, said the speedup did not apply to the $275,000,000 China aid program, separately administered by ECA.

The Chinese appropriation was for 12 months. It therefore will run out simultaneously with the present European funds. Another $125,000,000 in a military aid fund for China is virtually exhausted: ECA does not control its spending.

ECA has been footing the bill for European purchases at an average rate of about $1,000,000,000 a quarter, without counting loans to 13 countries which now total $837,000,000.

Sun Fo Becomes Premier Of China

Murray Re-Elected As CIO's President

It was not quite unity, for a small minority—less than 10 per cent of the delegates—refused to take part in the longest ovation ever given Murray. It was a 39-minute demonstration with chanting, singing delegates parading about the convention hall, throwing confetti, waving flags and clapping hands.

Murray also announced he intended to push at once an intensive organizing campaign, similar to that of the mid-1930s when the CIO was born.

"I charge all of you to engage in the mightiest organization crusade that has ever been undertaken in this country," he told delegates.

Murray will go into the campaign armed with authority from the delegates to take "proper action when necessary" against unions which have failed to grow. These include several left-wing unions, the particular target of Murray and the convention.

Executive Board To Meet

Actually, the power was voted to the executive board, but Murray was expected to play the leading role in any crackdowns. An executive board meeting has been called for tomorrow, and the issue might come up then.

The right wing, strongly in majority, gave long ovations to others re-elected. Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey got the longest—13 minutes. Albert J. Fitzgerald, one of the nine vice-presidents, got the shortest—one minute.

Fitzgerald is head of the United Electrical Workers Union, which has been accused of being Communist-dominated. Fitzgerald also bolted CIO policy to support Henry Wallace in the last campaign.

Fitzgerald, however, told delegates in this convention he didn't "give a dam for Russia" and would support President Truman if he puts his campaign platform into effect. No candidate was put up to oppose him.

Housing Problem Subject Of White House Discussion

Plan To Standardize Codes Progresses

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — President Truman and the government housing chief today talked over plans to get more roofs over American heads as quickly and cheaply as possible.

Housing Administrator Raymond M. Foley said after the White House conference that they had discussed ways to get quick aid from both Congress and private industry to boost production and cut prices.

Later, the government's housing and home finance agency said it was making progress in a plan to standardize building codes and materials.

This plan, Foley explained, is to help private industry by making available to it technical know-how worked up through government research.

Foley's talk with Mr. Truman today centered around a four-point program which is to be offered to Congress probably in January:

1. Federal aid for low-rent housing projects for low-income families.
2. Federal loans and grants for slum clearance.
3. Federal aid to farmers for rural homes and repairs.
4. Federal sponsorship of a long-range housing research program to help private industry.

Foley said that in addition to the legislative program, the government will make a nationwide effort to win cooperation of builders, lenders, labor and other interested groups to stimulate more home construction at lower costs and rents.

The housing legislation being planned is similar to the twice-beaten Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill, named for Sens. Taft (R-Ohio), Ellender (D-La.) and Wagner (D-N.Y.).

Ellender has announced he will revive such a bill as soon as Congress meets.

The government's standardization program depends on cooperation among technicians of private industry, contractors, builders, and even universities, Foley said.

One specific problem already attacked is the uniform plumbing code. A committee composed of representatives of the National Association of Master Plumbers, the United Association of Journeymen Plumbers, the United States Public Health Service and the National Bureau of Standards has developed a uniform plumbing code for housing.

CAB RUNS AWAY-- The bathroom at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Swanson, Los Angeles, had an unexpected visitor yesterday when this taxicab crashed into it. The driver reported the cab stalled at the top of a hill. He got out to push and the car rolled over an embankment, skidding 300 feet into the house. His passenger, Marie Johnson, 18, suffered a possible brain concussion.

Red Bloc Blasts ERP, U. S. Aid To Greece

Some Delegates Doze; Assembly Rejects Polish Resolution

PARIS, Nov. 26 (AP)—Russian bloc delegates charged today that the United States "is waging war against the Greek people" and conducting an economic cold war on Eastern Europe. Some of the other dleegates in the United Nations Assembly slept through the harangues.

The Assembly sided with the United States on the economic aid issue. It voted 33 to 6 against a Polish resolution which western delegates in the United Nations Asactually was a condemnation of American support of the European recovery program.

Hector McNeil, Britain's acting foreign secretary, was among those who dozed off when Ales Bebler, of Yugoslavia, began an attack on American policies in Greece. Speaking loudly in French, Bebler declared:

"In short, the United States of America is waging war against the Greek people. They (the United States) are doing it openly before the eyes of the whole world." He took the view that the present anti-Communist Greek government does not represent the Greek people.

Charges U. S. Builds Airports

Lt. Gen. James Van Fleet, head of the American military mission, is present at all meetings of the Greek Defense Council, the Yugoslav continued. The national Greek army is "teeming" with United States officers known as liaison officers and war is being waged with the tacit approval of the United Nations, Bebler said, adding:

"The United States is waging this war for reasons which are revealed by the building of military airports in Greece for thei Flying Fotresses and the building of ports and strategic roads in the direction of the northern frontiers of Greece."

He called on the Assembly to reject a Political Committee resolution which condemns Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria for helping the Communist rebels in Greece.

The Assembly also has before it a Russian proposal intended to directly counter the Political Committee's resolution. The Russians demand that the Assembly discontinue immediately the Special Commission on the Balkans and that all foreign troops and foreign military personnel (American and British) be withdrawn from Greece.

Second Oldest U. N. Case

The Greek case is the second oldest controversy in United Nations history. The Russian-Iranian case is the oldest.

Russia lodged a complaint with the Security Council in London on January 21, 1946 calling for the withdrawal of British soldiers from Greece. Later the Russians broadened the charges to include American military personnel. In various forms the Greek question has been before the United Nations since that time.

Only the Slav bloc supported the Polish resolution to forbid economic pressure by one nation against another as a means of influencing domestic or foreign policy.

New Four-Cent Air Mail Postal Card Is Planned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Plans for a new four-cent air mail government postal card were announced tonight by the Post Office Department.

The new card will be issued in connection with the several postal rate changes which become effective January 1, 1949, by act of Congress. Many of the rates will go up on that date, including an advance from five to six cents for air mail letters. However, air mail postal cards will be an exception, with the rate decreased from five to four cents.

Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson said the new postal will have its first-day sale at the Washington post office on January 10.

Venezuela Envoy Carnevali Resigns

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — Venezuelan Ambassador Gonzalo Carnevali said tonight he has presented his resignation to the revolutionary government now in power in his country.

He said in a statement he did so "to avoid wrong interpretations on the dignity of his position here."

"But I will remain as ambassador," he continued, "until my successor is named which can not be done while the government of Romulo Gallegos, which is the constitutional government of Venezuela, is the only one recognized by the United States."

There has been no indication yet from the State Department on what it will do regarding he question of recognizing the Venezuelan revolutionary regime.

In recent similar political turnovers, the United States has continued diplomatic relations in accordance with a resolution adopted at the Bogota Inter-American Conference early this year.

This resolution stated that continuation of dpilomatic relations in such cases is "desirable" but that recognition is not to be taken as approval of the internal policies of a country."

ECA Will Honor Grain Contracts Despite Ban

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — The Economic Cooperation Administration said tonight it will honor some $50,000,000 in grain contracts between European nations and private American dealers.

Such transactions were barred Tuesday by a directive from President Truman to ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoffman. Under that presidential order, grain purchases financed by ECA are to continue to be handled by the Federal Commodity Credit Corporation rather than by private dealers.

However, Dennis A. Fitzgerald, ECA's director of food and agriculture, told newsmen tonight of an agreement to honor outstanding contracts. He said an official order covering the matter will be issued Monday.

Wagner Will Be Asked To Retain Senate Seat

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP) — Democratic Party strategists plan to ask the veteran Sen. Robert F. Wagner, of New York, to retain his Senate place for the next two years.

One party adviser who asked that his name not be used said today Wagner, who has been in poor health in recent years, also will be asked to pass up chairmanship of the Senate Banking Committee.

Stricken Boy Who Wanted To Die Has Plea Granted

SEFFNER, Fla., Nov. 26—(AP)—Donald Younglove, who pleaded with his dad to put him to sleep so he'd never wake again, died today.

He died of a rare, painful, disease — dermatomyositis — which causes complete atrophy of the muscles. Donald knew for a long time he was going to die.

For six months his parents watched his healthy, husky body waste away until the 14-year-old boy weighed only 35 pounds.

When the story of Donald's illness was known scores of persons called to offer help. A telegram from Canada said a clinic was sending a serum which might help. Others offered medical advice.

The Youngloves were grateful for those offers, but they knew nothing could help. Top specialists had told them so.

Donald was an active youngster before the strange disease cut him down. He won scholastic awards. He helped his dad, a disabled war veteran, build a house on their five-acre farm.

The illness struck as he was about to take a trip given him for 4-H work.

As his body became weaker Donald often asked his father for an overdose of the morphine that kept the constant pain down to a dull ache.

"Put me to sleep, please Daddy, so I won't ever wake up," he whispered several tiems.

The Youngloves have been sleeping in half hour naps around the clock to give Donald what care and comfort they could.

The weary mother, Mrs. T. F. Younglove, said in a low voice:

"I couldn't say we are glad. Yet it is a blessing that Donald's suffering is finally over. But you can never be glad when your child dies, no matter what the circumstances. Still Donald is at peace at last."

White House Won't Ask Chiang To U. S.

But Generalissimo's Wife Plans Visit To Ask For Assistance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — Chiang Kai-Shek won't get an official White House invitation to come here to discuss China's plight. But his wife is planning on a visit.

President Truman turned down a suggestion by Rep. Sol Bloom (D-NY) today that the Generalissimo be asked to come to the United States to present a first hand account of conditions in China, where Communist forces have overrun much of the north.

Emerging from the President's office, Bloom told reporters that Mr. Truman "didn't see how Chiang could leave China at this time." The Congressman, who is slated to head the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said he reached the same conclusion after talking over the matter with the President.

Bloom Wants "Real" Information

But, Bloom asserted:

"What we need is real information about the Chinese situation, information of the kind we cannot get simply by sending men into China to stay a few weeks."

Meanwhile, Madame Chiang's impending visit was made known by the State Department and confirmed by the Chinese embassy.

Both said they knew no details at all, even the time of her arrival or the length of her stay.

There appeared to be little doubt in any quarter, however, that the prime purpose of her mission would be to solicit further and stepped-up help from the United States for the Central Chinese government in the war against the Communists.

Created Sensation In 1942-43

She appealed for such assistance over the radio last Sunday, in a broadcast from China. In that speech, she said she had received requests from many quarters that she undertake a trip to the United States. She said, however, she was not able to leave immediately.

Madame Chiang, educated in the United States, made her latest appearance here in the winter of 1942-43. She created a sensation by addressing the two houses of Congress in January, 1943. She also made a grand tour of the United States during that visit.

Dept. Store Sales Dip Is Continuing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Department store sales during the week ended November 20 ran below a year ago for the third consecutive week, the Federal Reserve Board reported tonight.

The unusual continued downtrend extended over the entire nation, the report indicated.

Continuance of the department store sales dip was taken in official quarters as a further indication of mounting consumer resistance to current prices, although that was not considered the only or necessarily even the chief cause of the dip.

Other factors regarded as influential included unseasonable weather in many parts of the country, and the possibility that the American public is returning to its tradition of waiting late to do the Christmas shopping.

The reserve board report showed the dollar volume of sales for the November 20 week was six per cent below the comparable period a year ago.

For the two previous weeks, there had been dips of nine and eight per cent, respectively.

The reserve board report followed closely one by the Commerce Department showing total retail sales for October were slightly below September, after allowance for seasonal factors, and little changed from the level of the preceeding four months.

"Olds" Prices Boosted

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 26. (AP)—General Motors Corporation tonight boosted prices on some of its 1949 Oldsmobile cars and announced that production of two "Olds" series—the '66' and '68'—would be discontinued for 1949.

NAMED PRESIDENT — Col. Carlos Delgado Chalbaud (above) was named president of the military junta which took over provisional rule of Venezuela. Announcement came a few hours after the army toppled the government of Romulo Gallegos.

Security Council Neutrals Discuss New Berlin Plan

Based On Replies To Currency Questions

PARIS, Nov. 26—(AP)—The six neutrals of the Security Council began discussions tonight on a new compromise formula to end the Berlin blockade.

Their discussions were based on Soviet and Western Power replies to five questions from Juan Bramuglia, leader of the neutrals, concerning details of the Berlin currency tangle which were published tonight.

In its reply the Soviet Union stood pat on the Moscow agreement of August 30 for the introduction of the Soviet zone mark as Berlin's only currency as a condition to the ending of the blockade. The accord never was put into effect because the four military governors of Germany split on interpretations of how the mark would be controlled by the four powers.

West Calls For Commission

The joint Western reply showed Britain, France and the United States called for a four-power financial commission to supervise the activities of the bank in the Soviet sector that would issue the marks.

They also maintained that the German city administration should be the agency for licensing Berlin's civilian import and export trade under supervision of the four-power commission.

The Russians said the commission itself, in which they would have a voice, should do the licensing.

The Western replies specified that the American, British and French military authorities should have the right "freely to import food and fuel and power" into their sectors and should control the sale of these imports.

Food, Fuel, Power Exempted

The Russians exempted Western shipments of food, fuel and power from the license requirement when such deliveries were intended to supply the Berlin population in the form of aid. The phrase about aid was not explained.

The Western Powers recognized that the technical problem of controlling the Soviet mark in Berlin without interferring with the econ-

Life With Father Rough On Stalin, Alienist Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—One of the Nation's leading psychiatrists said tonight he has it from an eyewitness that Stalin, as a boy, was bossed around plenty by his old man—and didn't like it a bit.

Asserting that life with father was also rough on two other lads who grew up to be dictators—Hitler and Mussolini—Dr. Edward A. Strecker, of the University of Pennsylvania, posed these questions.

"Could it be that the cold, rigid father authority of their childhoods conditioned in the dictators a hatred of all authority other than their own?

"Could it be that in their ruthless behavior toward the helpless, the leading motif is revenge for the indignities and pain inflicted upon them as children?"

In a lecture prepared for delivery at the National Naval Medical Center, Strecker said:

"Perhaps it is a coincidence but if so it is a highly suspicious one, that there is a similarity of pattern in the child lives of three dictators, Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin. At the hands of their fathers, they all suffered non-loving brutal authority and became attached, perhaps too deeply bound, to their mothers. It is noteworthy, too, that the rulers of Russia, the members of the Politburo, all suffered personally from the Czarist regime."

In a footnote concerning Stalin, the doctor declared without amplification "the author has access to a reliable eyewitness account of Stalin's childhood in his native village of Georgian Russia."

He said "Mr. Moltov and Mr Gromyko et al" have shown "a large measure of immaturity" in their activities at the United Nations conference table.

Brooklyn Men Say Proposals Not Acceptable

Ryan Claims Move Is Attempt By Reds "To Becloud Issues"

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—Newly proposed terms to end the paralyzing East Coast dock strike encountered opposition here tonight but found favor in Philadelphia.

A police-estimated crowd of 2,000 men, which leaders said came from Brooklyn union locals with 13,000 members, decided at a Brooklyn meeting to reject the proposed contract when they vote on it tomorrow. They urged other members to do likewise.

In Philadelphia, however, a union official said a general membership meeting voted to accept the terms and that Philadelphia's 6,500 dock workers would go back to work Monday. The statement came from Paul Baker, international vice president of the AFL longshoremen's association, which represents the stevedores.

Earlier, a union delegate from Boston had been quoted as saying here that longshoremen in his port and in Philadelphia and Baltimore were not agreeable to the new terms. The delegate's name was not disclosed. His purported statement was made at the Brooklyn meeting, according to union members attending.

Ryan Blames Communists

Joseph P. Ryan, ILA president, declared here that the Brooklyn opposition was "an attempt by the Communist Party to becloud the issues."

He asserted that the meeting was "an incentive to our men to come out and repudiate their (the Brooklyn men's) action which is not conducive to the best interests of the longshoremen."

Ryan added, however, that he was not attempting to influence the union membership in its scheduled vote tomorrow on the contract terms—the second set to be worked out by company and union negotiators. Rejection of the first led to the strike of some 65,000 East Coast dock men.

The ILA president said many of those at the Brooklyn session were not members of the union. He said they merely were men allowed to work on piers during the war.

Only members in good standing will be permitted to vote in secret balloting tomorrow, he said.

92,000 Involved In Walkout

The Brooklyn meeting had been called to form a rank and file committee to fight acceptance of the new pact.

Their action came as the nation's virtually strike-bound shipping industry hoped for an affirmative vote on terms worked out to settle the strike here, as well as that of CIO longshoremen on the West Coast. Some 92,000 men are involved in the two walkouts, which have tied up 500 vessels at piers in this country.

The new terms for both coasts were worked out Thanksgiving Day.

A previous East Coast contract, which called for a 10-cent hourly wage boost, was rejected earlier this month, setting off the current waterfront tieup.

While police put the attendance at the Brooklyn meeting at 2,000, Ryan said reports to him indicated about 1,000 or 1,100.

Earlier, Ryan said that in the event of union ratification of the new agreement any union member who reported to work at 7:55 a. m. (EST) Sunday would be permitted

Israel Agrees To Armistice Talks

PARIS, Nov. 26 (AP) — Israel insisted tonight that Egypt must agree to armistice talks before the Jews free 1,200 Egyptian troops trapped at Faluja in the Negev.

Aubrey S. Eban, of Israel, told the Security Council's seven-nation Palestine committee that his government was willing to review the entire Negev situation. But first, he said, Egypt must accept the council's November 16 resolution asking Arabs and Jews to negotiate on an armistice throughout the Holy Land.

Israel formally accept the call for armistice talks today. There have been no replies from the Arab states.

In turn, Mahmoud Fawzi, of Egypt, declared Israel was defying the council's order of November 4 for withdrawal to the lines occupied before October 14 in the Negev.

"If the United Nations cannot handle this microscopic matter with the support of the big powers I wonder when and where it can handle anything else," he commented.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting United Nations mediator, reported to the committee on progres on the council's resolution calling for the withdrawal.

He said Israel was refusing to give up Beersheba, biblical town in the Southern Negev that was taken in the offensive beginning October 14. She is insisting on keeping some mobile forces in the Negev area which she claims were there before October 14, Bunche added.

He said Egypt, on the other hand, has refused to leave some strategic positions unless Israel complies with the withdrawal order.

'Tragic Madonna' Found Innocent Due To Insanity

DETROIT, Nov. 26 (AP)—Slight, dark-eyed Mrs. Frances Fitzpatrick, 32, described by her lawyer as a "tragic Madonna," was found innocent by reason of insanity today in the bedroom slaying of her husband.

A weary smile crept across the lips of the demure mother of four as she sat in the prisoner's box with hands calmly folded and heard the verdict of the jury of eight women and four men.

"I want to tell my kids," she said afterwards to reporters. "I knew all the time God wouldn't fail me."

Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman immediately directed that Mrs. Fitzpatrick should be committed to the Michigan State Hospital for the Insane at Ionia.

The attractive defendant won at least temporary freedom two hours later as her attorney, Louis Colombo, Jr., got her released on a writ of habeas corpus pending a sanity hearing December 9.

Since members of a sanity commission testified during the trial that the defendant was not insane, lawyers said, it appeared doubtful that she could be held. The defense had pleaded only "temporary insanity."

Since the trial began last Thursday, Mrs. Fitzpatrick constantly maintained she did not recall details of what happened on the night of March 5 when her husband John, 32, was shot.

She said she had been forced for months to listen to her husband boasting of his affairs with other women.

The prosecution claimed that Mrs. Fitzpatrick had "coldly" planned the shooting, walked into her husband's room ,ordered him out of bed, then fired two shots.

Colombo called Mrs. Fitzpatrick "a tragic Madonna goaded by her husband's boast of his amorous conquests."

Jack Benny To Switch To CBS On January 2

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—The expected switch of Comedian Jack Benny from the National Broadcasting Company, to the Columbia Broadcasting System today was set for Sunday, January 2.

But the CBS announcement left unanswered the question of whether the switch involved a "capital gains" lifetime deal giving Benny a big lump sum payment for sale of his services and his Amusement Enterprises, Inc., as a business.

Figures as high as $4,000,000 had been quoted in trade circles as being involved in the tug-of-war between CBS and NBC in which CBS finally won out. A CBS spokesman was asked specifically whether it was a capital gains transaction, and his reply was "no comment."

Irish Dail Cuts Final Legal Tie With Britain

DUBLIN, Eire, Nov. 26. (AP)—The Irish Dail (parliament) approved tonight the cutting of the last legal tie with Britain and King George.

Sean MacBride, external affairs minister, said preparations are being made to ceelbrate independence day on January 21, the day the "Republic of Ireland" bill goes into effect. The date is the 32nd anniversary of the declaration of the Irish republic by the first Dail in 1917.

The measure repeals the External Relations Act of 1936 by which Eire's trade treaties were approved and her foreign envoys appointed in the name of the British crown.

The Cabinet fell when Minister of Justice Paul Struye quit under fire from Socialists in Parliament for his pardoning of two Belgians who collaborated with the Germans.

Hike In Railway Express Charges Is Recommended

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner recommended today an increase of one to 16 per cent in railway express charges in the East and South.

If approved by the commission, this would increase the charges on a sliding scale ranging from six cents to 99 cents a 100 pounds.

The examiner, Leonard Way, said these increases would give the Railway Express Agency $6,847,000 more revenue a year.

Mayors Make Suggestion

He made the statement after receiving a telegram from Mayor William O'Dwyer suggesting that if the proposed contract was accepted tomorrow "arrangements be made for immediate resumption of work in connection with perishable merchandise."

Mayor Frank H. Eggers, of Jersey City; Mayor Fred De Sapio, of Hoboken, and Mayors of Weekhawken and Bayonne, N. J., sent similar wires.

Ryan said the stevedores traditionally go to work at 11:15 a. m. on Sunday.

He added that "due to the emergency and to the request of the mayors, as well as our own feelings in the matter," the union leadership was willing to let the men begin work earlier.

Referring to an earlier statement that the Cunard White Star Line, operators of the Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary, might be barred from New York piers because they had diverted vessels to Halifax, Ryan said:

"If the longshoremen accept the proposals all companies represented by the New York Shipping Association will be worked."

Coast Guardsman Held In Slaying

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26 (AP) — Six months to the day after it happened, police today charged a young coast guardsman with the mystery slaying of a cab driver.

Detectives would not say how they had pieced together the information that led them to arrest Delmas Edward Bozman, 22.

Two investigators and a Coast Guard officer went almost 75 miles down Chesapeake Bay Wednesday night and brought Delmas back from the Sharg Fin shoal light house off Deal Island, where he was stationed.

He was named in seven separate charges involving the slaying last May 26 of Cornelius A. McDowell and the roobery and shooting six days earlier of Emory Mullinix, another cab driver.

Bozman was held without bail pending a hearing. He is married and lives in Southeast Baltimore. His home formerly was on Maryland's Eastern Shore, not far from the lighthouse. He had been stationed there for several months. Before that he was stationed in Baltimore, enlisting here about a year ago.

Judge Rules S. C. Demo Party Can't Bar Negroes

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 26 (AP) — A federal district judge ruled today that negroes have established their right to full membership in the South Carolina Democratic Party.

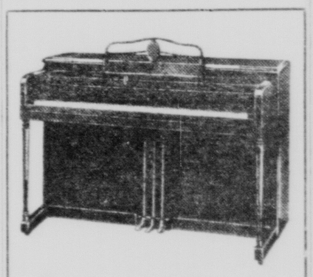

Judge J. Waties Waring held in an opinion that state party primaries are "the true, realistic election x x x at which presidential electors, United States senators and congressmen are chosen" and declared that party officials have "no right to make any discrimination amongst the citizens because of race or color."

The veteran Charleston judge in this way reaffirmed and made permanent his preliminary decision of last July 16, granting negroes the right to vote in 1948 party primaries. The decision came in the case of David Brown, a Beaufort negro, who brought action against the South Carolina Democratic Party and its officials to obtain full participation in party affairs.

'Tragic Madonna' Found Innocent Due To Insanity

DETROIT, Nov. 26 (AP)—Slight, dark-eyed Mrs. Frances Fitzpatrick, 32, described by her lawyer as a "tragic Madonna," was found innocent by reason of insanity today in the bedroom slaying of her husband.

A weary smile crept across the lips of the demure mother of four as she sat in the prisoner's box with hands calmly folded and heard the verdict of the jury of eight women and four men.

"I want to tell my kids," she said afterwards to reporters. "I knew all the time God wouldn't fail me."

Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman immediately directed that Mrs. Fitzpatrick should be committed to the Michigan State Hospital for the Insane at Ionia.

The attractive defendant won at least temporary freedom two hours later as her attorney, Louis Colombo, Jr., got her released on a writ of habeas corpus pending a sanity hearing December 9.

Since members of a sanity commission testified during the trial that the defendant was not insane, lawyers said, it appeared doubtful that she could be held. The defense had pleaded only "temporary insanity."

Since the trial began last Thursday, Mrs. Fitzpatrick constantly maintained she did not recall details of what happened on the night of March 5 when her husband John, 32, was shot.

She said she had been forced for months to listen to her husband boasting of his affairs with other women.

The prosecution claimed that Mrs. Fitzpatrick had "coldly" planned the shooting, walked into her husband's room ,ordered him out of bed, then fired two shots.

Colombo called Mrs. Fitzpatrick "a tragic Madonna goaded by her husband's boast of his amorous conquests."

Jack Benny To Switch To CBS On January 2

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—The expected switch of Comedian Jack Benny from the National Broadcasting Company, to the Columbia Broadcasting System today was set for Sunday, January 2.

But the CBS announcement left unanswered the question of whether the switch involved a "capital gains" lifetime deal giving Benny a big lump sum payment for sale of his services and his Amusement Enterprises, Inc., as a business.

Figures as high as $4,000,000 had been quoted in trade circles as being involved in the tug-of-war between CBS and NBC in which CBS finally won out. A CBS spokesman was asked specifically whether it was a capital gains transaction, and his reply was "no comment."

omy of the Soviet occupation zone using the same mark was difficult.

The Western Powers have taken the position, however, that such control was vital to guarantee the Soviet mark would not be used to clamp an economic grip on the entire city. Control of exports and imports would be part of the regulation of the mark.

FIND BONDS WORTH $6,500—George Schroeder (left), 11, and Timmie Martin, 7, unconcernedly read comic books at Atlanta, Ga., yesterday after they had found a jar in a dump containing $6,500 worth of war bonds. But the kids were very impressed when detectives visited the house after Timmie's mother reported the boys' find. Now they both want to be detectives.

Irish Dail Cuts Final Legal Tie With Britain

DUBLIN, Eire, Nov. 26. (AP)—The Irish Dail (parliament) approved tonight the cutting of the last legal tie with Britain and King George.

Sean MacBride, external affairs minister, said preparations are being made to ceelbrate independence day on January 21, the day the "Republic of Ireland" bill goes into effect. The date is the 32nd anniversary of the declaration of the Irish republic by the first Dail in 1917.

The measure repeals the External Relations Act of 1936 by which Eire's trade treaties were approved and her foreign envoys appointed in the name of the British crown.

Three Labor Law Experts Help Draft Suggestions

The three brought in especially for the job, are Fred W. Livingston and William Bennett, New York attorneys, and William Wallace, Boston attorney.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 27. (AP)—Socialist Paul-Henri Spaak announced tonight he had succeeded in forming a new government in which he will continue as Premier and Foreign Minister.

The Cabinet fell when Minister of Justice Paul Struye quit under fire from Socialists in Parliament for his pardoning of two Belgians who collaborated with the Germans.

Hike In Railway Express Charges Is Recommended

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner recommended today an increase of one to 16 per cent in railway express charges in the East and South.

If approved by the commission, this would increase the charges on a sliding scale ranging from six cents to 99 cents a 100 pounds.

The examiner, Leonard Way, said these increases would give the Railway Express Agency $6,847,000 more revenue a year.

14 More German War Criminals Are Hanged

MUNICH, Germany, Nov. 26. (AP)—Fourteen more German war criminals were hanged at Landsberg Prison today—four of them for slaying captured American airmen.

Mayors Make Suggestion

He made the statement after receiving a telegram from Mayor William O'Dwyer suggesting that if the proposed contract was accepted tomorrow "arrangements be made for immediate resumption of work in connection with perishable merchandise."

Mayor Frank H. Eggers, of Jersey City; Mayor Fred De Sapio, of Hoboken, and Mayors of Weekhawken and Bayonne, N. J., sent similar wires.

Ryan said the stevedores traditionally go to work at 11:15 a. m. on Sunday.

He added that "due to the emergency and to the request of the mayors, as well as our own feelings in the matter," the union leadership was willing to let the men begin work earlier.

Referring to an earlier statement that the Cunard White Star Line, operators of the Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary, might be barred from New York piers because they had diverted vessels to Halifax, Ryan said:

"If the longshoremen accept the proposals all companies represented by the New York Shipping Association will be worked."

Coast Guardsman Held In Slaying

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26 (AP) — Six months to the day after it happened, police today charged a young coast guardsman with the mystery slaying of a cab driver.

Detectives would not say how they had pieced together the information that led them to arrest Delmas Edward Bozman, 22.

Two investigators and a Coast Guard officer went almost 75 miles down Chesapeake Bay Wednesday night and brought Delmas back from the Shark Fin shoal light house off Deal Island, where he was stationed.

He was named in seven separate charges involving the slaying last May 26 of Cornelius A. McDowell and the robbery and shooting six days earlier of Emory Mullinix, another cab driver.

Bozman was held without bail pending a hearing. He is married and lives in Southeast Baltimore. His home formerly was on Maryland's Eastern Shore, not far from the lighthouse. He had been stationed there for several months. Before that he was stationed in Baltimore, enlisting here about a year ago.

Lane Congratulates Police

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 26 —(AP)—Gov. Lane today congratulated the Baltimore Police Department for its "successful conclusion of the investigation of the murder" of a Baltimore cabbie.

Lane wired Police Commissioner Hamilton R. Atkinson his congratulations when police arrested a coast guardsman on charges of slaying Cab Driver Cornelius A. McDowell, Jr., six months ago.

Judge Rules S. C. Demo Party Can't Bar Negroes

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 26 (AP) — A federal district judge ruled today that negroes have established their right to full membership in the South Carolina Democratic Party.

Judge J. Waties Waring held in an opinion that state party primaries are "the true, realistic election[s] at which presidential electors, United States senators and congressmen are chosen" and declared that party officials have "no right to make any discrimination amongst the citizens because of race or color."

The veteran Charleston judge in this way reaffirmed and made permanent his preliminary decision of last July 16, granting negroes the right to vote in 1948 party primaries. The decision came in the case of David Brown, a Beaufort negro, who brought action against the South Carolina Democratic Party and its officials to obtain full participation in party affairs.

Communism And View Taken Of It By Labor Organization

Although the American Federation of Labor convention has been adjourned, it is not too late to take off our hat to that organization for its resolution in Communism and the attitude of our government toward Soviet Russia.

"The present acute crisis," says the A. F. of L.," "grows solely out of Russia's attempt to extend its system of totalitarian dictatorship. Here is the real reason for the Soviet rulers' tireless efforts to promote economic collapse and social chaos, to subvert democracy and foster bloody class warfare in France, South East Asia, China, Italy and our country."

One of the amazing facts of our time is the persistent longing of well-meaning people in this country to patch things up with Stalin. The A. F. of L. recognizes what every intelligent person who has studied the Moscow situation knows: that Stalin and his followers are not looking for agreement and peace with the free peoples of the West. What they are aiming at is world dictatorship, following world revolution and based on mass terror.

The A. F. of L. suggests that it be made "a crime against international law for any government to organize or support, directly and indirectly, any fifth-column activities in any country with which it is at peace."

If we are going to have international law, that seems to make sense to us.

It is encouraging for the future of America that the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. are taking their present strong anti-Communist stand. So long as we are able to agree on the basic question of individual liberty, Americans will be able to handle their domestic problems, with a good deal of rumpus, perhaps, but in an American way.

If Washington goes in for all-out support for China, the taxpayer is going to be all out at the seat of the pants.

Turkey Day Game Fitting Climax To Brilliant Season

Those who were able to squeeze into the Fort Hill bowl Thanksgiving Day afternoon to witness the titanic struggle between the gridiron warriors of Fort Hill and Allegany High Schools were treated to not only a thrilling contest but a colorful one, the equal of which had not been seen here.

Seldom, if ever, was the spirit of good sportsmanship more noticeable than that which marked the game itself and of those who followed the contest from the jam-packed stands. When it is considered that both teams had gone through a season without losing a game or having their records marred by a tie, it can readily be realized that they entered the contest with keyed-up feelings and a determination to protect their faultless achievements. It may have been expected that the tenseness of the players would produce some infractions of the rules which could have caused the pent-up feeling of keen rivalry to flare into the open. That no such a thing marked the grilling battle speaks well, not only for the self-restraint exercised by the players, but for the splendid work of coaches during the gruelling days of training and drilling.

The game, to be sure, did not produce the heavy scoring that crystal ball gazers and wiseacres had predicted. This was due, no doubt, to the cautious and conservative type of play followed by both teams during the first three quarters. Allegany was first to score, driving to pay dirt with such surprising suddenness after the opening kick-off as to leave fans stunned for the moment.

The swiftness of the turn of events so early in such a crucial game could have produced a defeatist feeling among members of the trailing team, or one of over-confidence to take possession of those of Allegany. If such did occur the captain of the one was quick to rally and restore confidence while the captain of the team which had grabbed that early lead must have admonished his mates (if that were necessary) that the game is never won until the final gun goes off. The one battled from there on to protect its slim margin against dogged offense by Fort Hill.

In the closing minutes of the final quarter the Sentinels, in desperation, no doubt, threw caution aside and went to the air in one great spurt to attempt, to at least knot the count. This the wearers of the scarlet and white did by mixing passes with finely executed ground plays. With the score tied Allegany turned to the same style of play in the dying moments of the game with a firm belief it could regain the lead. But time ran out as well-flipped passes and line plays, which had stood it in good stay through the season, began to carry it toward its opponent's goal.

So the game ended in a stalemate and, because the teams proved themselves so evenly matched, most fans are glad it did. There was glory enough for all in the outcome. Those members who played their last game of high school days will find much satisfaction in the fact that they helped keep the slate of their respective school free of a defeat. In a word, the game of games of the 1948 schedules was a fitting climax to a brilliant season.

Man has evolved into quite a creature, but he still is badly handicapped by a six-inch fall of snow.

Thank Your Stars

America's wonderful private enterprise efficiency doesn't show a profit in all spots. Take the dining car service which the railroads provide. The Chesapeake and Ohio loses 80 cents for every dollar taken in by the dining cars, the Union Pacific 48 cents, the Baltimore and Ohio, Great Northern, Milwaukee and others lose 40 per cent. The Southern Railway does it better. Its loss is only 2 per cent.

Why do railroads go on losing money on that scale? Simply because private enterprise in America offers the best service in the world and meals on trains are necessary to compete with other forms of transportation. Except for competition, passengers would still be boarding trains with shoeboxes filled with cold, unpalatable fare, as their grandparents did.

Airlines took a licking when they offered free food to compete with the railroads. Now they're charging for meals, and doubtless serving them at a loss.

So thank your lucky stars that you live in a competitive country, with rival enterprises on their toes to serve you, sometimes without profit. Under any other system, your standard of living would be much lower

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Three Types Of Heart Attacks

The term "heart attack" is used loosely. To the physician it means that something has gone wrong suddenly with the "ticker" but to the laity it includes a variety of manifestations such as dizzy spells, fainting, palpitation, etc. While symptoms of this nature develop occasionally in a bona fide heart attack, they have no relation to the condition of the cardiac organ itself.

Dr. Van Dellen

In the strict sense, the pumping apparatus is involved seriously if the muscle fails, a certain type of irregularity (paroxysmal tachycardia or fibrillation) appears, or a coronary artery becomes plugged (cornary thrombosis). The latter disorder is encountered more frequently than the others and many physicians reserve the expression "heart attack" for this disturbance. The individual is seized with a sense of oppression or a constricting pain beneath the breastbone. Distress may be felt also in the neck and down the left arm. The skin is cold, clammy, and ashen; the pulse weak; the blood pressure low; and the sufferer become anxious and desperate because he fears that the end is near. Relief can be obtained with opiates and drugs that dilate the coronary artery. Ogygen and bed rest are imperative.

When the chambers of the left side of the heart fail to function (cardiac asthma) a slightly diffent type of heart attack follows. It is usually a temporary affair and is most likely to take place at night after the individual has been in bed for several hours. Without warning, he is awakened because of difficulty in breathing in a recumbent position. Many sit up or walk to the open window in order to obtain more air. The lungs are generally congested, bubbling sounds may be heard with each breath, and the victim is pale and perspiring profusely.

The bouts vary in severity. In some, shortness of breath disappears after sitting on the edge of the bed for five or ten minutes. Afterward, the patient falls asleep and may not be bothered for the remainder of the night. In others, the situation is more serious and the physician must be called as a life-saving measure. Oxygen and morphine are employed, along with a drug called "strophanthin" which resembles digitalis. Bloodletting may be indicated; by taking a pint or more of the vital fluid, the load of the overburdened pumping organ is eased. Injections of aminophylline are of value also not only during the seizure but to prevent recurrences.

If the chambers of the right side of the structure go into failure, dropsy ensues. This is the type of cardiac trouble that most individuals are familiar with. The sufferer is short of breath, coughs, and the lips and skin about the mouth and ears assumes a purplish hue. Swelling of the ankles is noted, and should the liver become congested, indigestion proves annoying. Now and then heart failure of both sides of the organ occur simultaneously.

G. J. writes: How is the sputum test for tuberculosis taken?

Reply

Mucus obtained early in the morning is preferred because it comes from deep in the chest, where the infection is usually located. The less saliva the better as this secretion seldom contains the causative organisms. The sputum is studied under the microscope and now and then a small portion is injected into a guinea pig. These animals are extremely susceptible to the malady and if tubercle bacilli are present in the injected material, they develop the disease within six weeks.

Yes, if disagreeable symptoms exist. In this disturbance, part of the menstrual flow backs up and escapes thru the tubes into the abdominal cavity. If the cells are deposited in areas where function is not disturbed, the woman is unaware that the abnormality exists. But if the cells become attached to the lower bowel, for example, soreness in the back and rectum is present and the flow may be increased.

Excluding the possibility of rabies, a human bite is said to be worse.

Morning Cough

REPLY

These are symptoms of chronic bronchitis but X-ray is needed to determine if the condition is serious. After all, there is no other way to find out whether the difficulty is due to tuberculosis, other lung disorders, or merely to smoking. Vomiting is a frequent accompaniment of coughing, particularly when severe.

Sec. Of State Marshall Blasts Forrestal's Huge Defense Budget; French Accuse British Of Appeasing Germans All Over Again

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. — The text will never be published, but Secretary of State Marshall has written a stinging, private letter to his Cabinet colleague, Secretary of Defense Forrestal, of great interest to every taxpayer.

Marshall and Forrestal agree on many things, usually are to be found side-by-side during inner Cabinet debates. But on the question of a huge war budget, Marshall has put himself vigorously on record against Forrestal's proposed war expenditures.

In his letter, the Secretary of State described Forrestal's demand of a $24 billion expenditure as basically dishonest since it pre-supposed the imminence of war. And the international situation, Marshall said, did not require the United States to go on a war footing.

Marshall also complained that the Secretary of Defense was ignoring good taste and good judgment by proposing a war budget at the same time the Secretary of State was trying to iron out the peace problems of the world.

Finally Marshall said that if the budget was reduced from 24 billions to 15 billions, he would support it.

Handing Hitler His Hat

Here's a bit of backstage repartee at the palace de Chaillot in Paris indicating how the French feel about the U. S.-British plan to hand Ruhr industry back to the German cartels.

Passing British U. N. delegate Hector McNeil in the corridors of the Palace, French journalist Pertinax stopped him to say:

"You British are making the same old mistake of saying the Germans are gentlemen after all. You're making the same mistake Chamberlain made in 1938 when he came away from a visit with Hitler exclaiming: 'He's a perfect gentleman; he helped me on with my overcoat.'"

With thick Scotch accent McNeil replied: "It may have been Hitler who helped Chamberlain with his overcoat but don't forget it was the British people who handed him his hat."

Note—What the French don't want is to have the Ruhr—key to European peace or war—reach the hat-handing stage.

Truman's Real Friends

Two men who fought hardest against President Truman's renomination at Philadelphia were Senator Claude Pepper of Florida and Col. Jack Arvey, head of the Democratic machine in Chicago. Once the decision was made, however, no two men worked harder to elect Truman.

In Florida, Pepper was largely responsible for routing the Dixiecrats and holding Florida in line. Because he had previously known Henry Wallace, he was also effective in cutting down the Wallaceites. Traveling 13,000 miles he spoke in California, Illinois and West Virginia for Truman.

Newspaper polls indicated Dewey would carry Florida—and no other Florida Congressman or Senator dared get out and work for the national ticket. But Pepper did and helped bring about a landslide.

In Illinois, the dopesters whispered that Jack Arvey would make a deal with downstate Republicans to save his Democratic machine in Chicago. Just the opposite happened. Though he had opposed Truman's nomination, Arvey worked harder on this campaign than any other, gave Truman the biggest parade and reception he received anywhere.

Result: Illinois staged one of the most amazing election surprises, went overboard for Truman.

That was why the Presidential callers at Key West included Pepper and Arvey.

Champion Name-Caller

Whenever Congressman Cliff Clevenger, the GOP gentleman from Bryan, Ohio, opens his mouth, he puts his foot in it. After calling President Truman the "Missouri jackass," Clevenger has added to his list by branding General Eisenhower a traitor.

Speaking at Van Wert, Ohio, Clevenger said: "The acts of these men who let the Russians into those capitals over there, exposing us to this constant danger of war, make Benedict Arnold look like a pale shadow of a traitor to America."

Eisenhower states it was he who decided the Russian Army rather than American troops should take Berlin.

Merry-Go-Round

Just before he left for Europe, Secretary of Defense Forrestal called a series of conferences on defense, hastily sent a special airplane for Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles. But the day Bowron arrived in Washington Forrestal left for Europe, leaving the mayor twiddling his thumbs at the Statler Hotel . . . . Congratulations to the Wilmington, N. C., Chamber of Commerce for bringing the victims of the Donora, Pa., smog to North Carolina sunshine. When the Civil Aeronautics Board refused to let Capital Airlines carry the victims free, the N. C. folks even paid their transportation. (This is what's called "Good-Willmington.") . . . There's no love lost between certain GOP leaders in Massachusetts—notably earthy Speaker Joe Martin and bluestocking Senator Leverett Saltonstall. Joe wants to terminate Beacon Hill aristocracy's rule of the Republican roost in Massachusetts . . . Undersecretary of State Lovett has been maneuvering backstage to get his former banking boss, Averell Harriman, made Secretary of State. Lovett also thinks it would be just wonderful if John Foster Dulles, Dewey's pal, were appointed Undersecretary . . . . A Los Angeles family who planned to vote for Dewey paid $55 rent for an apartment, but was continually goaded by the landlord about what was going to happen when Dewey was elected. The rent would then be $100. So the whole family finally voted for Truman. That's what the real estate boys did to Dewey in a lot of places.

Stopping Place For Inflation Spiral To Be Found In Politics

By MARK SULLIVAN

From the White House this week came announcement of a commission to lay out a legislative program for checking inflation and cost of living. Head of the commission is to be a distinguished economist, Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, Chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, which is an official body, and the commission includes five cabinet members together with heads of other government agencies.

About the nature of the program, Dr. Nourse was brief, as is proper in advance announcement. He said, "There will be a definite program," adding for emphasis and in explanation of present brevity, the word "period." Further than that Dr. Nourse went little more than to say: "It will be prepared in the light of the present situation, the party platform, and the program of the President as it has been revealed."

In the implications of those words is some inherent contradiction, for they suggest a mingling of disinterested economic considerations with interested political ones. This is further suggested by the presence, among the five cabinet members on the commission, of two who were conspicuously active in Mr. Truman's recent campaign, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and Secretary of Labor Tobin. To the extent, if any, that a coming program takes account of political considerations, it would be likely to be short of economic perfection. One of the most bedevilling obstacles to wise economic policy in our time is that price has become politics.

Price In Politics

The presence of price in politics, and its incompatability there, is suggested by a recent coincidence. Last July, the economis head of the new commission was head of the already existing Council of Economic Advisers. The Council prepared a report which was laid before Congress. The report included these sentences:

"The inflationary effects have been multiplied through the price wage spiral . . . The recent attempt to hold industrial wages and reduce prices of industrial goods has evaporated. Substantial wage increases which have often been made to catch up with previous price increases, have been accompanied in turn or promptly followed by substantial raises in the prices of industrial goods."

On almost the same day when that statement of the Council of Economic Advisers went before Congress, President Truman was addressing the Democratic National Convention at Philadelphia. He gave the convention reasons why he and the party could expect to win the Presidential election. Among other reasons he implied that two great groups, labor and farmers, could be expected to vote for him, for if they did not they would be "the most ungrateful people in the world." And throughout the campaign Mr. Truman added, to the reasons these groups had for past gratitude, promises and implications of more.

Therein is the really potential key to whether there will be more inflation and higher cost of living. The program to be made by the new commission appointed this week can be judged, after it is made, by whether it faces, definitely and courageously, the part played in inflation by wage rates received by labor and prices received by farmers. These groups are the reciprocal parts of the automatic mechanism which composes the wage-price spiral. That spiral is headed for another upward spurt.

Occasion For Demand There

Labor leaders have stated that there will be another round of demands, the fourth, for increases in wage rates, to cover some sixteen million workers, in nearly all industries. The occasion for the demands is there. In CIO alone, some ten thousand wage contracts expire during the winter and early spring, including those in such great industries as steel. If the demands for wage increases are successful, there will result increases in costs of manufacturing goods, and these in turn will in most lines result in higher prices of goods to consumers.

Again in turn, higher prices of goods which farmers must buy will be recognized by the Department of Agriculture as calling automatically for higher "parity prices," upon which the Department bases the figures at which it will support prices of farm crops. This is provided by the price support laws as they stand.

In spite of a present slight interruption in rising prices of goods, likely to be ephemeral, the price-wage spiral still exists, still works in the upward direction and has the makings of another dynamic spurt. In words the public used to hear on the radio from the late Major Bowes, "round she goes, and where she stops nobody knows." Considering the part which prices and wages have come to play in politics, the stopping palce, if any, is to be found largely in that field.

Destructive Taxation Could Stifle Nation's Prosperity

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Someone ought to write a book entitled "How To Bring On The Worst Depression In American History." It wouldn't take long to write. The speeches of the CIO leaders and lately of a few Democratic party politicians would furnish all the text necessary.

One of the principal chapters could be "How To Destroy The Profit System" and still another "How To Weaken America's Industrial Strength In The Next World War."

Unfortunately these titles are not as fantastic as they may seem. The indifference of the average American who has not taken the trouble to analyze the recent wave of so-called popular sentiment on the subject of taxing away corporation profits may be responsible for the sabotaging of the American economic system.

Thus there has been bandied about for months now the fact that American corporations will make a record high of 20 billions of profits in 1948. Labor unions say it justifies a "fourth round" of wage increases. President Truman in a misguided moment during the campaign called it "swag." Now the argument runs that an "excess profits" tax must be adopted by Congress to take a large part of this money for tax revenues.

What Is Truth About Profits

But what is the truth about those corporation profits? Who has gotten them? What have they been used for? Senator Flanders of Vermont, a liberal Republican, has wisely started a congressional investigation to bring out the facts. It's the most worth-while inquiry that has emerged on Capitol Hill in years.

Certain questions can be answered by the investigation. Have the profits been used to rebuild and repair plant and equipment? Have they been used merely to give stockholders more dividends? Have they been used to finance expansion and improvement of facilities? For, thanks to the New Deal's shortsightedness and the fears of more curtailment in the future, there is no such thing any more as raising capital in the so-called equity markets. Investors are too scared and if they make any gains they are taxed away. No more certain way exists to bring on state socialism than to deprive businesses, old and new, of any means of raising risk capital. For then the government has to provide capital and this means government personnel in the management and finally a totalitarian regime in which government is the master and not the servant of the people.

Every time some of the radicals make speeches about excess-profits taxes and the high profits of industry there are certain facts that they overlook:

1. During the last three years business spent about 70 billion dollars for rehabilitation and expansion of plant and equipment and to acquire inventories of goods.

2. Internal financing—the use of "profit" money rather than outside money—furnished about 42 billion dollars of the sum spent for the above purposes. The balance was obtained through increases in bank loans and some new issues of securities.

3. Thus 20 billions of profits per year would not be enough to meet the above average of more than 23 billions of expenditures even assuming that all the profits could be so used and stockholders were to get no dividends to pay them for the use of their savings.

4. Expenditures for new plant and equipment alone amounted to 12 billion dollars in 1946, about 16 billions in 1947 and will amount to more than 19 billions in 1948.

Are Stockholders or America Benefitted?

Now are the stockholders getting all the profits or is America getting them in the form of improved plant and equipment to meet the demands of a growing country and of our new programs of world help? Here is the answer:

In the post-war period, less than one-half of net earnings has been disbursed to stockholders in dividents as contrasted with three-fourths in 1939 and two-thirds in 1929. Conservative dividend policy has been prompted by a desire to avoid borrowing and to avoid seeking equity capital in markets where the investors are plainly discouraged and reluctant to invest because they fear dividends will not be forthcoming under policies of confiscation of private enterprise by government.

The above statistics and explanation of their background can be found in a speech delivered this week by Winthrop Aldrich, chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank. But with a little digging even more facts of that kind are readily available to newspapers, magazines, radio and to professors of economics in the colleges. Yet it is strange how little one hears about what happened to the record high of 20 billions of profits earned this year or last by corporations—the soundest phase of recent economic development, the real cushion against depression, and the greatest barrier this country has devised to beat inflation through high production. Lower prices and even higher wages are possible but not if capital formation is stifled by destructive taxation.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Labor Sanity

THE CONVENTIONS of the A. F. of L. at Cincinnati and of the C. I. O. at Portland, Oregon, are indicative of a pattern:

1. The labor federations have at last acknowledged that their most severe problem is Communist infiltration into their organization. The A. F. of L. makes no bones about it and hits hard; the C. I. O. has organic difficulties arising from the fact that John L. Lewis, when he organized the C. I. O., knowingly used Communists as organizers and got stuck with them. Nevertheless, the C. I. O., as the A. F. of L., is taking a definite stand in opposition to Communism.

In New York, the C.I.O. disciplined its local council for supporting Henry Wallace, which was a wrong reason for a correct action. It is a doubtful practice at best for labor unions to become adjuncts of political parties in this country where a citizen votes as an individual, not as part of a class or a mob. If one may support Truman or Dewey, another may support Wallace. The New York Council should have been disciplined, if that is what the C.I.O. desired to do, frankly because it permitted the Communist international line to control an American union. That would have been a tenable position, and is actually what the C.I.O. did, although the statement was muted.

Similarly, while Phil Murray is as anti-communist in his statements as Matthew Woll, he nevertheless cares not purge his unions of Communists for the obvious reason that the 13 Communist international unions might leave the C.I.O. altogether.

It has become customary for C.I.O. apologists to say that only the leaders of such unions are Communists but that the rank and file are not. How does anyone know that precisely?

We have witnessed, for instance, the curious picture of Mike Quill who, in New York, heads a predominantly Roman Catholic group of workers. Quill played with the Communists for many years and was even accused not only by outsiders but by some Communists of being one of them. Then he quit them and got into a smearing operation with them. One would have imagined that the rank and file of that union would stand solidly behind Quill, welcoming the penitent leftwinger with open arms. But that is not so. Mike Quill is having lots of trouble and the Communists are still very effective in his union.

It is the uncertainty of the real Communist strength in the left-wing unions that undoubtedly causes Phil Murray to feel that the time is not ripe for a purge.

Nevertheless, if support of the foreign policy of this country, particularly the Marshall Plan, is made the criterion of loyalty to the C.I.O., as apparently it is being made by both the A. F. of L. and the C.I.O., then the Communists are in difficulties, for they have to choose between the Kremlin and the C.I.O. It will be interesting to observe what this does.

2. The other pattern has to do with the Taft-Hartley Act, which both organizations say they wish to have repealed. And both contend that they wish to have the Wagner Act reinstated. But obviously the Wagner Act needs to be amended. Underneath all this, it would appear, is a desire to combine the Wagner Act and the Taft-Hartley Act, to keep certain provisions of each.

It will be interesting to see how this work out. The craftsmen of C.I.O. legislation, Lee Pressman and Nathan Witt, have fallen from grace. Lee Pressman's influence, not only over that organization but over every act of government in industrial relations, has been paramount since 1937. He has not only been the lawyer but the philosopher of left-wing trade unionism and his philosophy was, in all respects, Marxist. It is because most of the young lawyers attached to the Wagner Act National Labor Relations Board were under Marxist influence and orientation that the Wagner Act became an instrument of national disruption.

Laws are instruments which men use and the same law in different hands may produce altogether different results. Once the Marxist theory of the class struggle ceases to dominate the C.I.O. and the NLRB, then many pictures will be in different perspective.

It is too early to reach conclusions; I am merely describing trends apparent at two conventions.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Since the Thanksgiving season is here, I've been consulting my history book and I find that at one time the United States was on the verge of adopting as its emblem the turkey instead of the eagle. This might have changed the whole destiny of the nation.

But, maybe, if we had a picture of a turkey on our money today, the dollar wouldn't fly so fast.

This all started with the Pilgrims, who were afraid to use the eagle for Thanksgiving. He was so tough, every time they put him on the plate, the table took off.

And then, during the Civil War, think of a platoon of hungry soldiers who got the signal to charge. What would have happened if the colonel had stood up to start the attack and the men had seen a turkey on each shoulder?

And the Wright Brothers—they might have been turkey-conscious instead of inventing something that flies like the eagle. Where would the world be if they'd used their genius to develop some new type of cranberry sauce?

Maybe I'm bitter because the part of the turkey I ate just got up from a sitdown strike.

Communism And View Taken Of It By Labor Organization

Although the American Federation of Labor convention has been adjourned, it is not too late to take off our hat to that organization for its resolution in Communism and the attitude of our government toward Soviet Russia.

"The present acute crisis," says the A. F. of L.," "grows solely out of Russia's attempt to extend its system of totalitarian dictatorship. Here is the real reason for the Soviet rulers' tireless efforts to promote economic collapse and social chaos, to subvert democracy and foster bloody class warfare in France, South East Asia, China, Italy and our country."

One of the amazing facts of our time is the persistent longing of well-meaning people in this country to patch things up with Stalin. The A. F. of L. recognizes what every intelligent person who has studied the Moscow situation knows: that Stalin and his followers are not looking for agreement and peace with the free peoples of the West. What they are aiming at is world dictatorship, following world revolution and based on mass terror.

The A. F. of L. suggests that it be made "a crime against international law for any government to organize or support, directly and indirectly, any fifth-column activities in any country with which it is at peace."

If we are going to have international law, that seems to make sense to us.

It is encouraging for the future of America that the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. are taking their present strong anti-Communist stand. So long as we are able to agree on the basic question of individual liberty, Americans will be able to handle their domestic problems, with a good deal of rumpus, perhaps, but in an American way.

If Washington goes in for all-out support for China, the taxpayer is going to be all out at the seat of the pants.

Turkey Day Game Fitting Climax To Brilliant Season

Those who were able to squeeze into the Fort Hill bowl Thanksgiving Day afternoon to witness the titanic struggle between the gridiron warriors of Fort Hill and Allegany High Schools were treated to not only a thrilling contest but a colorful one, the equal of which had not been seen here.

Seldom, if ever, was the spirit of good sportsmanship more noticeable than that which marked the game itself and of those who followed the contest from the jam-packed stands. When it is considered that both teams had gone through a season without losing a game or having their records marred by a tie, it can readily be realized that they entered the contest with keyed-up feelings and a determination to protect their faultless achievements. It may have been expected that the tenseness of the players would produce some infractions of the rules which could have caused the pent-up feeling of keen rivalry to flare into the open. That no such a thing marked the grilling battle speaks well, not only for the self-restraint exercised by the players, but for the splendid work of coaches during the gruelling days of training and drilling.

The game, to be sure, did not produce the heavy scoring that crystal ball gazers and wiseacres had predicted. This was due, no doubt, to the cautious and conservative type of play followed by both teams during the first three quarters. Allegany was first to score, driving to pay dirt with such surprising suddenness after the opening kick-off as to leave fans stunned for the moment.

The swiftness of the turn of events so early in such a crucial game could have produced a defeatist feeling among members of the trailing team, or one of over-confidence to take possession of those of Allegany. If such did occur the captain of the one was quick to rally and restore confidence while the captain of the team which had grabbed that early lead must have admonished his mates (if that were necessary) that the game is never won until the final gun goes off. The one battled from there on to protect its slim margin against dogged offense by Fort Hill.

In the closing minutes of the final quarter the Sentinels, in desperation, no doubt, threw caution aside and went to the air in one great spurt to attempt, to at least knot the count. This the wearers of the scarlet and white did by mixing passes with finely executed ground plays. With the score tied Allegany turned to the same style of play in the dying moments of the game with a firm belief it could regain the lead. But time ran out as well-flipped passes and line plays, which had stood it in good stay through the season, began to carry it toward its opponent's goal.

So the game ended in a stalemate and, because the teams proved themselves so evenly matched, most fans are glad it did. There was glory enough for all in the outcome. Those members who played their last game of high school days will find much satisfaction in the fact that they helped keep the slate of their respective school free of a defeat. In a word, the game of games of the 1948 schedules was a fitting climax to a brilliant season.

Man has evolved into quite a creature, but he still is badly handicapped by a six-inch fall of snow.

Thank Your Stars

America's wonderful private enterprise efficiency doesn't show a profit in all spots. Take the dining car service which the railroads provide. The Chesapeake and Ohio loses 80 cents for every dollar taken in by the dining cars, the Union Pacific 48 cents, the Baltimore and Ohio, Great Northern, Milwaukee and others lose 40 per cent. The Southern Railway does it better. Its loss is only 2 per cent.

Why do railroads go on losing money on that scale? Simply because private enterprise in America offers the best service in the world and meals on trains are necessary to compete with other forms of transportation. Except for competition, passengers would still be boarding trains with shoeboxes filled with cold, unpalatable fare, as their grandparents did.

Airlines took a licking when they offered free food to compete with the railroads. Now they're charging for meals, and doubtless serving them at a loss.

So thank your lucky stars that you live in a competitive country, with rival enterprises on their toes to serve you, sometimes without profit. Under any other system, your standard of living would be much lower

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Three Types Of Heart Attacks

The term "heart attack" is used loosely. To the physician it means that something has gone wrong suddenly with the "ticker" but to the laity it includes a variety of manifestations such as dizzy spells, fainting, palpitation, etc. While symptoms of this nature develop occasionally in a bona fide heart attack, they have no relation to the condition of the cardiac organ itself.

Dr. Van Dellen

In the strict sense, the pumping apparatus is involved seriously if the muscle fails, a certain type of irregularity (paroxysmal tachycardia or fibrillation) appears, or a coronary artery becomes plugged (cornary thrombosis). The latter disorder is encountered more frequently than the others and many physicians reserve the expression "heart attack" for this disturbance. The individual is seized with a sense of oppression or a constricting pain beneath the breastbone. Distress may be felt also in the neck and down the left arm. The skin is cold, clammy, and ashen; the pulse weak; the blood pressure low; and the sufferer become anxious and desperate because he fears that the end is near. Relief can be obtained with opiates and drugs that dilate the coronary artery. Ogygen and bed rest are imperative.

When the chambers of the left side of the heart fail to function (cardiac asthma) a slightly diffent type of heart attack follows. It is usually a temporary affair and is most likely to take place at night after the individual has been in bed for several hours. Without warning, he is awakened because of difficulty in breathing in a recumbent position. Many sit up or walk to the open window in order to obtain more air. The lungs are generally congested, bubbling sounds may be heard with each breath, and the victim is pale and perspiring profusely.

The bouts vary in severity. In some, shortness of breath disappears after sitting on the edge of the bed for five or ten minutes. Afterward, the patient falls asleep and may not be bothered for the remainder of the night. In others, the situation is more serious and the physician must be called as a life-saving measure. Oxygen and morphine are employed, along with a drug called "strophanthin" which resembles digitalis. Bloodletting may be indicated; by taking a pint or more of the vital fluid, the load of the overburdened pumping organ is eased. Injections of aminophylline are of value also not only during the seizure but to prevent recurrences.

If the chambers of the right side of the structure go into failure, dropsy ensues. This is the type of cardiac trouble that most individuals are familiar with. The sufferer is short of breath, coughs, and the lips and skin about the mouth and ears assumes a purplish hue. Swelling of the ankles is noted, and should the liver become congested, indigestion proves annoying. Now and then heart failure of both sides of the organ occur simultaneously.

T. B. TEST

G. J. writes: How is the sputum test for tuberculosis taken?

Mucus obtained early in the morning is preferred because it comes from deep in the chest, where the infection is usually located. The less saliva the better as this secretion seldom contains the causative organisms. The sputum is studied under the microscope and now and then a small portion is injected into a guinea pig. These animals are extremely susceptible to the malady and if tubercle bacilli are present in the injected material, they develop the disease within six weeks.

Sec. Of State Marshall Blasts Forrestal's Huge Defense Budget; French Accuse British Of Appeasing Germans All Over Again

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. — The text will never be published, but Secretary of State Marshall has written a stinging, private letter to his Cabinet colleague, Secretary of Defense Forrestal, of great interest to every taxpayer.

Marshall and Forrestal agree on many things, usually are to be found side-by-side during inner Cabinet debates. But on the question of a huge war budget, Marshall has put himself vigorously on record against Forrestal's proposed war expenditures.

Marshall also complained that the Secretary of Defense was ignoring good taste and good judgment by proposing a war budget at the same time the Secretary of State was trying to iron out the peace problems of the world.

Finally Marshall said that if the budget was reduced from 24 billions to 15 billions, he would support it.

Handing Hitler His Hat

Here's a bit of backstage repartee at the palace de Chaillot in Paris indicating how the French feel about the U. S.-British plan to hand Ruhr industry back to the German cartels.

Passing British U. N. delegate Hector McNeil in the corridors of the Palace, French journalist Pertinax stopped him to say:

"You British are making the same old mistake of saying the Germans are gentlemen after all. You're making the same mistake Chamberlain made in 1938 when he came away from a visit with Hitler exclaiming: 'He's a perfect gentleman; he helped me on with my overcoat.'"

With thick Scotch accent McNeil replied: "It may have been Hitler who helped Chamberlain with his overcoat but don't forget it was the British people who handed him his hat."

Note—What the French don't want is to have the Ruhr—key to European peace or war—reach the hat-handing stage.

Truman's Real Friends

Two men who fought hardest against President Truman's renomination at Philadelphia were Senator Claude Pepper of Florida and Col. Jack Arvey, head of the Democratic machine in Chicago. Once the decision was made, however, no two men worked harder to elect Truman.

In Florida, Pepper was largely responsible for routing the Dixiecrats and holding Florida in line. Because he had previously known Henry Wallace, he was also effective in cutting down the Wallaceites. Traveling 13,000 miles he spoke in California, Illinois and West Virginia for Truman.

Newspaper polls indicated Dewey would carry Florida—and no other Florida Congressman or Senator dared get out and work for the national ticket. But Pepper did and helped bring about a landslide.

In Illinois, the dopesters whispered that Jack Arvey would make a deal with downstate Republicans to save his Democratic machine in Chicago. Just the opposite happened. Though he had opposed Truman's nomination, Arvey worked harder on this campaign than any other, gave Truman the biggest parade and reception he received anywhere.

Result: Illinois staged one of the most amazing election surprises, went overboard for Truman.

That was why the Presidential callers at Key West included Pepper and Arvey.

Champion Name-Caller

Whenever Congressman Cliff Clevenger, the GOP gentleman from Bryan, Ohio, opens his mouth, he puts his foot in it. After calling President Truman the "Missouri jackass," Clevenger has added to his list by branding General Eisenhower a traitor.

Speaking at Van Wert, Ohio, Clevenger said: "The acts of these men who let the Russians into those capitals over there, exposing us to this constant danger of war, make Benedict Arnold look like a pale shadow of a traitor to America."

Eisenhower states it was he who decided the Russian Army rather than American troops should take Berlin.

Merry-Go-Round

Just before he left for Europe, Secretary of Defense Forrestal called a series of conferences on defense, hastily sent a special airplane for Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles. But the day Bowron arrived in Washington Forrestal left for Europe, leaving the mayor twiddling his thumbs at the Statler Hotel . . . . Congratulations to the Wilmington, N. C., Chamber of Commerce for bringing the victims of the Donora, Pa., smog to North Carolina sunshine. When the Civil Aeronautics Board refused to let Capital Airlines carry the victims free, the N. C. folks even paid their transportation. (This is what's called "Good-Willmington.") . . . There's no love lost between certain GOP leaders in Massachusetts—notably earthy Speaker Joe Martin and bluestocking Senator Leverett Saltonstall. Joe wants to terminate Beacon Hill aristocracy's rule of the Republican roost in Massachusetts . . . Undersecretary of State Lovett has been maneuvering backstage to get his former banking boss, Averell Harriman, made Secretary of State. Lovett also thinks it would be just wonderful if John Foster Dulles, Dewey's pal, were appointed Undersecretary . . . . A Los Angeles family who planned to vote for Dewey paid $55 rent for an apartment, but was continually goaded by the landlord about what was going to happen when Dewey was elected. The rent would then be $100. So the whole family finally voted for Truman. That's what the real estate boys did to Dewey in a lot of places.

Stopping Place For Inflation Spiral To Be Found In Politics

By MARK SULLIVAN

From the White House this week came announcement of a commission to lay out a legislative program for checking inflation and cost of living. Head of the commission is to be a distinguished economist, Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, Chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, which is an official body, and the commission includes five cabinet members together with heads of other government agencies.

About the nature of the program, Dr. Nourse was brief, as is proper in advance announcement. He said, "There will be a definite program," adding for emphasis and in explanation of present brevity, the word "period." Further than that Dr. Nourse went little more than to say: "It will be prepared in the light of the present situation, the party platform, and the program of the President as it has been revealed."

In the implications of those words is some inherent contradiction, for they suggest a mingling of disinterested economic considerations with interested political ones. This is further suggested by the presence, among the five cabinet members on the commission, of two who were conspicuously active in Mr. Truman's recent campaign, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and Secretary of Labor Tobin. To the extent, if any, that a coming program takes account of political considerations, it would be likely to be short of economic perfection. One of the most bedevilling obstacles to wise economic policy in our time is that price has become politics.

Price In Politics

The presence of price in politics, and its incompatability there, is suggested by a recent coincidence. Last July, the economis head of the new commission was head of the already existing Council of Economic Advisers. The Council prepared a report which was laid before Congress. The report included these sentences:

"The inflationary effects have been multiplied through the price wage spiral . . . The recent attempt to hold industrial wages and reduce prices of industrial goods has evaporated. Substantial wage increases which have often been made to catch up with previous price increases, have been accompanied in turn or promptly followed by substantial raises in the prices of industrial goods."

On almost the same day when that statement of the Council of Economic Advisers went before Congress, President Truman was addressing the Democratic National Convention at Philadelphia. He gave the convention reasons why he and the party could expect to win the Presidential election. Among other reasons he implied that two great groups, labor and farmers, could be expected to vote for him, for if they did not they would be "the most ungrateful people in the world." And throughout the campaign Mr. Truman added, to the reasons these groups had for past gratitude, promises and implications of more.

Therein is the really potential key to whether there will be more inflation and higher cost of living. The program to be made by the new commission appointed this week can be judged, after it is made, by whether it faces, definitely and courageously, the part played in inflation by wage rates received by labor and prices received by farmers. These groups are the reciprocal parts of the automatic mechanism which composes the wage-price spiral. That spiral is headed for another upward spurt.

Occasion For Demand There

Labor leaders have stated that there will be another round of demands, the fourth, for increases in wage rates, to cover some sixteen million workers, in nearly all industries. The occasion for the demands is there. In CIO alone, some ten thousand wage contracts expire during the winter and early spring, including those in such great industries as steel. If the demands for wage increases are successful, there will result increases in costs of manufacturing goods, and these in turn will in most lines result in higher prices of goods to consumers.

Again in turn, higher prices of goods which farmers must buy will be recognized by the Department of Agriculture as calling automatically for higher "parity prices," upon which the Department bases the figures at which it will support prices of farm crops. This is provided by the price support laws as they stand.

In spite of a present slight interruption in rising prices of goods, likely to be ephemeral, the price-wage spiral still exists, still works in the upward direction and has the makings of another dynamic spurt. In words the public used to hear on the radio from the late Major Bowes, "round she goes, and where she stops nobody knows." Considering the part which prices and wages have come to play in politics, the stopping palce, if any, is to be found largely in that field.

Destructive Taxation Could Stifle Nation's Prosperity

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Someone ought to write a book entitled "How To Bring On The Worst Depression In American History." It wouldn't take long to write. The speeches of the CIO leaders and lately of a few Democratic party politicians would furnish all the text necessary.

One of the principal chapters could be "How To Destroy The Profit System" and still another "How To Weaken America's Industrial Strength In The Next World War."

Unfortunately these titles are not as fantastic as they may seem. The indifference of the average American who has not taken the trouble to analyze the recent wave of so-called popular sentiment on the subject of taxing away corporation profits may be responsible for the sabotaging of the American economic system.

Thus there has been bandied about for months now the fact that American corporations will make a record high of 20 billions of profits in 1948. Labor unions say it justifies a "fourth round" of wage increases. President Truman in a misguided moment during the campaign called it "swag." Now the argument runs that an "excess profits" tax must be adopted by Congress to take a large part of this money for tax revenues.

What Is Truth About Profits

But what is the truth about those corporation profits? Who has gotten them? What have they been used for? Senator Flanders of Vermont, a liberal Republican, has wisely started a congressional investigation to bring out the facts. It's the most worth-while inquiry that has emerged on Capitol Hill in years.

Certain questions can be answered by the investigation. Have the profits been used to rebuild and repair plant and equipment? Have they been used merely to give stockholders more dividends? Have they been used to finance expansion and improvement of facilities? For, thanks to the New Deal's shortsightedness and the fears of more curtailment in the future, there is no such thing any more as raising capital in the so-called equity markets. Investors are too scared and if they make any gains they are taxed away. No more certain way exists to bring on state socialism than to deprive businesses, old and new, of any means of raising risk capital. For then the government has to provide capital and this means government personnel in the management and finally a totalitarian regime in which government is the master and not the servant of the people.

Every time some of the radicals make speeches about excess-profits taxes and the high profits of industry there are certain facts that they overlook:

1. During the last three years business spent about 70 billion dollars for rehabilitation and expansion of plant and equipment and to acquire inventories of goods.

2. Internal financing—the use of "profit" money rather than outside money—furnished about 42 billion dollars of the sum spent for the above purposes. The balance was obtained through increases in bank loans and some new issues of securities.

3. Thus 20 billions of profits per year would not be enough to meet the above average of more than 23 billions of expenditures even assuming that all the profits could be so used and stockholders were to get no dividends to pay them for the use of their savings.

4. Expenditures for new plant and equipment alone amounted to 12 billion dollars in 1946, about 16 billions in 1947 and will amount to more than 19 billions in 1948.

Are Stockholders or America Benefitted?

Now are the stockholders getting all the profits or is America getting them in the form of improved plant and equipment to meet the demands of a growing country and of our new programs of world help? Here is the answer:

In the post-war period, less than one-half of net earnings has been disbursed to stockholders in dividents as contrasted with three-fourths in 1939 and two-thirds in 1929. Conservative dividend policy has been prompted by a desire to avoid borrowing and to avoid seeking equity capital in markets where the investors are plainly discouraged and reluctant to invest because they fear dividends will not be forthcoming under policies of confiscation of private enterprise by government.

The above statistics and explanation of their background can be found in a speech delivered this week by Winthrop Aldrich, chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank. But with a little digging even more facts of that kind are readily available to newspapers, magazines, radio and to professors of economics in the colleges. Yet it is strange how little one hears about what happened to the record high of 20 billions of profits earned this year or last by corporations—the soundest phase of recent economic development, the real cushion against depression, and the greatest barrier this country has devised to beat inflation through high production. Lower prices and even higher wages are possible but not if capital formation is stifled by destructive taxation.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Labor Sanity

THE CONVENTIONS of the A. F. of L. at Cincinnati and of the C. I. O. at Portland, Oregon, are indicative of a pattern:

1. The labor federations have at last acknowledged that their most severe problem is Communist infiltration into their organization. The A. F. of L. makes no bones about it and hits hard; the C. I. O. has organic difficulties arising from the fact that John L. Lewis, when he organized the C. I. O., knowingly used Communists as organizers and got stuck with them. Nevertheless, the C. I. O., as the A. F. of L., is taking a definite stand in opposition to Communism.

In New York, the C.I.O. disciplined its local council for supporting Henry Wallace, which was a wrong reason for a correct action. It is a doubtful practice at best for labor unions to become adjuncts of political parties in this country where a citizen votes as an individual, not as part of a class or a mob. If one may support Truman or Dewey, another may support Wallace. The New York Council should have been disciplined, if that is what the C.I.O. desired to do, frankly because it permitted the Communist international line to control an American union. That would have been a tenable position, and is actually what the C.I.O. did, although the statement was muted.

Similarly, while Phil Murray is as anti-communist in his statements as Matthew Woll, he nevertheless dares not purge his unions of Communists for the obvious reason that the 13 Communist international unions might leave the C.I.O. altogether.

It has become customary for C.I.O. apologists to say that only the leaders of such unions are Communists but that the rank and file are not. How does anyone know that precisely?

We have witnessed, for instance, the curious picture of Mike Quill who, in New York, heads a predominantly Roman Catholic group of workers. Quill played with the Communists for many years and was even accused not only by outsiders but by some Communists of being one of them. Then he quit them and got into a smearing operation with them. One would have imagined that the rank and file of that union would stand solidly behind Quill, welcoming the penitent leftwinger with open arms. But that is not so. Mike Quill is having lots of trouble and the Communists are still very effective in his union.

It is the uncertainty of the real Communist strength in the left-wing unions that undoubtedly causes Phil Murray to feel that the time is not ripe for a purge.

Nevertheless, if support of the foreign policy of this country, particularly the Marshall Plan, is made the criterion of loyalty to the C.I.O., as apparently it is being made by both the A. F. of L. and the C.I.O., then the Communists are in difficulties, for they have to choose between the Kremlin and the C.I.O. It will be interesting to observe what this does.

2. The other pattern has to do with the Taft-Hartley Act, which both organizations say they wish to have repealed. And both contend that they wish to have the Wagner Act reinstated. But obviously the Wagner Act needs to be amended. Underneath all this, it would appear, is a desire to combine the Wagner Act and the Taft-Hartley Act, to keep certain provisions of each.

It will be interesting to see how this work out. The craftsmen of C.I.O. legislation, Lee Pressman and Nathan Witt, have fallen from grace. Lee Pressman's influence, not only over that organization but over every act of government in industrial relations, has been paramount since 1937. He has not only been the lawyer but the philosopher of left-wing trade unionism and his philosophy was, in all respects, Marxist. It is because most of the young lawyers attached to the Wagner Act National Labor Relations Board were under Marxist influence and orientation that the Wagner Act became an instrument of national disruption.

Laws are instruments which men use and the same law in different hands may produce altogether different results. Once the Marxist theory of the class struggle ceases to dominate the C.I.O. and the NLRB, then many pictures will be in different perspective.

It is too early to reach conclusions; I am merely describing trends apparent at two conventions.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Since the Thanksgiving season is here, I've been consulting my history book and I find that at one time the United States was on the verge of adopting as its emblem the turkey instead of the eagle. This might have changed the whole destiny of the nation.

But, maybe, if we had a picture of a turkey on our money today, the dollar wouldn't fly so fast.

This all started with the Pilgrims, who were afraid to use the eagle for Thanksgiving. He was so tough, every time they put him on the plate, the table took off.

And then, during the Civil War, think of a platoon of hungry soldiers who got the signal to charge. What would have happened if the colonel had stood up to start the attack and the men had seen a turkey on each shoulder?

And the Wright Brothers—they might have been turkey-conscious instead of inventing something that flies like the eagle. Where would the world be if they'd used their genius to develop some new type of cranberry sauce?

Maybe I'm bitter because the part of the turkey I ate just got up from a sitdown strike.

Frostburg Man Killed In Motor Accident

A Thanksgiving Day accident resulted in the fatal injury of a 24-year-old Army veteran and hospitalization of two other men when the car they occupied struck two telephone poles and turned over on its top to skid about 40 feet on Route 36 just east of Zihlman at Morantown.

The holiday was marred by several other traffic mishaps, State and City Police reported, but no one else was injured.

Authorities identified the dead man as William Edwin Jeffries, husband of Mrs. Margaret Buskirk Jeffries, 156 Green Street, Frostburg. Thrown free of the wreckage, he died about 20 minutes after being admitted to Miners' Hospital, Frostburg, at 4:45 p.m.

Edward N. Martin Hurt

Injured in the crash were Edward N. Martin, 39, Frostburg, well known here as an umpire of Bi-State League and softball games, and Harry G. Cook, 30, 106 Walnut Street, Frostburg. Both were admitted to Miners Hospital. Attaches reported Martin, who suffered severe head lacerations, in poor condition, and Cook, who sustained cuts and fractured ribs, in fair condition.

State Police said the 1940 sedan driven by Jeffries, who operates his own plumbing business in Frostburg, "came off a bridge on a curve with all four wheels off the ground." He was traveling north on Route 36, apparently enroute to Mt. Savage.

"When the car hit the ground," Trooper Harry S. Bosley said, "Jeffries apparently lost control and the machine crashed against two telephone poles and overturned on its top, skidding about 40 feet across the highway in that position." The car was demolished.

Jeffries was tossed free of the vehicle, and Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death resulted from intercranial hemorrhage. The man suffered a fractured skull, broken neck, possible fractured collarbone, cuts, bruises and other injuries. He was still living but unconscious when State Police took him to the hospital in an ambulance.

Misses Another Auto

Relatives said Jeffries left home for Mt. Savage on business shortly before the accident. His careening car nearly collided with another machine while it was out of control.

A native of Midland, Jeffries was a son of Mrs. Buelah Wilson Jefferies Warnick, Baltimore, and the late Alfred Jefferies. Until recently he was associated in the plumbing business here with his brother, Alfred Porter Jeffries, this city. He belonged to J. Louis Wolford Post No. 1, Amvets, this city; Frostburg Aerie No. 1273, F.O. Eagles; First Methodist Church, Frostburg, and James P. Love Post, American Legion, Lonaconing.

During World War II, he served in the armed forces three years and saw overseas service.

Also surviving are two sons, Carl William, 5, and James Alfred Jeffries, 13 months, at home; two other brothers, Russell Charles and Carl Garfield Jeffries, Lonaconing; two sisters, Mrs. Olivia White, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Ruth Whitfield, Frostburg, and a half-sister, Betty Jane Warnick, Baltimore.

The body will be taken to the home of his brother-in-law, George Whitfield, 35 First Street, Frostburg, for services Sunday at 2 p.m. Interment will be in Allegany Cemetery.

Local Man Held In Chicken Theft Case

Louis Donius, this city, is being held by police in connection with the theft Thursday of 16 chickens owned by Lewis H. Borbst, 207 Mary Street.

Lt. James E. Van said Donius sold five chickens to John Twig, 610 Virginia Avenue, and two others to Mrs. Melvin E. Bowman, 427 South Street, for about 50 cents each. Three witnesses identified the prisoner as the man who tried to sell them chickens.

Donius, Lt. Van said, denied the theft. He will be given a hearing today in Trial Magistrates' Court. Officers Donald Smith and Leo Law assisted in the investigation.

Lawrence Dickerhoff, 445 Goethe Street, notified police Thursday that a pair of German binoculars valued at $150 was grabbed from the arm of a woman companion during the Allegany-Fort Hill football game Thursday. The theft ocurred under the grandstand, he said.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Is it wise to pick a pessimist for a friend?

Answer: Not if you yourself are prone to seeing the worst in things—and people. And a pessimist would not be likely to appeal to you unless you had that tendency. There are some of us who, for unconscious reasons, wish to believe that luck always is against us and that other people are no better than they should be. Yet we can't quite adopt that attitude, which something in us recognizes as unreasonable, without confirmation from another person. We may get this from a pessimistic friend — and make our minds sick by so doing.

Do smart boys prefer "practical" studies?

Answer: Quite the contrary, says E. A. Peel in the British Journal of Educational Psychology. Members of a group of 176 boys of superior intelligence were found to be much more interested in so-called "academic" subjects—for example, literature and mathematics—than in "practical" ones like mechanics. The more "verbal intelligence" the boys showed, the stronger this preference was. During the first years of his life, a child naturally "learns by doing," but unless an interest in thinking is developed later, he won't get far.

Is psychology "an exact science"?

Answer: There's no such thing as an exact science in the sense of one whose findings are not subject to correction and revision, and the very idea that there could be is itself unscientific. But while the conclusions which psychologists have reached can't be subjected to the same sort of tests as a theory in physics (because there are limits to the ways in which we can experiment on human beings) they do seem to fit the facts they attempt to interpret, and there's none of them that will not be rejected if proved unsound.

Is being alone what makes you lonely?

Answer: Not mainly, at any rate. There are people — perhaps not entirely normal — who would rather be alone than in the company of others and don't know what it means to feel lonely, and most normal people like to be alone occasionally. At its worst, the lonely person's heartache grows out of the feeling that he is alone because no one wants to be with him or to "have him around." For this feeling of being rejected makes him doubt his own worth as a human being and blocks his enjoying himself or his own resources.

Should we trust what parents say about their children?

Answer: No, says Dr. Frederic Wertham, psychiatrist founder of the "Hooky Club" for New York problem children. "I have generally found that the statements of children about their parents are more accurate than the statements of parents about their children." Where there is mutual misunderstanding, it is easier for the parent to blame the child than for the child to blame the parent, since a child cannot help thinking that father and mother know much more than he does, and he needs desperately to believe they can be trusted.

Can brain surgery make "human vegetables"?

Man Hurt In Fall From Ridgeley Bridge

Michael (Mike) Mooney, 40, 489 Goethe Street, admitted yesterday morning to Allegany Hospital for treatment of injuries suffered in a fall from the Western Maryland Railway bridge at Ridgeley, was reported in satisfactory condition last night.

Mooney told Jesse Elkins, Ridgeley chief of police, that he fell from the structure during the night. It was shortly before 10 a. m., when he was found by passersby on the rocks under the bridge. Chief Elkins estimated that Mooney had fallen 25 feet.

Allegany Hospital attaches reported Mooney suffered lacerations of the head and hands and abrasions of the body. He was taken to the hospital in the George ambulance.

Graham Will Filed For Probate

Admitted to probate in Orphans Court yesterday was the will of James T. Graham, Mt. Savage, who died November 12. The bulk of his estate was bequeathed to a sister, Mary B. Graham. His hunting and fishing equipment was left to two friends. George R. Graham, a brother, was named executor.

Make your stole from a straight piece of fabric about two yards long and 18 inches wide. Ends of the stole may be finished with a long, silky fringe or roll the fabric into scallops caught with decorative buttons. Or you can line a dark-colored stole with bright-colored fabric and button back one corner of each end to display the flash of color.

Local Man Forfeits $25 On Gaming Charges

A charge of maintaining a gaming device Thursday night resulted in the forfeiture of $25 bond by Anthony J. Cioni, 1123 Bedford Street, co-proprietor of the Roxy Bowling Center, 129 North Mechanic Street.

Detective Ernest M. Powell, who investigated with Officer J. Carl Stouffer, said the charge involved two tip boards.

Benjamin LaNeve, this city, forfeited $8 bond on eight parking violations. He appeared at headquarters before a warrant was obtained for his arrest, Lt. Edwin R. Lilya reported.

Permit Granted For New Home

William E. Flora, 321 Maryland Avenue, secured a permit in the city engineer's office Wednesday to build a one-story frame house on Lots 220, 221 and part of 222. Yale Street, at an estimated cost of $4,000.

The 32 by 24-foot structure will have a concrete block foundation and an asphalt shingle roof. Work will be done by E. M. White.

County Board To Confer On Road Projects

The advisibility of meeting with the State Roads Commission to find out the status of two road building projects in the county under the federal aid program was discussed yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Included in the program are the Frostburg-Midlothian Road project of approximately two miles and a stretch of the Williams Road from the end of the state maintenance line to the top of Irons Mountain.

These projects would involve resurfacing, drainage and widening in some places, according to the board members. The county board submitted a request last May for these two jobs with the county matching federal funds, but since that time there has been no progress in surveying or other details necessary before bids are requested.

The county board is also not certain of the status of the funds required for the jobs, but members reported that they have pledged a total of $84,000 for the work. Of this amount, $60,000 would be from a direct levy while the balance would be $24,000 from the gasoline tax money which is due from the state. The commissioners have pledged any amount over $200,000 received from gas tax monies for the project.

At the time the State Roads Commission requested the county to pledge funds for matching federal money for lateral road work it was stated that in the event the federal government obtained legislation for additional funds for lateral roads the county would be eligible for about $57,000 more. No information on this matter has been received from the state so far, the board reported today.

Members of the board said they are not too enthusiastic about doing road work under the federal aid program as specifications for such roads are too high, but they would like to find out just what the situation is concerning the two jobs for which they have pledged funds.

No Local Holiday Injuries Reported

Although no one was hurt, city police reported at least two Thanksgiving Day traffic accidents involving five vehicles.

Police said a 1939 sedan operated by William Everett Keller, 21, of 453 Bond Street, crashed against a parked 1934 sedan owned by Curtis Odell Gilpin, 27, Bedford Road, on North Thursday.

The impact forced Gilpin's car up on the sidewalk and Keller's machine upset on its right side. Yesterday morning in Trial Magistrates Court, Keller pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge and was fined $10.75. Detectives Thomas J. See and Frank A. Shober investigated.

A collision at Lee and Greene Streets Thursday afternoon involved trucks driven by Harold Grove, Frostburg, of the Farmers Feed and Supply Company here, and Leonard Maxwell Kemp, 22, Rawlings, of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, and the 1936 coach operated by John M. Raines, 33, Baltimore Pike.

Police said the automobile stopped suddenly and was struck in the rear by the truck driven by Kemp. The other machine crashed against the rear of the truck. No charges were preferred.

County Spends $31,800.78 On Last Election

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners announced yesterday that latest figures from 75 polling places give a total of $31,800.78 spent by the county in the recent Presidential and Congressional election.

Included in the cost of the election were the holding of a primary, three registration days, a revision day and the general election. With six paid workers at each polling place, the number of persons who worked the election totalled 450. Wages comprised the largest single cost of the election.

Other expenses of the election were for rental of polling places, printing and miscellaneous items. Only private business places or homes used as polling places are rented by the Board of Election Supervisors. Schools, fire houses, and public buildings are used without expense to the county.

In 1946 the expense was listed at $28,417.95, but this did not include as much expended in salaries and other items as for the election even though the 1946 voting was for county officials as well as the Congressional vote.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, appeared before the board to obtain permission to expend $500 for remodelling work at the Health Department offices in the Public Safety Building. Part of the work will be done in connection with operation of a heart clinic, according to the board.

Montana Senator Asks Strike Probe

The refusal of the Rome, Ga., Celanese Corporation of America plant to bargain with its employes in connection with their 15-week-old strike should be investigated, according to a telegram from Senator James E. Murray of Montana.

Playford Aldridge, president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, yesterday released a copy of Senator Murray's telegram to Emil Rieve, TWUA national president. The message follows:

"Regarding your telegram, I am immediately asking joint committee staff to investigate and report on the Celanese Corporation's refusal to bargain collectively with its employes in Rome, Ga., its refusal to consider arbitration and its refusal to accept services of federal conciliators, as provided by law.

"I regard this as an outstanding example of that reversion to the labor-management practice of the 19th century which has been stimulated by the Taft-Hartley Act and which threatens to replace peaceful collective bargaining with the violence which marks the era of injunctions. I am also disturbed by the implications of recent Taft-Hartley interpretation under which it is conceivable that long time employes may be deprived of the right to vote on the conditions under which they shall work and under which that right may be conferred and temporarily employed strike breakers. I shall request investigation of this phase of the matter as well.

"While I ask for, but can not promise immediately, effective investigation now, I believe I can assure you that such threats to industrial peace and to sound labor-management relations will receive prompt action subsequent to convening of the new Congress in January."

For this feeling of being rejected makes him doubt his own worth as a human being and blocks his enjoying himself or his own resources.

Should we trust what parents say about their children?

Answer: No, says Dr. Frederic Wertham, psychiatrist founder of the "Hooky Club" for New York problem children. "I have generally found that the statements of children about their parents are more accurate than the statements of parents about their children." Where there is mutual misunderstanding, it is easier for the parent to blame the child than for the child to blame the parent, since a child cannot help thinking that father and mother know much more than he does, and he needs desperately to believe they can be trusted.

Can brain surgery make "human vegetables"?

Man Hurt In Fall From Ridgeley Bridge

Michael (Mike) Mooney, 40, 489 Goethe Street, admitted yesterday morning to Allegany Hospital for treatment of injuries suffered in a fall from the Western Maryland Railway bridge at Ridgeley, was reported in satisfactory condition last night.

Mooney told Jesse Elkins, Ridgeley chief of police, that he fell from the structure during the night. It was shortly before 10 a. m., when he was found by passersby on the rocks under the bridge. Chief Elkins estimated that Mooney had fallen 25 feet.

Allegany Hospital attaches reported Mooney suffered lacerations of the head and hands and abrasions of the body. He was taken to the hospital in the George ambulance.

Graham Will Filed For Probate

Admitted to probate in Orphans Court yesterday was the will of James T. Graham, Mt. Savage, who died November 12. The bulk of his estate was bequeathed to a sister, Mary B. Graham. His hunting and fishing equipment was left to two friends. George R. Graham, a brother, was named executor.

To spruce up last year's party dress, make a stole of rustling taffeta in a color to match or harmonize with the dress. Make your stole from a straight piece of fabric about two yards long and 18 inches wide. Ends of the stole may be finished with a long, silky fringe or roll the fabric into scallops caught with decorative buttons. Or you can line a dark-colored stole with bright-colored fabric and button back one corner of each end to display the flash of color.

Local Man Forfeits $25 On Gaming Charges

A charge of maintaining a gaming device Thursday night resulted in the forfeiture of $25 bond by Anthony J. Cioni, 1123 Bedford Street, co-proprietor of the Roxy Bowling Center, 129 North Mechanic Street.

Detective Ernest M. Powell, who investigated with Officer J. Carl Stouffer, said the charge involved two tip boards.

Benjamin LaNeve, this city, forfeited $8 bond on eight parking violations. He appeared at headquarters before a warrant was obtained for his arrest, Lt. Edwin R. Lilya reported.

County Board To Confer On Road Projects

The advisibility of meeting with the State Roads Commission to find out the status of two road building projects in the county under the federal aid program was discussed yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Included in the program are the Frostburg-Midlothian Road project of approximately two miles and a stretch of the Williams Road from the end of the state maintenance line to the top of Irons Mountain.

These projects would involve resurfacing, drainage and widening in some places, according to the board members. The county board submitted a request last May for these two jobs with the county matching federal funds, but since that time there has been no progress in surveying or other details necessary before bids are requested.

The county board is also not certain of the status of the funds required for the jobs, but members reported that they have pledged a total of $84,000 for the work. Of this amount, $60,000 would be from a direct levy while the balance would be $24,000 from the gasoline tax money which is due from the state. The commissioners have pledged any amount over $200,000 received from gas tax monies for the project.

At the time the State Roads Commission requested the county to pledge funds for matching federal money for lateral road work it was stated that in the event the federal government obtained legislation for additional funds for lateral roads the county would be eligible for about $57,000 more. No information on this matter has been received from the state so far, the board reported today.

Members of the board said they are not too enthusiastic about doing road work under the federal aid program as specifications for such roads are too high, but they would like to find out just what the situation is concerning the two jobs for which they have pledged funds.

No Local Holiday Injuries Reported

Although no one was hurt, city police reported at least two Thanksgiving Day traffic accidents involving five vehicles.

Police said a 1939 sedan operated by William Everett Keller, 21, of 453 Bond Street, crashed against a parked 1934 sedan owned by Curtis Odell Gilpin, 27, Bedford Road, on North Thursday

The impact forced Gilpin's car up on the sidewalk and Keller's machine upset on its right side. Yesterday morning in Trial Magistrates Court, Keller pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge and was fined $10.75. Detectives Thomas J. See and Frank A. Shober investigated.

A collision at Lee and Greene Streets Thursday afternoon involved trucks driven by Harold Grove, Frostburg, of the Farmers Feed and Supply Company here, and Leonard Maxwell Kemp, 22, Rawlings, of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, and the 1936 coach operated by John M. Raines, 33, Baltimore Pike.

Police said the automobile stopped suddenly and was struck in the rear by the truck driven by Kemp. The other machine crashed against the rear of the truck. No charges were preferred.

County Spends $31,800.78 On Last Election

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners announced yesterday that latest figures from 75 polling places give a total of $31,800.78 spent by the county in the recent Presidential and Congressional election.

Included in the cost of the election were the holding of a primary, three registration days, a revision day and the general election. With six paid workers at each polling place, the number of persons who worked the election totalled 450. Wages comprised the largest single cost of the election.

Other expenses of the election were for rental of polling places, printing and miscellaneous items. Only private business places or homes used as polling places are rented by the Board of Election Supervisors. Schools, fire houses, and public buildings are used without expense to the county.

In 1946 the expense was listed at $28,417.95, but this did not include as much expended in salaries and other items as for the election even though the 1946 voting was for county officials as well as the Congressional vote.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, appeared before the board to obtain permission to expend $500 for remodelling work at the Health Department offices in the Public Safety Building. Part of the work will be done in connection with operation of a heart clinic, according to the board.

Montana Senator Asks Strike Probe

The refusal of the Rome, Ga., Celanese Corporation of America plant to bargain with its employes in connection with their 15-week-old strike should be investigated, according to a telegram from Senator James E. Murray of Montana.

Playford Aldridge, president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, yesterday released a copy of Senator Murray's telegram to Emil Rieve, TWUA national president. The message follows:

"Regarding your telegram, I am immediately asking joint committee staff to investigate and report on the Celanese Corporation's refusal to bargain collectively with its employes in Rome, Ga., its refusal to consider arbitration and its refusal to accept services of federal conciliators, as provided by law.

"I regard this as an outstanding example of that reversion to the labor-management practice of the 19th century which has been stimulated by the Taft-Hartley Act and which threatens to replace peaceful collective bargaining with the violence which marks the era of injunctions. I am also disturbed by the implications of recent Taft-Hartley interpretation under which it is conceivable that long time employes may be deprived of the right to vote on the conditions under which they shall work and under which that right may be conferred and temporarily employed strike breakers. I shall request investigation of this phase of the matter as well.

"While I ask for, but can not promise immediately, effective investigation now, I believe I can assure you that such threats to industrial peace and to sound labor-management relations will receive prompt action subsequent to convening of the new Congress in January."

Take Boy's Word About Girl He Once Kept Company With

By NANCY MOTTRAM

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Since I've been at college, I've been dating a fellow from a nearby university quite often. A friend of mine here at school comes from the same town that he does and she told me that he had a girl back home. At first, I didn't say anything to him, and then I decided to get straightened out, so I asked him. He told me that when he first went away, he was still going with this girl, but that everything was all over now. My schoolmate says that she hasn't heard anything about the break-up from her friends at home, so I'm puzzled. What do you think I should do?"

Nancy Mottram

(A) Her reports from the home front haven't mentioned it, and he's told you what the score is. You're able to tell how things stand from your dates with him, and there would be no reason for him to tell you positively that everything was all over if it weren't true. He might have evaded the question if he didn't want to give an honest answer, but since he didn't, you can be pretty sure that he's the one to believe.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: About six months ago, my best friends asked me to go on a blind date with a friend of the boy she dates. I went and when the boy went in service shortly afterwards, we began writing. I haven't seen him in almost half a year, but his letters have definitely become serious and he's asked me to become engaged to him when he comes home around Christmastime. That isn't in my plans at all, and I don't know how to tell him. Please help me."

(A) Before you let him go on any longer thinking that you share his feelings, let him know where you stand. And instead of waiting until he comes home to break the news, send off a letter of explanation now. Tell him that you're not ready to take that step, and though you like to write to him, you don't want to be serious. Make it tactful, but let him know that an engagement is out of the question.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: My brother has started to date a girl I've never liked too well. He's brought her to our home several times, and though I've tried, I just can't seem to hide my dislike for her. He hasn't said anything to me about it, but I know he's noticed it and once or twice, I've told him that I didn't think that she's the girl for him. He still takes her out and brings her over for supper and on Sundays, and I can tell that our relations have grown cooler. What should I do about this before we have a regular fight?"

(A) Your brother likes her, and he wants the whole family to welcome her, you included. It's pretty clear that you can't change things, so make the best of it. Even though you'd be much happier if he'd never met her, for the sake of family peace, try to be friendly and act as though you're glad to see her when he brings her over. She's important to him, so try your best to be a little more considerate.

If you have a school, family or friend problem, Nancy can help you. Letters are answered in her column.

Nancy Mottram

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Since I've been at college, I've been dating a fellow from a nearby university quite often. A friend of mine here at school comes from the same town that he does and she told me that he had a girl back home. At first, I didn't say anything to him, and then I decided to get straightened out, so I asked him. He told me that when he first went away, he was still going with this girl, but that everything was all over now. My schoolmate says that she hasn't heard anything about the break-up from her friends at home, so I'm puzzled. What do you think I should do?"

(A) Her reports from the home front haven't mentioned it, and he's told you what the score is. You're able to tell how things stand from your dates with him, and there would be no reason for him to tell you positively that everything was all over if it weren't true. SOMEBODY'S BOYS...

The iron-barred doors of a prison are about to close on these two lads whose misdeeds have gotten them into serious trouble.

Their names and offenses are matters of minor importance. The important fact is that they are somebody's boys whose feet have strayed into wrong paths and who must now pay the penalty of crime.

A few years ago these lads were the pride of their parents and the joy of two households. Today they are objects of shame, as they climb the steps of the jail to a waiting prison cell.

What can be done about the great curse of delinquency that has fallen upon our youth? There is but one answer — an awakening of the parenthood of America.

Parents must go back to the Church, back to the Bible, back to God — if they would save their children from the evil that is so prevalent in modern life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday . . . Matthew 25:31-40
Monday . . . Isaiah 61:1-4
Tuesday . . . Isaiah 42:5-10
Wednesday . . . II Corinthians 12:14-18
Thursday . . . Acts 16:23-31
Friday . . . Colossians 3:20-25
Saturday . . . Ephesians 6:1-4

If you desire a schedule of readings for the year write to American Bible Society, Dept. U, 450 Park Ave., N. Y. 22, N. Y.

SOMEBODY'S BOYS...

The iron-barred doors of a prison are about to close on these two lads whose misdeeds have gotten them into serious trouble.

Their names and offenses are matters of minor importance. The important fact is that they are somebody's boys whose feet have strayed into wrong paths and who must now pay the penalty of crime.

A few years ago these lads were the pride of their parents and the joy of two households. Today they are objects of shame, as they climb the steps of the jail to a waiting prison cell.

What can be done about the great curse of delinquency that has fallen upon our youth? There is but one answer — an awakening of the parenthood of America.

Parents must go back to the Church, back to the Bible, back to God — if they would save their children from the evil that is so prevalent in modern life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday . . . Matthew 25:31-40
Monday . . . Isaiah 61:1-4
Tuesday . . . Isaiah 42:5-10
Wednesday . . . II Corinthians 12:14-18
Thursday . . . Acts 16:23-31
Friday . . . Colossians 3:20-25
Saturday . . . Ephesians 6:1-4

Dukes Launch League Season Here Sunday

Vernall And Lattimer Named Players Of Week

Voted Awards For Fine Play On Turkey Day

6 Lineman, 6 Backs Honored This Year

Two linemen who played heads-up football in the Thanksgiving Day contest between Fort Hill and Allegany yesterday shared honors as the Players -Of-The-Week as the 1948 football season drew to a close in Cumberland.

The all-around play of Charles Lattimer, Fort Hill center, and John Vernall, Allegany end, was so outstanding in the 6-6 tie contest that the judges called it a toss-up and decided to honor both players.

Threw Touchdown Pass

Vernall hit Earl "Lefty" Bruce with Allegany's touchdown pass in the first quarter to give the Campers a 6-0 edge and made a number of tackles that stopped the Sentinels in their tracks.

Lattimer played brilliantly on the defensive and his interception of Vernall's pass on the five-yard line late in the fourth period after the Allegany pitcher had connected three times pulled the Hilltoppers out of a precarious position.

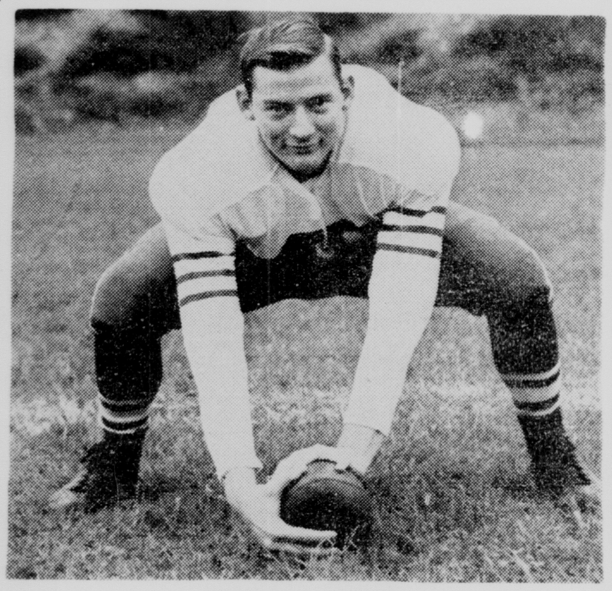

Vernall and Lattimer became the 11th and 12th players to be named for the weekly award introduced this season by Cumberland Council of the Knights of Columbus.

Earl Bruce, of Allegany, was named twice. Other backs who will receive white sweaters bearing the school letter with a Player-Of-The-Week emblem on the left sleeve are Wesley Abrams, Allegany; Edgar Tucker, Fort Hill; Leo Day, Ridgeley, and Paul Lindsay, Ridgeley.

Six Linemen Honored

Other linemen selected in addition to Vernall and Lattimer were Jim Ruehl, Allegany; Fred Corbin, Fort Hill; Glenn Burke, Fort Hill, and Dick Leo, LaSalle.

The left sleeve of Bruce's sweater will carry a star in addition to the Player-Of-The-Week emblem to show that he was twice the choice of the judges.

CHARLES LATTIMER

PLAYERS OF WEEK—Charles Lattimer, center of the Fort Hill Sentinels, and Johnny Vernall, end and expert passer of Allegany High's Campers, were voted the outstanding players in the annual Thanksgiving Day football game and will receive Player of the Week awards from Cumberland Council Knights of Columbus. Nine other players of Fort Hill, Allegany, LaSalle and Ridgeley will receive sweaters from the K. of C. for having been selected Players of the Week throughout the 1948 grid season.

SUGAR BOWL TEAMS WILL BE SELECTED AFTER GAMES TODAY

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26. (AP)—The Sugar Bowl opponents will be announced tomorrow about 8:30 p. m. Central Standard Time, a bowl official said today.

Fred Digby, executive manager of the Mid-Winter Sports Association, sponsor of the Jan. 1 football game, made the announcement this afternoon.

This could indicate that the Bowl committee was considering a Southeastern Conference team.

The conference has a rule barring member teams from entering a bowl agreement, actual or implied, until 8 p. m. (CST) the Saturday after Thanksgiving. Sugar Bowl officials have said previously that they would abide by all rules and regulations.

However, it could also mean that the Sugar Bowl officials were awaiting the result of other games being played by teams not in the SEC but mentioned frequently in speculation.

These include North Carolina, which closes its season tomorrow against Virginia, and Oklahoma University which meets Oklahoma A & M.

Keyser And Piedmont Junior Bowlers Score

The Keyser Moose Juniors and Piedmont Dual Lanes won the opening matches in the newly formed Bi-State Junior Bowling League Tuesday night.

Piedmont scored a 2-1 win over the Bowl-Mor Juniors of Barton. B. Junkins headed Piedmont with a 382 set and Bradley's 371 was high for Barton.

Keyser Moose made it two out of three from the Midland Thrasher's Big Five. Kirtley led Keyser with 470 and "Coco" Blair topped Midland with 499.

to 21 years old.

The league comprises bowlers 16

Sponsors are Spain Thrasher of the Hershey Ice Cream Shop, Midland; Jerone Laffey, manager of the Piedmont Dual Lanes; Moose Lodge, Keyser, and Bruce Boal, manager of Bowl-Mor Centre, Barton. The standings:

California Asks NBA To Suspend Graziano

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 26 (AP)—Rocky Graziano, has been suspended indefinitely from boxing in California, Joe Genshlea, secretary of the state boxing commission, said today.

Genshlea said the commission took the action as the result of Graziano's "running out" on a fight Dec. 1 in Oakland With Fred Apostoli.

The commission also asked the National Boxing Association to bar Graziano from fighting anywhere in the United States.

Bruce And Abrams Made 69 Per Cent Of Camper Points

Pair Account For 228 Of 339 Record Total

Earl "Lefty" Bruce and Wesley Abrams, Allegany backs, who finished one-two in the city scoring parade, accounted for 69 per cent of the 339 points registered by the Campers during the 1948 season.

Bruce set a new city record by amassing 138 tallies while Abrams racked up 90 points.

Fort Hill's "Big Four"—Edgar Tucker, Larry McKenzie, Marvin Luttrell and Glen Burke accounted for 74 per cent of Fort Hill's 314 points.

Burke marked up 46 points, including 34 after touchdown, the latter being a new city record.

Allegany's team total of 339 also stands as as all-time high for a Cumberland scholastic eleven.

Seven Elks Survive Shuffleboard Tests

The BPO Elks No 63 Shuffleboard Tournament has reached the semi-finals in singles. Gene Helman meets Eddie Martz, Bill Wisegarver takes on Tom Brooks and Joe Garlitz plays Franklin Cook. All of these matches promise to be worth seeing and the interest within the lodge is very high.

In quarter final matches, Helman defeated Mert Wise, Martz won over Joe Yeager, Wisegarver swamped "Bill" Spangler, Brooks edged Paul Roeder, and Garlitz nosed out Allan Underdonk. Cook drew a bye into the semi-finals.

Suitable engraved plaques are to be awarded the winners after which they will adorn the walls in the grill room.

The basketball team, which is competing in the YMCA Senior Men's League opens its season Monday against the Amvets at 8 p. m. Those who have been practicing are Bill Spangler, Bee Orndorff, Dick Bruce, Joe Garlitz, Ken Gerard, Pete Lear, Bruce Mackey, V. Parsons, Tom Robinson, Jim Wilkinson and Jim Stafford.

British Champ Wins

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP) — Lil' Arthur King, the British Empire lightweight king from Toronto, gave the veteran Chester Rico an artistic 10-round pasting tonight at St. Nicholas Arena to assure himself of a future main go shot in Madison Square Garden.

The 21-year-old negro who weighed 136¼, to 140½ for his battle scarred foe, gave Rico a solid beating around the head and body to win the unanimous decision.

Army Is Favored To Win Over Navy At Philadelphia

100,000 To Witness Annual Service Tilt

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP) — With scattered Thanksgiving Day contests out of the way, the '48 college football campaign reaches a rousing conclusion tomorrow, headlined by the annual Army-Navy classic at Philadelphia.

After that they will close down the training tables except at those favored institutions whose sons have been tapped for special honor and glory on New Year's Day.

Though nothing much will be at stake except Army's glittering record, the service clash will attract the day's greatest crowd—something like 100,000, including President Truman and three miles of gold braid.

The West Pointers, unbeaten and untied in eight starts, are favored to wallop their oldest and dearest rivals by about four touchdowns. The Middies have yet to taste victory in eight games, though they can point out that they at least have been whacked by the best — Michigan, Notre Dame and California, among others.

From the standpoint of uncertainty of the result and richness of the prize at stake, a battle at Athens between Georgia Tech and Georgia probably is the day's outstanding event. Georgia, unbeaten in the Southeastern Conference, has a good chance for a bid to the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans if it can overcome the Engineers.

The North Carolina Tarheels, who trimmed Georgia in an early-season game and are said to be regarded with favor both by Sugar and Cotton Bowl officials, appear to have a romp against Virginia at Charlottesville.

Southern Methodist, already named host team in the Cotton Bowl, faces an old nemesis in Texas Christian, at Dallas. Last year the Christians spoiled an otherwise perfect record for Doak Walker and Co., by achieving a 19-19 tie. Baylor plays at Rice for third place in the Southwest Conference.

Oklahoma's galloping Sooners, already champions of the Big Seven and apparently bound for a Jan. 1 appearance either in the Sugar Bowl or the Orange Bowl at Miami — probably the latter — are solid favorites to plant the Oklahoma Aggies at Stillwater.

Irish Battle Huskies

Michigan, acclaimed the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll of sports writers, finished up last week, but Notre Dame, the undefeated No. 2, has a Saturday date with the Washington Huskies at South Bend. It looks easy for the Irish, who still have a Dec. 4 date to fill against Southern California at Los Angeles.

Michigan State's supercharged Spartans, who have not scored fewer than 40 points in their last four games, face the nation's top "spoilers" in the Santa Clara Bronchos out on the coast. The Bronchos handed both Oklahoma and Nevada their only defeats this season but it is doubtful they can handle the Spartans, who have their ears cocked for a bowl bid.

Penn State, whose bowl stock plummeted after last week's loss to Pittsburgh, also is out west to play Washington State, while Nebraska invades Oregon State. California and Northwestern, matched to meet in the bowl game which spawned all the others, finished their schedules last week.

Terps Play Mountaineers

Unbeaten Clemson, winner of the Southern Conference crown, is expected to wind up in a blaze of touchdowns against Auburn and then accept an invitation to play somewhere on New Year's Day.

Other games include: Tulane at Louisiana State, Mississippi State at Mississippi, Florida at Alabama, Villanova at North Carolina State, Tennessee at Vanderbilt, Virginia Military at Virginia Tech, William and Mary vs. Arkansas at Little Rock, Texas Tech at Hardin-Simmons, Detroit at Tulsa, Maryland at West Virginia, Holy Cross at Boston College, Fordham at N.Y.U., and Marquette vs. Arizona at Phoenix.

National Loop To Pay For Funeral Of "Hack" Wilson, Who Died Broke

Burial Set For Sunday At Martinsburg, W. Va.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26 (AP) — A simple funeral service in a neighborhood undertaker's parlor will be held here tomorrow for one of baseball's mightiest sluggers, Hack Wilson.

The funeral is being paid for by the National League. Wilson, who earned as much $30,000 a season with the Chicago Cubs, died broke Tuesday.

For two days no one claimed the body and a pauper's burial was awaiting Wilson when fans started pouring in offers to contribute toward a decent burial. Then Ford Frick, president of the National League, sent the money to cover expenses.

Last night, Hack's second wife who has been living with her parents in Martinsburg, W. Va., requested that burial be there where Wilson started his professional baseball career in the Class D Blue Ridge League.

The Elks Club of Martinsburg, at the request of Mrs. Hazel Miller Wilson, will escort the body to the West Virginia town after the funeral services here. Burial will be Sunday from a Martinsburg funeral home.

Wilson had operated a sporting goods store in Martinsburg after finishing his baseball career. During the war he worked in a Baltimore airplane plant and at the time of his death he was manager of a municipl park swimming pool.

The outfielder who set existing National League records of 56 home runs and 190 runs batted while with the Cubs from 1926-31 came to the Baltimore City Hall early this year asking "for any kind of work." He was employed as a park laborer until his baseball background was discovered.

City And PVC Football Races End In Deadlock

Fort Hill-AHS Tie 6-6; Keyser And LaSalle Cop

Football bowed out of the 1948 sports picture in the tri-state area on Thanksgiving Day with the city championship race between Fort Hill and Allegany ending in a stalemate, the battle between Ridgeley and Keyser for the Potomac Valley Conference winding up in a draw and LaSalle winning its third consecutive annual game from Beall High School.

Before approximately 10,000 persons with ideal football weather prevailing, the unbeaten gridiron warriors of Fort Hill and Allegany battled to a 6-6 tie at the local stadium in a contest featured by the line play of both elevens.

Passes Produce Scores

Coach Bob Pence's Campers drew first blood in the opening period when Earl "Lefty" Bruce gathered in one of Johnny Varnall's passes and scampered over the goal line for the first touchdown. It was also a forward pass that produced the Fort Hill six-pointer in the final period and deadlocked the score. Ronnie Cage hit Johnny Alderton with that game-tying aerial in the end zone.

Both teams failed to convert their tries for extra points. After the AHS touchdown a bad pass from center ruined Bob Schramm's kick and after Fort Hill scored Glen Burke booted the ball wide of the posts.

On the ground AHS outgained Fort Hill 137 to 122 net yards while in the air the Sentinels held a 100 to 73 edge in yardage. The first downs were 9 to 6 in favor of Coach Bill Hahn's eleven. Fort Hill was set back 20 yards on penalties to Allegany's 10.

The game was expertly handled by four West Virginia officials and the orderly manner in which the entire program was conducted reflected credit on both schools.

Keyser High earned a tie with Ridgeley for P.V.C. honors by closing the season with a 26 to 6 triumph over Romney High School's Pioneers before 2,000 persons at Romney.

Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's eleven scored thrice in the second period and once in the final in closing the conference season with a record of three wins and one tie. Kimble, Nelson, Emery and Conroy accounted for the KHS touchdowns and Elbon plunged for both extra points. Sid Roach made Romney's lone score in the final period.

LaSalle Is Winner 25-19

At Frostburg, 2,000 persons saw LaSalle High hammer out a 25 to 19 decision over Beall. A 70-yard touchdown run by Louis Arnone in the first period started the Explorers on the road to victory. Bill Hudson scored twice and Dick Leo once for the victors and Leo caught a pass for the extra point. Stevens, Robeson and Brady made Beall's touchdowns and Stevens plunged for an extra point.

Beall out-rushed LaSalle 213 to 150 net yards but the Explorers held an 87 to 40 yards edge in the air.

Wants Player Barred

DAYTON, O., Nov. 26 (AP)—Dayton University's athletic director tonight recommended that Don C. Mills be banned from all school athletics for striking an official at the Dayton-Chattanooga football game yesterday.

"The university cannot condone his action," Harry C. Baujan said, "and we must do something to show our future opponents and officials that this sort of thing cannot go unpunished."

Purple Heart Scores

The women's shuffleboard [illegible] of the Military Order of Heart scored a 2-1 win ov. Owls last night. Mrs. B. McFarland's 31 was high score for the victors while Mrs. Ruth Durkin topped the losers with a 43.

Jones To Meet Raadik

CLEVELAND, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Cleveland News Christmas Fund announces today it has signed middleweights Anton Raadik of Chicago and Reuben Jones of Norwalk, Va., for a 10-round bout on its Dec. 7 show to complete the card.

Notre Dame To Play Before 23rd Sellout, Seek 21st Win In Row

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 26 (INS) — Notre Dame tonight sighted the two great new records that will come automatically tomorrow if the Fighting Irish defeat the University of Washington.

The Irish are prohibitively favored to do just that, and thereby run their winning streak to 21 games and their unbeaten string to 27. In beating Northwestern its last time out, Notre Dame tied the old marks of 20 and 26 set by Irish elevens of 1929-30-31.

Barring unfortunate weather, Notre Dame also will be playing before its 23rd consecutive sellout crowd.

The unbeaten Irish have won all eight of their games played so far this season, and next Saturday will end their season by playing at Southern California.

Injured Baseball Player Gets $2,500

NORWICH, Conn., Nov. 26 (AP)—Edward Popek, 26, of Clifton, N. J., former second baseman of the New London Colonial League Baseball Club, was awarded $2,500 today for an injury sustained while playing ball July 20, 1947, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The award was made by compensation commissioner Charles W. Jewett. In addition the insurer for the ball club agrees to pay $442 medical expenses.

The finding reads that while Popek was playing second base he was run into by another player sustaining injuries and "temporary total incapacity" for a period of 43 weeks.

School Gridder Dies

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 26 (AP) — A high School football player collapsed and died during a football game here tonight.

Halfback Bobby Shew of the New Hanover High School Jayvees collapsed on the field just before a play late in the first period in the game with Tabor City High School.

He was carried to the sidelines where he was pronounced dead by a physician. The cause of death was not determined immediately.

Pirates Make All-American Circuit Debut

Crum-Urso Floormen To Play Here At 9 P.M.

Cumberland's Dukes launch their All-American Professional Basketball League campaign tomorrow night against the Pittsburgh Pirates at 9 o'clock at SS. Peter and Paul gym.

Pittsburgh, headed by Freddie Crum and Joe Urso, is a newcomer to the seven-club circuit but local fans will recall that the Smoky City quint operating as an independent team last season split even with the Dukes in a two-game series.

The Dukes kicked of the lid last Sunday with a 60-56 victory over St. Francis College of Loretto, Pa., but the locals had to hustle to pull the game out of the fire in a battle with the rangy, fast-breaking collegians. Coach Louis H. "Red" Klotz points out that not a man on the local squad was playing his game with the exception of George Geatz, who held the club together with his magnificent floor play and uncanny shooting. The rest of the players were way off on their passing and shooting and have been working hard this week to improve both in order to be in position to jump off to a flying start in their first league test.

Pittsburgh is reported to have a top flight outfit composed of former collegiate and high school stars of the Pittsburgh district. Last season the Buccaneers won 75 per cent of their games against the best independent clubs in the tri-state district.

Other teams in the All-American circuit this year are Wheeling, W. Va., Altoona, Butler, Warren and Washington, Pa. The league appears to be better balanced and more compact than the 1947-48 circuit and interest should mount as the season progresses.

Officials for the Sunday game here will be assigned by Commissioner Charles R. "Chick" Davies, former coach of outstanding basketball teams at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh.

There will be a preliminary game at 7:30 p. m.

The Dukes' management announces that season tickets still may be obtained up to and including December 1 and that individual game reserved seats may be obtained in advance by writing the Dukes' headquarters, 80 Greene Street, or calling 3776-R.

Missouri Accepts Bid To Gator Bowl

Clemson May Be Tigers Opponent New Year's

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 26 (AP) — The University of Missouri today accepted a bid to play in the third annual 'Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., January 1.

The announcement was made by Prof. Sam Shirky, faculty representative, after a meeting of the university's committee on intercollegiate athletics.

Although the opponent of the Big Seven Conference runner-up is not known, John (Hi) Simmons, assistant coach left tonight to scout Clemson in its game tomorrow with Auburn at Mobile, Ala. Clemson had a scout watching Missouri against Nebraska last Saturday.

It will be the Tigers' fourth appearance in a post-season game. They lost to Georgia Tech 21-7 in the Orange Bowl in 1940; bowed to Fordham 2-0 in the 1943 Sugar Bowl and dropped a 40-27 decision to Texas in the 1946 Cotton Bowl.

During the season the Tigers lost only to Ohio State and Oklahoma.

Vernall And Lattimer Named Players Of Week

6 Lineman, 6 Backs Honored This Year

Two linemen who played heads-up football in the Thanksgiving Day contest between Fort Hill and Allegany yesterday shared honors as the Players -Of-The-Week as the 1948 football season drew to a close in Cumberland.

The all-around play of Charles Lattimer, Fort Hill center, and John Vernall, Allegany end, was so outstanding in the 6-6 tie contest that the judges called it a toss-up and decided to honor both players.

Threw Touchdown Pass

Vernall hit Earl "Lefty" Bruce with Allegany's touchdown pass in the first quarter to give the Campers a 6-0 edge and made a number of tackles that stopped the Sentinels in their tracks.

Lattimer played brilliantly on the defensive and his interception of Vernall's pass on the five-yard line late in the fourth period after the Allegany pitcher had connected three times pulled the Hilltoppers out of a precarious position.

Vernall and Lattimer became the 11th and 12th players to be named for the weekly award introduced this season by Cumberland Council of the Knights of Columbus.

Earl Bruce, of Allegany, was named twice. Other backs who will receive white sweaters bearing the school letter with a Player-Of-The-Week emblem on the left sleeve are Wesley Abrams, Allegany; Edgar Tucker, Fort Hill; Leo Day, Ridgeley, and Paul Lindsay, Ridgeley.

Six Linemen Honored

Other linemen selected in addition to Vernall and Lattimer were Jim Ruehl, Allegany; Fred Corbin, Fort Hill; Glenn Burke, Fort Hill, and Dick Leo, LaSalle.

The left sleeve of Bruce's sweater will carry a star in addition to the Player-Of-The-Week emblem to show that he was twice the choice of the judges.

CHARLES LATTIMER

PLAYERS OF WEEK—Charles Lattimer, center of the Fort Hill Sentinels, and Johnny Vernall, end and expert passer of Allegany High's Campers, were voted the outstanding players in the annual Thanksgiving Day football game and will receive Player of the Week awards from Cumberland Council Knights of Columbus. Nine other players of Fort Hill, Allegany, LaSalle and Ridgeley will receive sweaters from the K. of C. for having been selected Players of the Week throughout the 1948 grid season.

SUGAR BOWL TEAMS WILL BE SELECTED AFTER GAMES TODAY

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26. (AP)—The Sugar Bowl opponents will be announced tomorrow about 8:30 p. m. Central Standard Time, a bowl official said today.

Fred Digby, executive manager of the Mid-Winter Sports Association, sponsor of the Jan. 1 football game, made the announcement this afternoon.

This could indicate that the Bowl committee was considering a Southeastern Conference team.

The conference has a rule barring member teams from entering a bowl agreement, actual or implied, until 8 p. m. (CST) the Saturday after Thanksgiving. Sugar Bowl officials have said previously that they would abide by all rules and regulations.

However, it could also mean that the Sugar Bowl officials were awaiting the result of other games being played by teams not in the SEC but mentioned frequently in speculation.

These include North Carolina, which closes its season tomorrow against Virginia, and Oklahoma University which meets Oklahoma A & M.

California Asks NBA To Suspend Graziano

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 26 (AP)—Rocky Graziano, has been suspended indefinitely from boxing in California, Joe Genshlea, secretary of the state boxing commission, said today.

Genshlea said the commission took the action as the result of Graziano's "running out" on a fight Dec. 1 in Oakland With Fred Apostoli.

The commission also asked the National Boxing Association to bar Graziano from fighting anywhere in the United States.

Bruce And Abrams Made 69 Per Cent Of Camper Points

Pair Account For 228 Of 339 Record Total

Earl "Lefty" Bruce and Wesley Abrams, Allegany backs, who finished one-two in the city scoring parade, accounted for 69 per cent of the 339 points registered by the Campers during the 1948 season.

Bruce set a new city record by amassing 138 tallies while Abrams racked up 90 points.

Fort Hill's "Big Four"—Edgar Tucker, Larry McKenzie, Marvin Luttrell and Glen Burke accounted for 74 per cent of Fort Hill's 314 points.

Burke marked up 46 points, including 34 after touchdown, the latter being a new city record.

Allegany's team total of 339 also stands as as all-time high for a Cumberland scholastic eleven.

Bill Hudson was LaSalle's high scorer for the season with 49 points to his credit.

British Champ Wins

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP) — Lil' Arthur King, the British Empire lightweight king from Toronto, gave the veteran Chester Rico an artistic 10-round pasting tonight at St. Nicholas Arena to assure himself of a future main go shot in Madison Square Garden.

The 21-year-old negro who weighed 136¼, to 140½ for his battle scarred foe, gave Rico a solid beating around the head and body to win the unanimous decision.

Army Is Favored To Win Over Navy At Philadelphia

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP) — With scattered Thanksgiving Day contests out of the way, the '48 college football campaign reaches a rousing conclusion tomorrow, headlined by the annual Army-Navy classic at Philadelphia.

After that they will close down the training tables except at those favored institutions whose sons have been tapped for special honor and glory on New Year's Day.

Though nothing much will be at stake except Army's glittering record, the service clash will attract the day's greatest crowd—something like 100,000, including President Truman and three miles of gold braid.

The West Pointers, unbeaten and untied in eight starts, are favored to wallop their oldest and dearest rivals by about four touchdowns. The Middies have yet to taste victory in eight games, though they can point out that they at least have been whacked by the best — Michigan, Notre Dame and California, among others.

From the standpoint of uncertainty of the result and richness of the prize at stake, a battle at Athens between Georgia Tech and Georgia probably is the day's outstanding event. Georgia, unbeaten in the Southeastern Conference, has a good chance for a bid to the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans if it can overcome the Engineers.

The North Carolina Tarheels, who trimmed Georgia in an early-season game and are said to be regarded with favor both by Sugar and Cotton Bowl officials, appear to have a romp against Virginia at Charlottesville.

Southern Methodist, already named host team in the Cotton Bowl, faces an old nemesis in Texas Christian, at Dallas. Last year the Christians spoiled an otherwise perfect record for Doak Walker and Co., by achieving a 19-19 tie. Baylor plays at Rice for third place in the Southwest Conference.

Oklahoma's galloping Sooners, already champions of the Big Seven and apparently bound for a Jan. 1 appearance either in the Sugar Bowl or the Orange Bowl at Miami — probably the latter — are solid favorites to plant the Oklahoma Aggies at Stillwater.

Irish Battle Huskies

Michigan, acclaimed the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll of sports writers, finished up last week, but Notre Dame, the undefeated No. 2, has a Saturday date with the Washington Huskies at South Bend. It looks easy for the Irish, who still have a Dec. 4 date to fill against Southern California at Los Angeles.

Michigan State's supercharged Spartans, who have not scored fewer than 40 points in their last four games, face the nation's top "spoilers" in the Santa Clara Bronchos out on the coast. The Bronchos handed both Oklahoma and Nevada their only defeats this season but it is doubtful they can handle the Spartans, who have their ears cocked for a bowl bid.

Penn State, whose bowl stock plummeted after last week's loss to Pittsburgh, also is out west to play Washington State, while Nebraska invades Oregon State. California and Northwestern, matched to meet in the bowl game which spawned all the others, finished their schedules last week.

Terps Play Mountaineers

Unbeaten Clemson, winner of the Southern Conference crown, is expected to wind up in a blaze of touchdowns against Auburn and then accept an invitation to play somewhere on New Year's Day.

Other games include: Tulane at Louisiana State, Mississippi State at Mississippi, Florida at Alabama, Villanova at North Carolina State, Tennessee at Vanderbilt, Virginia Military at Virginia Tech, William and Mary vs. Arkansas at Little Rock, Texas Tech at Hardin-Simmons, Detroit at Tulsa, Maryland at West Virginia, Holy Cross at Boston College, Fordham at N.Y.U., and Marquette vs. Arizona at Phoenix.

City And PVC Football Races End In Deadlock

Fort Hill-AHS Tie 6-6; Keyser And LaSalle Cop

Football bowed out of the 1948 sports picture in the tri-state area on Thanksgiving Day with the city championship race between Fort Hill and Allegany ending in a stalemate, the battle between Ridgeley and Keyser for the Potomac Valley Conference winding up in a draw and LaSalle winning its third consecutive annual game from Beall High School.

Before approximately 10,000 persons with ideal football weather prevailing, the unbeaten gridiron warriors of Fort Hill and Allegany battled to a 6-6 tie at the local stadium in a contest featured by the line play of both elevens.

Passes Produce Scores

Coach Bob Pence's Campers drew first blood in the opening period when Earl "Lefty" Bruce gathered in one of Johnny Varnall's passes and scampered over the goal line for the first touchdown. It was also a forward pass that produced the Fort Hill six-pointer in the final period and deadlocked the score. Ronnie Cage hit Johnny Alderton with that game-tying aerial in the end zone.

Both teams failed to convert their tries for extra points. After the AHS touchdown a bad pass from center ruined Bob Schramm's kick and after Fort Hill scored Glen Burke booted the ball wide of the posts.

On the ground AHS outgained Fort Hill 137 to 122 net yards while in the air the Sentinels held a 100 to 73 edge in yardage. The first downs were 9 to 6 in favor of Coach Bill Hahn's eleven. Fort Hill was set back 20 yards on penalties to Allegany's 10.

The game was expertly handled by four West Virginia officials and the orderly manner in which the entire program was conducted reflected credit on both schools.

Keyser High earned a tie with Ridgeley for P.V.C. honors by closing the season with a 26 to 6 triumph over Romney High School's Pioneers before 2,000 persons at Romney.

Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's eleven scored thrice in the second period and once in the final in closing the conference season with a record of three wins and one tie. Kimble, Nelson, Emery and Conroy accounted for the KHS touchdowns and Elbon plunged for both extra points. Sid Roach made Romney's lone score in the final period.

LaSalle Is Winner 25-19

At Frostburg, 2,000 persons saw LaSalle High hammer out a 25 to 19 decision over Beall. A 70-yard touchdown run by Louis Arnone in the first period started the Explorers on the road to victory. Bill Hudson scored twice and Dick Leo once for the victors and Leo caught a pass for the extra point. Stevens, Robeson and Brady made Beall's touchdowns and Stevens plunged for an extra point.

Beall out-rushed LaSalle 213 to 150 net yards but the Explorers held an 87 to 40 yards edge in the air.

Wants Player Barred

DAYTON, O., Nov. 26 (AP)—Dayton University's athletic director tonight recommended that Don C. Mills be banned from all school athletics for striking an official at the Dayton-Chattanooga football game yesterday.

"The university cannot condone his action," Harry C. Baujan said, "and we must do something to show our future opponents and officials that this sort of thing cannot go unpunished."

Purple Heart Scores

The women's shuffleboard [illegible] of the Military Order of Purple Heart scored a 2-1 win over Owls last night. Mrs. B. McFarland's 31 was high score for the victors while Mrs. Ruth Durkin topped the losers with a 43.

Jones To Meet Raadik

CLEVELAND, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Cleveland News Christmas Fund announces today it has signed middleweights Anton Raadik of Chicago and Reuben Jones of Norwalk, Va., for a 10-round bout on its Dec. 7 show to complete the card.

Notre Dame To Play Before 23rd Sellout, Seek 21st Win In Row

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 26 (INS) — Notre Dame tonight sighted the two great new records that will come automatically tomorrow if the Fighting Irish defeat the University of Washington.

The Irish are prohibitively favored to do just that, and thereby run their winning streak to 21 games and their unbeaten string to 27. In beating Northwestern its last time out, Notre Dame tied the old marks of 20 and 26 set by Irish elevens of 1929-30-31.

Barring unfortunate weather, Notre Dame also will be playing before its 23rd consecutive sellout crowd.

The unbeaten Irish have won all eight of their games played so far this season, and next Saturday will end their season by playing at Southern California.

Injured Baseball Player Gets $2,500

NORWICH, Conn., Nov. 26 (AP)—Edward Popek, 26, of Clifton, N. J., former second baseman of the New London Colonial League Baseball Club, was awarded $2,500 today for an injury sustained while playing ball July 20, 1947, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

The award was made by compensation commissioner Charles W. Jewett. In addition the insurer for the ball club agrees to pay $442 medical expenses.

The finding reads that while Popek was playing second base he was run into by another player sustaining injuries and "temporary total incapacity" for a period of 43 weeks.

School Gridder Dies

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 26 (AP) — A high School football player collapsed and died during a football game here tonight.

Halfback Bobby Shew of the New Hanover High School Jayvees collapsed on the field just before a play late in the first period in the game with Tabor City High School.

He was carried to the sidelines where he was pronounced dead by a physician. The cause of death was not determined immediately.

National Loop To Pay For Funeral Of "Hack" Wilson, Who Died Broke

Burial Set For Sunday At Martinsburg, W. Va.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 26 (AP) — A simple funeral service in a neighborhood undertaker's parlor will be held here tomorrow for one of baseball's mightiest sluggers, Hack Wilson.

The funeral is being paid for by the National League. Wilson, who earned as much $30,000 a season with the Chicago Cubs, died broke Tuesday.

For two days no one claimed the body and a pauper's burial was awaiting Wilson when fans started pouring in offers to contribute toward a decent burial. Then Ford Frick, president of the National League, sent the money to cover expenses.

Last night, Hack's second wife who has been living with her parents in Martinsburg, W. Va., requested that burial be there where Wilson started his professional baseball career in the Class D Blue Ridge League.

The Elks Club of Martinsburg, at the request of Mrs. Hazel Miller Wilson, will escort the body to the West Virginia town after the funeral services here. Burial will be Sunday from a Martinsburg funeral home.

Wilson had operated a sporting goods store in Martinsburg after finishing his baseball career. During the war he worked in a Baltimore airplane plant and at the time of his death he was manager of a municipl park swimming pool.

The outfielder who set existing National League records of 56 home runs and 190 runs batted while with the Cubs from 1926-31 came to the Baltimore City Hall early this year asking "for any kind of work." He was employed as a park laborer until his baseball background was discovered.

Pirates Make All-American Circuit Debut

Crum-Urso Floormen To Play Here At 9 P.M.

Cumberland's Dukes launch their All-American Professional Basketball League campaign tomorrow night against the Pittsburgh Pirates at 9 o'clock at SS. Peter and Paul gym.

Pittsburgh, headed by Freddie Crum and Joe Urso, is a newcomer to the seven-club circuit but local fans will recall that the Smoky City quint operating as an independent team last season split even with the Dukes in a two-game series.

The Dukes kicked of the lid last Sunday with a 60-56 victory over St. Francis College of Loretto, Pa., but the locals had to hustle to pull the game out of the fire in a battle with the rangy, fast-breaking collegians. Coach Louis H. "Red" Klotz points out that not a man on the local squad was playing his game with the exception of George Geatz, who held the club together with his magnificent floor play and uncanny shooting. The rest of the players were way off on their passing and shooting and have been working hard this week to improve both in order to be in position to jump off to a flying start in their first league test.

Pittsburgh is reported to have a top flight outfit composed of former collegiate and high school stars of the Pittsburgh district. Last season the Buccaneers won 75 per cent of their games against the best independent clubs in the tri-state district.

Other teams in the All-American circuit this year are Wheeling, W. Va., Altoona, Butler, Warren and Washington, Pa. The league appears to be better balanced and more compact than the 1947-48 circuit and interest should mount as the season progresses.

Officials for the Sunday game here will be assigned by Commissioner Charles R. "Chick" Davies, former coach of outstanding basketball teams at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh.

There will be a preliminary game at 7:30 p. m.

The Dukes' management announces that season tickets still may be obtained up to and including December 1 and that individual game reserved seats may be obtained in advance by writing the Dukes' headquarters, 80 Greene Street, or calling 3776-R.

Missouri Accepts Bid To Gator Bowl

Clemson May Be Tigers Opponent New Year's

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 26 (AP) — The University of Missouri today accepted a bid to play in the third annual 'Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., January 1.

The announcement was made by Prof. Sam Shirky, faculty representative, after a meeting of the university's committee on intercollegiate athletics.

Although the opponent of the Big Seven Conference runner-up is not known, John (Hi) Simmons, assistant coach left tonight to scout Clemson in its game tomorrow with Auburn at Mobil., Ala. Clemson had a scout watching Missouri against Nebraska last Saturday.

It will be the Tigers' fourth appearance in a post-season game. They lost to Georgia Tech 21-7 in the Orange Bowl in 1940; bowed to Fordham 2-0 in the 1943 Sugar Bowl and dropped a 40-27 decision to Texas in the 1946 Cotton Bowl.

During the season the Tigers lost only to Ohio State and Oklahoma.

Take The Dullness Out Of Life, Buy An Exotic Cheese

When you buy cheese today, chances are you select your favorite from a cheese counter or corner in your store—a special display that grew and grew in size as American manufacturers developed more and more types of good tasting, attractively packaged cheeses.

In the stores that carry complete lines of cheeses, you'll see all the familiar cheddars—natural and pasteurized process—some mild flavored and some sharp—some hard and some soft—and you'll see also many types of cheese which were for many years available only to connoisseurs. Today, you, too, may choose from these connoisseur type cheeses to grace your cheese tray, to add distinction to your desserts, salads and main dishes, if you desire. They are there for you, along with familiar types.

Next time you shop, regard the cheese display with the light of adventure in your eye. Along with your purchase of a family favorite, try a cheese type new to you. Here is a cheese "family tree," so to speak, to guide you in your adventuring.

BRICK — an American product, originated in the 19th century. Brick cheese is semi-hard, ranging from mild to quite sharp in flavor, and has many small round holes or eyes. It's called brick because it is brick-shaped, and bricks were once used on the cheese presses during manufacture. Use brick cheese in sandwiches and for buffet service.

CHEDDAR—the best known and most widely used of all cheese families. It's often called "American" cheese, although it originated in the village of Cheddar, Somersetshire, England as long ago as 1695. In natural form, cheddar is made in various shapes and sizes known as Daisies, Longhorns, Americas, Twins, Flats and Blocks. Natural cheddar without rind is made in block form, and is cured in its own transparent wrapper. Cheddar is hard, firm-textured, mild to very sharp. Much of the cheddar cheese used is process cheese. Cheddar is fine for cooked dishes, it's a favorite sandwich and buffet cheese, and is used for a dessert cheese. In fact, the custom of serving a wedge of cheddar with apple or other fruit pies originated in America.

PROCESS — A great American manufacturing triumph, marketed first in 1920. Process cheese is made by blending selected natural cheeses, by exact formula, to produce uniformity of flavor and texture. It comes in many package sizes and varieties — Cheddar, Swiss, Brick, Limburger and others. Process cheese is the most widely known and used of all forms in which cheese is sold. It's an excellent choice for eating and cooking.

COTTAGE—Almost as familiar as bread on American tables—served by itself, as a spread for bread, with salads and salad plates. You know it—smooth, creamy, mild flavored.

CREAM—Another table favorite, made of pasteurized milk and cream. It's smooth, soft and sweet, and is used in countless ways — salads, desserts, sandwiches, as a spread and as an appetizer.

EDAM — Growing in popularity. It's hard, round and red coated, mild in flavor. Edam originated in the Netherlands, but is made here, too. Edam is generally served as a dessert cheese with the top cut from the round, and the center hollowed out with a cheese scoop.

CAMEMBERT — More and more people are using this cheese for a dessert cheese. Napolean discovered it, and loved it so much he had a statue erected of the dairymaid who originated it. That was back in 1791 in France. Camembert is sold in serving size, individually wrapped triangles, usually packed in a round, flat box. Serve it at room temperature, soft, creamy, semi-liquid, with crackers or fruit, as a dessert course.

ROQUEFORT — Wonderful in salad dressings. Roquefort was known in France as early as 1050. It is called King of Cheeses, and is perhaps the best known of the dessert cheese. It's creamy white, and blue veined. It is the only world-famous cheese made of sheep's milk.

GOUDA—Is another round, red-coated cheese which originated in the Netherlands. It looks like an Edam, but is smaller, and slightly flat on top and bottom. It's mild, good tasting, and fine for desserts.

GORGONZOLA — A cheese of Italian origin—blue-veined and semi-hard, similar to Roquefort and Blue. Made now in America, used in salads and for dessert.

LIMBURGER—The "Cheesemaker's cheese"—delicate and difficult to make. Continuous study and work is making it more acceptable to American taste. The identifying aroma is largely in the rind. Now available in small packages. Try it gain . . . . for sndwiches and for buffet service.

PARMESAN—The hardest cheese in the world. Known in Italy for centuries as Grana. Some is made in the United States, and is treated for use in cooked dishes, particularly Italian cooked dishes and soups.

EMMENTHALER SWISS — Just plain Swiss to us—the Swiss with the sweet, nut-like flavor and the big "eyes." Newer forms of Swiss keep the fine flavor and texture and eliminate the eyes. Swiss dates back to the 15th century, and came from Switzerland, the Canton Bern, Valley of Emmental. A favorite for sandwiches, for salad use, and as part of a buffet service.

These are the main family groups to which all cheese belong. There are others—Neufchatel, a French, cream type cheese, Sap Sago, a Swiss clover flavored cheese, the Italian Pecorino Ro Mano, and the Monk named Trappist cheese, known here as Oka or Port du Salut. These latter are connoisseur delicacies which deserve your notice and respect, but they are not as well known, distributed, or versatile as say, brick, process, Swiss, cream, cottage or Camembert.

Let's do some cheese adventuring!

Merry Christmas Cookies

A good way to wish your family and friends the best of the holiday season is with Christmas cookies gay in shape and decoration.

An attractive tray of Christmas cookies always goes with enjoyable holiday entertaining. The refreshments are ready in a moment when friends come calling to see what Santa brought. You can letter the "Merry Christmas" from cookie dough by squeezing it through a pastry tube.

Make the Christmas trees from a rolled cookie dough. Tender cookies are the result of working with a soft dough. When you roll it out, use a pastry cloth, so that the dough will not stick or pick up extra flour. These cookies may be frosted and decorated with Christmas candies, nuts, and colored sugars.

Spritz cookies are shaped with a cookie press into rosettes, bells, stars, trees, depending upon your molding plates. They may also be piped with a pastry tube. These cookies are nice to hang on the tree, though these are decorations that usually disappear long before the New Year!

CHRISTMAS COOKIES

3½ cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
⅔ cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Sift together flour and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar. Add eggs and vanilla extract, beating enough to combine ingredients. Chill. Roll out one-eighth inch thick. Cut with fancy shaped cookie cutters. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 60 two-inch cookies, which may be frosted and decorated with Christmas candies.

SPRITZ COOKIES

4½ cups sifted enriched flour
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups shortening
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs, beaten

Sift together flour, soda and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture. Force dough through cookie press onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Makes 70 two-inch cookies.

12 small new potatoes, 2 stalks celery, diced, 2 strips bacon, ¼ cup chopped onion, salt and pepper, 1 spring parsley, minced.

Cook scraped otatoes and celery in small amount of water until tender. Drain. Fry bacon until crisp. Remove bacon; fry onion in drippings ;add potatoes and crumbled bacon. Season to taste. Sprinkle with parsley just before serving. Serves 4.

Swiss dates back to the 15th century, and came from Switzerland, the Canton Bern, Valley of Emmental. A favorite for sandwiches, for salad use, and as part of a buffet service.

These are the main family groups to which all cheese belong. There are others—Neufchatel, a French, cream type cheese, Sap Sago, a Swiss clover flavored cheese, the Italian Pecorino Ro Mano, and the Monk named Trappist cheese, known here as Oka or Port du Salut. These latter are connoisseur delicacies which deserve your notice and respect, but they are not as well known, distributed, or versatile as say, brick, process, Swiss, cream, cottage or Camembert.

Let's do some cheese adventuring!

Merry Christmas Cookies

A good way to wish your family and friends the best of the holiday season is with Christmas cookies gay in shape and decoration.

An attractive tray of Christmas cookies always goes with enjoyable holiday entertaining. The refreshments are ready in a moment when friends come calling to see what Santa brought. You can letter the "Merry Christmas" from cookie dough by squeezing it through a pastry tube.

Make the Christmas trees from a rolled cookie dough. Tender cookies are the result of working with a soft dough. When you roll it out, use a pastry cloth, so that the dough will not stick or pick up extra flour. These cookies may be frosted and decorated with Christmas candies, nuts, and colored sugars.

Spritz cookies are shaped with a cookie press into rosettes, bells, stars, trees, depending upon your molding plates. They may also be piped with a pastry tube. These cookies are nice to hang on the tree, though these are decorations that usually disappear long before the New Year!

CHRISTMAS COOKIES

3½ cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
⅔ cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Sift together flour and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar. Add eggs and vanilla extract, beating enough to combine ingredients. Chill. Roll out one-eighth inch thick. Cut with fancy shaped cookie cutters. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 60 two-inch cookies, which may be frosted and decorated with Christmas candies.

SPRITZ COOKIES

4½ cups sifted enriched flour
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups shortening
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs, beaten

Sift together flour, soda and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture. Force dough through cookie press onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 15 minutes. Makes 70 two-inch cookies.

12 small new potatoes, 2 stalks celery, diced, 2 strips bacon, ¼ cup chopped onion, salt and pepper, 1 spring parsley, minced.

Cook scraped otatoes and celery in small amount of water until tender. Drain. Fry bacon until crisp. Remove bacon; fry onion in drippings ;add potatoes and crumbled bacon. Season to taste. Sprinkle with parsley just before serving. Serves 4.

National Guard Armory Site Seems Probable

Board Of Education Votes To Grant Land

OAKLAND—Acquisition of four acres of land for the armory site was anticipated this week, barring unforseen legal entanglements, following a meeting of the County Board of Education.

At this meeting the Board declared unanimously in favor of conveying the required acreage from the Board of Education's property on Eighth and High streets providing there was no legal barrier to such a contribution. The matter has been referred to the board's attorney, A. T. Matthews, for a decision.

According to word received this week from Col. Fred Hewitt of the National Guard Headquarters, contracts for the armory will be awarded within the next two weeks, provided a site has been secured.

The armory is to be 140 by 60 feet, of brick construction, with an auditorium 60 by 100, and the remainder for storage purposes. It was also announced a front addition would be constructed to the original building next fall, the entire outlay being in the neighborhood of $250,000.

The local National Guard unit, Senator L. M. Fraley, Delegate R. E. McIntire, and others who have been working on the project, said they felt the acquisition of the site was vital.

Officials of the unit said they hoped to have the company up to full strength of 65 men by December 15, and that from 10 to 20 men, 17 to 34 years of age were needed.

National Guard Armory Site Seems Probable

Board Of Education Votes To Grant Land

OAKLAND—Acquisition of four acres of land for the armory site was anticipated this week, barring unforseen legal entanglements, following a meeting of the County Board of Education.

At this meeting the Board declared unanimously in favor of conveying the required acreage from the Board of Education's property on Eighth and High streets providing there was no legal barrier to such a contribution. The matter has been referred to the board's attorney, A. T. Matthews, for a decision.

According to word received this week from Col. Fred Hewitt of the National Guard Headquarters, contracts for the armory will be awarded within the next two weeks, provided a site has been secured.

The armory is to be 140 by 60 feet, of brick construction, with an auditorium 60 by 100, and the remainder for storage purposes. It was also announced a front addition would be constructed to the original building next fall, the entire outlay being in the neighborhood of $250,000.

The local National Guard unit, Senator L. M. Praley, Delegate R. E. McIntire, and others who have been working on the project, said they felt the acquisition of the site was vital.

Officials of the unit said they hoped to have the company up to full strength of 65 men by December 15, and that from 10 to 20 men, 17 to 34 years of age were needed.

On Christmas Eve, Santa will make a tour throughout Hyndman delivering Lion Goodwill Christmas Baskets. He will be assisted by the Hyndman Choral Group, directed by Miss Mary Myers.

Cash prizes will be awarded by the club for the best outside-lighted home decoration and for the best decorated shop window. Judging will take place Christmas night.

Plans for the first Christmas decoration of the town's business section are nearly completed, it has been announced. The decorations will be strings of lights entwined with holly garlands.

The decorations will hang across the streets from guy wires. The center piece of each garland will be a large holly candle wreath. The lights will be turned on December 10 and will remain lighted every night until New Year's.

The Lions have been assisted in the decorating project by local business men, Hyndman High School's industrial arts class and by the Boy Scouts. James D. Appling is in charge of the project.

Synthetic detergent cleansers are excellent oil and grease removers, which makes them especially useful for washing greasy pans and dishes, household equipment specialists of the U. S. However, this characteristic may be a disadvantage in washing linoleum or oil-painted surfaces, say the specialists, because the detergents tend to draw out the oil and thus cause a drying of these finishes.

Progress Report

There are now forty-one television stations operating in twenty-two cities and there will be fourteen more on the air by December.

John Crosby

There are 620,000 television sets in the nation, an increase of 136,000 since August. In New York City, which leads all others, there will be 353,000 sets in operation by December, an increase of 120 per cent since April. Running a rather distant second is Philadelphia with one quarter as many sets as New York. Eighty-two other television stations have been granted licenses by the Federal Communications Commission of the 445 stations possible under present available frequencies. When TV goes into higher frequencies, 1,000 stationswill be on the air within seven or eight years, according to Wayne Coy, chairman of the F. C. C.

Television families being an object of great curiousity they have already been sampled, analyzed and given the saliva test. The evidence points to the following conclusions. The average television family is composed of 3.3 presons but, since they invite people in for drinks at least three times a week, the average audience of the average set is five persons. The family has owned its set from four to twelve months, and use it more than twenty-four hours a week. Their theater attendance dwindles sharply and their radio listening tops almost entirely except when there isn't anything on the television set.

The video veterans—that is, those who had owned sets at least six months—were recently polled by "Variety" on what sort of programs now on the air they liked and those they didn't. Vaudeville or variety came in way ahead of all else with sports events running a bad second and drama running a close third. The video owners also liked movies. They showed little enthusiasm for news, children's programs, quiz shows, musical shows, cooking shows, or—and this will pain the educators—education. If he had his way, the set owner would like, in order of preference, better movies, topflight radio comedians, the best Broadway plays, and better comedy and vaudeville shows.

Most popular television show on the air at the moment is the Texaco Star Theater with Milton Berle which last week got a Hooperating of 86.7, an all-time record for either radio or television. (President Roosevelt with the previous high got 79 in his war message December 9, 1941.) Texaco set another awe-inspiring record when 100 per cent of the polled listeners correctly identified the sponsor, the first time such a thing has ever happened.

As of about now, there are 548 advertisers sponsoring television programs, an increase of 367 since January. Despite their assistance all television stations still are in the red.

Television is the only industry whose owners boast how much money they lose, a sum which ranges as high as $25,000 a week for big New York stations. Besides inheriting many of the soap and cigarette companies who now advertise in radio, television has acquired many (38 per cent) advertisers who don't use radio, notably clothing manufacturers and stores, automobile dealers, and appliance dealers whose product needs to be seen to be appreciated.

By January the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's coaxial cable will link the east and midwest linking seventeen of the largest cities in the country with a potential television audience for a single broadcast of 40,000,000. This has already led to hopeless confusion. Five networks—N. B. C., C. B. S., Dumont, A. B. C. and the team of W. P. I. X. in New York and W G. N. in Chicago—have asked for allocations on a single line that can't handle all of them at once. The five networks tried to iron out the conflict at a recent meeting, got nowhere and threw the problem into A. T. and T.'s lap where it now resides.

Prospects of getting a coaxial cable very far beyond the Mississippi in the near future are dim. The west coast won't be included until at least 1952 and probably not by then. However, Western Union's new microwave relay system by which ten television broadcasts can be relayed forty to fifty miles simultaneously offers a ray of hope for the Pacific coast.

New York is miles ahead of Hollywood and all other cities in video programming and, as in radio, there is a feast Sunday nights and pretty close to a famine all other nights. Among the high-budgeted and generally excellent programs available within three hours Sunday nights are the Theater Guild, Philco Television Playhouse, C. B. S.' hour-long variety show "Toast of the Town," the Ford Theater, Studio On, and Actors Studio—along with such non-dramatic shows as "Author Meets the Critics" and "Meet the Press."

Since no other spot, including Hollywood, is nearly as active in live television drama, many of Hollywood's brighter names are making pilgrimages to New York to take a fling at the medium in which their future may lay. Among those who have or will appear this season on television dramas are Ingrid Bergman, Dorothy McGuire, Marlene Dietrich, Van Heflin, Van Johnson, Paul Muni, Edward G. Robinson, Walter Pidgeon, Burt Lancaster, Katherine Hepburn, Pat O'Brien, Margaret Sullivan, Paulette Goddard, Irene Dunne, Walter Huston, Rex Harrison, and Joan Fontaine.

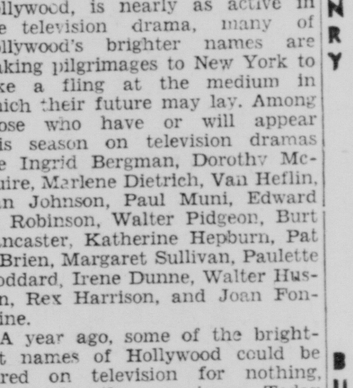

A year ago, some of the brightest names of Hollywood could be lured on television for nothing, simply for the experience. Today with competition for stars getting hotter and hotter beween the big New York dramatic programs, guest fees have reached as high as $6,000 for a single appearance, a figure which compares very favorable with the highest in radio.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Prospects of getting a coaxial cable very far beyond the Mississippi in the near future are dim. The west coast won't be included until at least 1952 and probably not by then. However, Western Union's new microwave relay system by which ten television broadcasts can be relayed forty to fifty miles simultaneously offers a ray of hope for the Pacific coast.

New York is miles ahead of Hollywood and all other cities in video programming and, as in radio, there is a feast Sunday nights and pretty close to a famine all other nights. Among the high-budgeted and generally excellent programs available within three hours Sunday nights are the Theater Guild, Philco Television Playhouse, C. B. S.' hour-long variety show "Toast of the Town," the Ford Theater, Studio On, and Actors Studio—along with such non-dramatic shows as "Author Meets the Critics" and "Meet the Press."

Since no other spot, including Hollywood, is nearly as active in live television drama, many of Hollywood's brighter names are making pilgrimages to New York to take a fling at the medium in which their future may lay. Among those who have or will appear this season on television dramas are Ingrid Bergman, Dorothy McGuire, Marlene Dietrich, Van Heflin, Van Johnson, Paul Muni, Edward G. Robinson, Walter Pidgeon, Burt Lancaster, Katherine Hepburn, Pat O'Brien, Margaret Sullivan, Paulette Goddard, Irene Dunne, Walter Huston, Rex Harrison, and Joan Fontaine.

A year ago, some of the brightest names of Hollywood could be lured on television for nothing, simply for the experience. Today with competition for stars getting hotter and hotter beween the big New York dramatic programs, guest fees have reached as high as $6,000 for a single appearance, a figure which compares very favorable with the highest in radio.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

The other day a ghost walked into my office, wearing a grey snap-brim.

"Eddie Halloran," I said. "Where have you been all these years? I thought you were dead."

Billy Rose

"I was dead," said my old high-school buddy. "For twenty years."

"Tell me about it," I said.

Eddie smiled. "It's a long story."

"Make it as long as you like," I said. "I'll edit it down to size."

"Well," said my old chum, "when I got out of the High School of Commerce, I went to work for a wholesale grocery house. Plugged pretty hard and moved ahead pretty fast."

"Same as you did in school," I said.

"Harder and faster," said Eddie, "and for a good reason. Her name was Millie, and we worked in the same office. She was quite a girl—I fell head over teakettle for her, and we were married inside of six months.

"After the usual two weeks in Atlantic City, we bought a little house up in Riverdale and settled down to about the happiest kind of life a guy could ask for—a fine home, a job I liked, and a wife I was crazy for.

"A couple of years later, when Millie found out she was going to have a baby, we figured it would fill the only gap in our lives. I remember telling her that it was too good to be true and, as it turned out, I was right. The baby was still-born and Millie died in childbirth, and looking back at it, I guess I about died with her.

"When I got home from the funeral, I found I couldn't stay there—too many things about the place kept reminding me of Millie. So I closed up the house without touching anything and moved into a hotel. But it wasn't any better there. I'd take a girl to a show or play nickel poker with some friends, but when it came time to break up, I still had to go to my room—and there would be Millie, whispering to me from the walls, from the carpets, from the ceiling.

"Well, after a while those nights got to be too much for me—especially when I got to running over the details of our life together. You see, some of the things I remembered weren't too pleasant. Like a lot of other jerks who don't know when they're well off, I had done a lot of grousing around the house, and it all came back to me. And there were some things I was ashamed of, like the night I begged off taking Millie to the movies because I had a date with a little commercial artist down in Greenwich Village. And the time I refused to buy her a fur coat because I wanted a Buick convertible.

"Well, after a lot of these 4 a. m. sessions with myself, I came up with a picture of Eddie Halloran as an all-around rat. I guess you'd say I had a guilt complex, and that a psychiatrist might have straightened me out, but analysis wasn't so popular in those days. All I knew was I had to get away—to leave the scene of the crime. And so I finally quit my job, sold the house and left New York.

"The town I settled in isn't important, but it's a long way from here. And though there wasn't a soul there who knew me, I found out it didn't help much—getting away from yourself, I discovered, involves a heck of a lot more than geography. As it turned out, being a stranger in town just gave me more time to brood about Millie, and so I didn't sleep much in this burg either. And then, a few months ago, something happened that straightened me out."

"Hold on," I said. "For once I'm going to hear a switch-ending that I don't think I'm going to like. I suppose you found out that Millie had been doing a little flirting on the side."

Eddie smiled. "You've been reading too many Billy Rose columns," he said. "All that happened was that one day I was walking down the street, hating myself as usual, when a cab with a fellow and a girl pulled up near me. The man got out, threw a bill to the cabbie, slammed the door in the girl's face and walked away. The girl jerked the door open and ran after him, pleading with him not to do whatever he was going to do, and there was a look on her face which only comes when a person has thrown away all pride. The man spit a few words at her, shoved her aside and walked rapidly up the street. The girl stood there, crying hysterically.

"All of a sudden—and for the first time in years—I began to feel good. You see, during all the time we'd been together, Millie had never cried. It was a fact I had entirely overlooked, but now it hit me—my wife had never cried once! The fur coat and the hollering around the house couldn't have been so important to her. What was important was that there had been no tears—that she had really been happy with me.

"That's the whole story, Billy. I'm back in town, working for the same firm, and sleeping regularly again. What's more, it looks as if I may be able to buy back our house in Riverdale. I hope so—it'll be nice having Millie around again."

In memory of my beloved son William G. (Billy) Garlitz who departed this life 6 years ago today.

I saw a little lad this morning
Whose eyes were bright and brown
I stopped for just one moment
And wished, Billy he was you.

Mother

In loving memory of Raymond K. True, who died one year ago Nov. 27, 1947.
I have only your memory my darling,
The rest of my life through,

In Memoriam

In memory of my beloved son William G. (Billy) Garlitz who departed this life 6 years ago today.

I saw a little lad this morning
Whose eyes were bright and brown
I stopped for just one moment
And wished, Billy he was you.

Mother
June Garlitz.

In loving memory of Raymond K. True, who died one year ago Nov. 27, 1947.
I have only your memory my darling,
The rest of my life through,
But your dearness will linger forever
As I treasure the image of you.
Sadly missed by his wife,
Birdie True.

FRESH DAILY — OLD HOME BUMPER BREAD — AT YOUR GROCER

SUSIE Q. SMITH — By Linda and Jerry Walter

"Gee, we were going swell till they started making touchdowns!"

Stock Market Makes Stand After 8-Month Record Low Wednesday

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—The stock market made a stand today after dropping to an eight-month low in Wednesday.

Moderate activity developed. Turnover amounts to 1,040,000 shares, compared with 1,290,000 Wednesday.

Many trades operated nervously, as though they weren't quite sure whether or not another blast of selling might flatten prices. Business was largely professional, with the general investor taking a minor part in the proceedings.

The Associated Press Average of 60 stocks remained at 63.4. Of the 1,008 issues which changed hands, 403 declined while 370 advanced.

Lows for the year were hit by, among others, American Woolen at 34¾, Pepsi-Cola 7⅝, International Telephone 8⅞, Chesapeake & Ohio 53⅛, Consolidated Textile 8⅝, Standard Brands 21¼, Woolworth 42¼, U. S. Smelting 38, Walgreen 29⅜, Crucible Steel 21⅝, Hudson Motors 12¾, Manhattan Shirt 17⅛, and Rheem Mfg. 18¼.

Several high-priced liens joined the slide in a generally lower bond market today. Many closing quotations were at the day's low point, with losses extending to more than two points.

Dealings were near the slowest pace in more than a month. Total sales of $2,860,000 compared with $3,540,000 on Wednesday, before the Thanksgiving recess.

U. S. Government issues were steady in over-the-counter trading, with the bank-eligible 2 ½s of September 1972-67 closing 99-32 at 101 16-32 bid.

Stock Market Makes Stand After 8-Month Record Low Wednesday

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—The stock market made a stand today after dropping to an eight-month low in Wednesday.

Moderate activity developed. Turnover amounts to 1,040,000 shares, compared with 1,290,000 Wednesday.

Many trades operated nervously, as though they weren't quite sure whether or not another blast of selling might flatten prices. Business was largely professional, with the general investor taking a minor part in the proceedings.

The Associated Press Average of 60 stocks remained at 63.4. Of the 1,008 issues which changed hands, 403 declined while 370 advanced.

Lows for the year were hit by, among others, American Woolen at 34¾, Pepsi-Cola 7⅝, International Telephone 8⅝, Chesapeake & Ohio 33⅛, Consolidated Textile 3⅝, Standard Brands 21¼, Woolworth 42¼, U. S. Smelting 38, Walgreen 29¾, Crucible Steel 21⅝, Hudson Motors 12¾, Manhattan Shirt 17⅛, and Rheem Mfg. 18¼.

Several high-priced liens joined the slide in a generally lower bond market today. Many closing quotations were at the day's low point, with losses extending to more than two points.

Dealings were near the slowest pace in more than a month. Total sales of $2,860,000 compared with $3,540,000 on Wednesday, before the Thanksgiving recess.

U. S. Government issues were steady in over-the-counter trading, with the bank-eligible 2 ½s of September 1972-67 closing 99-32 at 101 16-32 bid.

Mullan's Chance To Get Smoke Job Not Too Good

Council Questions Examination Grades

If the appointment of a deputy smoke inspector for Cumberland hinges on examination grades, Francis D. Mullan, one of three candidates, appeared to be out of the picture last night, although his name "definitely" will be submitted again Monday.

Mayor Thomas S. Post inserted the "definite" into the matter leaving three councilmen in a mood of, "I do not care to discuss the situation at this time," while the fourth said, "Positively, no" to Mullan. None but the Mayor indicated a favorite.

Commissioner of Finance William H. Buchholtz was the one councilman who would discuss his position on the inspector's appointment. He said "No" to Mullan and based his action on the grades obtained in a recent examination for the job.

Mullan's Grades Lowest

Mullan was lowest of three men deemed qualified for the position. Frederick Borden, the only man to score over 70 per cent in the examination, was high and J. Walter McKee was second.

Mullan was deemed the best qualified of the three by Mayor Post. The applicant has gained knowledge of the position through correspondence with cities where smoke control is in force, the Mayor explained, and by library research.

George M. Hitchcock, the city's smoke abatement engineer, who conducted the examination and is pushing for an early appointment of a smoke inspector, said he will train the appointee. He did not discuss qualifications but said results will be shown within a month of the appointment.

The remaining three councilmen hedged on discussing the city's current municipal problem last night, but two of them indicated by intimation that they favor approval of an applicant only if he possesses sufficient ability to pass the examination. They were Commissioners William J. Edwards and Edgar Reynolds.

Commissioner William V. Keegan admitted that the enforcement of smoke control is "overdue," but reserved any answer on the appointment until Monday.

The Mayor and four councilmen supported Hitchcock on the appointee's training, and agreed that no technical school training will be needed. All said the inspector will be expected to assume his duties upon appointment.

Both Commissioners Edwards and Reynolds declined to say if they would support or refute Mullan when the Mayor submits the name Monday. Commissioner Keegan said, "I will give my answers Monday." There were indications from other sources that he would support the Mayor.

Admitting that there was a possibility that he could not muster enough support in council to name Mullan to the job, Mayor Post said, "I'm not going to be contrary about the appointment."

This was taken to mean that if he fails to gain the necessary support he would nominate another candidate. He did not mention a second choice, however.

Edwards' and Reynolds' inclination to support only the top man in the examination was given when they answered questions about their support with questions about the examinations' results.

Basically they both said the standings of all three men are known. Wouldn't it be logical to support the man who by examination indicated that he was best qualified to take the job, they asked?

Mayor Post elaborated on his stand by declaring he would be acceptable to a candidate of the council's preference if the four-member body can prove that its selection is better acquainted with the technical necessities of the position.

Commissioner Buchholtz left less certainty as to his willingness to support any of the present three candidates. He said:

Buchholtz Makes Statement

"I feel that we definitely need smoke control, but I also feel that to carry it on successfully and to give the city some relief it should be a well qualified man who holds the job.

"I mean no reflection on the character or ability of these men. I am basing my opinion on the results of grades of all applicants who took the examination. I believe that in order to carry out a program in government efficient personnel is needed.

"I do not believe that the applicant (now being considered) possesses the technical qualifications necessary." Buchholtz said he has no other candidate in mind for the position.

With such statements from the municipal body, many Cumberlanders believed that little more would be accomplished at the Monday morning council meeting than occurred during the past two meetings when Mayor Post submitted Mullan's name and Council tabled the question after failing to second the Mayor's motion.

Navy Men Honored

Petty Officer William Bever, stationed aboard the USS Cadmus, and his guest, Carlos Mongello, were entertained by the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hillebrecht, Beall Street, recently.

Yellow and bronze chrysanthemums centered the table, where covers were laid for eight.

Weather

From sheer endurance, the weatherman may win the fight between his predictions and the actual state of the weather. Once again, with calm, undaunted courage, he has predicted rain. Last night there was a vague mist which at least wet the streets. The possibility of rain was increased by the relatively high temperature of 49 degrees last night. The minimum temperature was 22 degrees which was getting down toward record lows as witnessed by frost on the windshields of unsuspecting motorists. Yesterday afternoon wasn't too bad when the thermometer went up to 55 degrees, although that could hardly be called torrid.

MISS GUELDA HAWKINS

Dog's Ownership Keeps Probe Open In Nurse's Death

Body Is Found In Potomac River

The ownership of a hound dog puzzled West Virginia State Police last night as they continued to investigate the death of a Washington nurse, formerly of Frostburg, whose body was found in the Potomac River under Blue Beach Bridge Thursday.

Authorities said Miss Guelda Seaton Hawkins, 48, had been dead approximately 48 hours when her body was discovered about noon. Strange action of the dog led to the discovery, police said.

Investigating authorities said Miss Hawkins, who served in the Army Nursing Corps, visited a sister, Mrs. Marjory Evans, in Frostburg Monday and then spent the night and Tuesday morning at the home of a brother, George Hawkins, in Cash Valley, LaVale.

Last Seen Tuesday

The woman was last seen late Tuesday afternoon when she stopped in Springfield, W. Va., police declared. An autopsy revealed only a slight bruise on her hip, according to police, who said it could have been suffered in the leap into the river.

The body was discovered by Lewis West, proprietor of Blue Beach Tavern, who told authorities that he noticed the hound dog running back and forth on the beach barking. The body was hooked to a tree limb in the middle of the river just under the bridge. A. L. Russell, Hampshire County coroner, gave a verdict of suicide in the case.

State Trooper F. H. Tribett said a note found in the dead woman's car indicated she contemplated suicide. The car was parked several miles down the river near a private cabin.

Investigating authorities said they believed the woman parked the car in the isolated spot to prevent it from being discovered too quickly. The note was addressed to the sister in Frostburg and complained of illness.

Police were informed that Miss Hawkins suffered a head injury in an automobile accident about a year ago and was still receiving treatment for "severe head pains."

The dog licked the face of the woman when her body was recovered, police said, and continued to act strangely "and lonesome" after the body was removed.

Authorities said the dog could not be identified by persons in the area, yet relatives of the woman declared she did not have a dog in her possession when she was visiting them.

Seek Dog's Owner

Police declared that the familiarities of the dog were unusual and said they would attempt to identify ownership before closing the investigation. Police dismissed a report that the automobile was seen parked in the area over the weekend. They said information furnished by relatives did not bear out this report.

A funeral service will be held for the victim Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of a sister, Mrs. William Baker, Midland, by Rev. Karle Kauffman, pastor of Frostburg Welsh Memorial Church, and Rev. W. D. Reese, a former pastor. Interment will be in Allegany Cemetery, Frostburg.

Miss Hawkins is also survived by a sister, Miss Gladys Hawkins, serving with the WAC, and four other brothers, Donald Hawkins, National, Alwyn Hawkins, Vienna, Va., Robert Hawkins, Buffalo, and William Hawkins, Baltimore.

Local Authorities To Quiz Pair Held In Hagerstown

Will Check Prints Found In Breakings

Two men arrested in Hagerstown yesterday morning on an armed robbery charge will be questioned by local police who are investigating two breakings and enterings in the Cumberland business district last Saturday night or Sunday morning.

The two men, booked as Michael R. Hill, 20, and William W. Hill, 19, Indianapolis, Ind., were carrying a check "protecting" machine similar to one stolen from the Aetna Finance Company office, Liberty Street, police were informed.

Detective Thomas J. See said he would attempt to compare fingerprints lifted from a window at Peoples Drug Store, Baltimore Street, which was also entered at the same time.

Local authorities were informed that the pair admitted visiting Cumberland earlier this week. They were arrested yesterday in the Blue Ridge Bus Depot, Hagerstown, as they boarded a bus for Cumberland.

Hagerstown authorities said the pair was being held on a charge of armed holdup which netted $30 after one of the pair struck Geary R. Sinnisen, hotel clerk, over the head. They were arrested 16 minutes later.

Sinnisen told police the money was taken from a cash register in the hotel after he was struck over the head. His injuries were slight, according to police.

Local authorities were advised that the pair has been traveling under several aliases and there was some doubt that the names they were booked under were correct. Authorities said police departments in other states have been furnished a description of the pair to determine if they are wanted elsewhere.

Cumberland police said they have no definite proof that the check protecting machine was the one taken from the local office. The prisoners were quoted as saying they "got the machine in the west."

The club voted to dispense with the regular December meeting, since it falls near Christmas, and a special meeting is scheduled for December 2.

THANKSGIVING BUTCHERING-- While most city dwellers were preoccupied with various football scores Thursday, many farm people in Allegany and Garrett counties made use of the holiday to do their fall butchering. The custom of butchering on Thanksgiving was started by the early settlers in this area and is still a day when neighbors "get together" at one farm to butcher their hogs. Shown above is a scene at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. George Meese, Route 40, four miles west of Frostburg in Garrett County. Meese, assisted by four neighbors, Edwin Robeson, Ray Miller, Russell Opel and Forest Michael, all of Garrett County, and Russell Boyd, Cresaptown, killed five hogs, ranging in weight from 168 to 550 pounds dressed. Five women assisted in cutting and packing the meat for winter. The two children facing the camera are Juanita and James Meese.

Nine High Schools Represented In Jaycee Contest

Semi-Finals Will Be Held Today

Entries from at least nine of the county's high schools will compete in the "I Speak For Democracy Contest," sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce, it was indicated last night by Robert Little Ebert, chairman.

Contestants who will represent their schools at the semi-finals at WTBO this morning at 9 o'clock include, William Doub, Allegany; Anne Linn, Fort Hill; Jeannetta Lee, Carver; Rose Marie Murphy, St. Mary's; Helen Carol Gilmore, Ursuline; Thomas Connelly, LaSalle; Mary Ferguson, Beall, Frostburg; Emma Schramm, Barton, and Nancy Eaton, Bruce High School, Westernport.

Entries are also expected from Central at Lonaconing; St. Peter's High at Westernport; Girl's Central High, and Flintstone High School, but these had not registered names last night, Ebert said.

Four finalists will be selected from today's competition and they will speak over both local stations Sunday at 5 p. m. Today's talks will not be broadcast.

The judges announced by the Jaycees include Mrs. John J. Hafer, past president of the American Association of University Women; Rev. David C. Watson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, and Mrs. John G. Cook, former English instructor at Frostburg State Teachers' College.

The winner and runnerup will receive table model radios, third place will receive a $10 merchandise ticket and fourth place will receive a $5 merchandise ticket.

A transcription of the winning speech will be sent to Baltimore for the state finals to be held December 10. The local winner will compete with those from Baltimore, Hagerstown, Frederick, Salisbury, Silver Spring, Bethesda, Cambridge and Talbot county.

The state winner will be entered in a regional contest. The four regional winners will receive $500 scholarships, wrist watches and other prizes.

Last year's local contest was won by Donald McCoy, Fort Hill High School. The state winner was a girl from Hagerstown, who placed in the regional contest.

Woodland Fires Down To Minimum In Local District

Forester Cites Enviable Record

Crediting "Mother Nature" for providing a fairly wet fall season, William A. Parr, district forester, said yesterday, "There have been fewer fires in the county and district this season than in many years past."

There have been but two woodland fires in Allegany County this fall, one a quarter-acre brush fire three miles north of Danville, November 9, and the other a woods fire on Piney Mountain near Barrelville last week which burned only about five acres.

Last year there were 12 fires in Allegany County burning over 394 acres.

This fall there have been only small blazes in other counties of the district. Fire burned over one-quarter acre on Little Bear Creek in Garrett County November 9, for the only reported fire in that vastly wooded area. In Washington County a half acre was burned over on October 28.

Three fires were reported in Frederick County. One on October 17 burned half an acre, another October 18 burned about one-tenth of an acre, and the third on October 30 burned about half an acre.

Last year there were 1089.75 acres burned over in the entire district, including 394 acres in Allegany County.

Parr said educational work in fire prevention, constant patrolling and watching, together with hard work by all members of the forestry service and department are contributing factors to the record low losses for the season, but most of the credit belongs "to old Mother Nature," he said, since there has been little dry and hazardous weather this fall.

VFW Is Asked To Record Activities

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been asked by William P. McShane, Joppa, Maryland Department historian, to make a written record of its various civic and patriotic activities during the present calendar year.

Along with that of 100 other Maryland VFW Posts, the data is to become a permanent part of the organization's activities and contributions to the civic, social and patriotic activities of the various communities in the state.

McShane said such books, showing each post's contributions to veterans and society generally, would help overcome the widespread belief that VFW meetings are largely concerned with pensions, bonuses and other benefits exclusively for veterans.

"Simple logic would show," he added, that veterans, particularly the overseas veterans, are America's most unselfish citizens. Yet because they are not at the meetings, there is no way the public can add up our community record from year to year."

Serve In Japan

Recruit Ralph M. Phillips, brother of Mrs. Georgiana Ilspin, 100 East First Street, is now on occupational duty on Honshu Island, Japan, with the First Cavalry Division. He is now on maneuvers on Mt. Fujiyama.

A Little Care Will Keep Christmas Cards Out Of Dead Letter Office

Meet the man who's going to receive several thousand cheer Christmas cards this season—and isn't the least bit happy about it.

He has charge of the postoffice's undelivered mail—"nixies" to him—stuff for the dead letter office to you.

Last year, according to Acting Postmaster William C. McDermott, the Cumberland Postoffice played host to a large quantity of other people's mail, left on its hands because of faulty addressing.

"Each year, thousands of long friendships suddenly turn chilly when an eagerly-awaited Christmas card or gift fails to arrive," he warned. And again, he pleaded with Cumberlanders to please get out-of-state Christmas cards and packages in the mail by December 10 and cards for local delivery in the box at least a week before Christmas.

"Put the stamps on firmly," he added. "Don't just give stamps a lick and pat—they may fall off en route."

As to addresses, they should be in full. That means, full name, house number, street, name of city, zone number if any and the state.

He emphasized the fact that emergency carriers could hardly be expected to know who the Jones family on Oak Street is. In fact, when the rush gets heavy, there may even be two or three different carriers on different parts of one street.

Don't put "city" on the letters either, McDermott asked. A letter marked "city" may get in the wrong bag and end up in Los Angeles or Jersey City. Write Cumberland, Md. on local cards.

To further insure delivery, the Postmaster recommended sending cards by first class mail. In other words with three cent stamps.

Only first class mail will be forwarded from one address to another and is the only class entitled to "directory service" by skilled postoffice clerks who will try to trace down addressees who have moved since last year's card list was made out.

However, McDermitt added, if you should decide to use one and a half cent stamps—keep your tongue in your cheek and off that flap. Third-class mail must not be sealed and must not contain personal messages, although a handwritten signature is permissable.

Only one effort is made to deliver it—and if the address is incorrect or incomplete, your Christmas card will spend a lonely holiday in the Dead Letter Office.

W. Va. Hunter Shoots Self, Drives To Doctor

Accident Occurred Near Petersburg

A youthful West Virginia hunter who accidentally shot himself, ran 300 yards to his car and then drove two miles to a doctor for medical care was in satisfactory condition in Memorial Hospital here last night.

The youth, Junior Kuykendall, 18, Petersburg, was struck in the left abdominal region, left shoulder, left hand and one finger on his right hand by the discharge from a 12 gauge shotgun, according to Trooper C. H. Lewis of the Petersburg Detachment, West Virginia State Police.

Trooper Lewis said Kuykendall's gun butt was resting on a log when the weapon slipped. The hammer hit the log as it fell and the shotgun discharged, the pellets striking him.

Kuykendall ran the 300 yards to his car and then drove two miles south to Petersburg to the office of Dr. V. L. Dyer for emergency treatment.

Later yesterday afternoon he was brought to Memorial Hospital here.

Kuykendall's mother, Mrs. Oscar Kuykendall, told Trooper Lewis her son had been away from home hunting only about an hour when she received word he had been shot.

With Kuykendall when the accident happened about 2 p. m. yesterday were William Swick, 29, Petersburg, and Melvin Kuykendall, 13, also of Petersburg. The Kuykendall youths are not related.

Man Is Injured By Backing Truck

A 35-year-old man was admitted to Timmins Hospital, Bedford, Pa., yesterday for treatment of head injuries suffered when he was struck by a backing truck.

Bedford state police identified the man as John McDonald, address unknown. The hospital said the man was suffering from a deep laceration on the right side of the head and described his condition as fair.

State police said a truck driven by Neal Oldham, Cleveland, was driving east on the Turnpike when a small trailer it was towing broke loose. They said McDonald was struck as the truck was being backed to pick up the trailer.

New Maryland Tree Farm System Is Helping Improve Forest Lands

Maryland forest land is becoming "profitable business" William A. Parr, district forester, said yesterday, as he discussed the new "Maryland Tree Farm Sytem."

Many owners of timberland throughout the state are discovering, Parr said, that properly managed forests and forest acreage soon become perpetually profitable, producing a timber crop. Many owners are getting increased income from their forest lands, and at the same time are providing wood for many uses, helping to operate factories, increasing the fish and game supply, helping to prevent floods and checking erosion.

Any landowner with five acres or more of timberland or land where timber can be raised may apply to the Department of State Forests and Parks. State Office Building, Annapolis, for registration of their land, and help and advice on the program.

The Maryland Tree Farm System is sponsored by the Maryland Department of State Forests and Parks in co-operation with the Maryland County Forest Conservancy Boards to perpetuate the state's supply of timber by increasing good forestry practices on the two and three-quarter million acres of commercial forests and farm woodlands in Maryland, Parr explained.

The objectives of the movement, he outlined, are to increase the value of the tree "crop" to Marylanders, both to owners of large and small woodland tracts, and to protect the forests of the state so they will be a perpetual source of income to their owners and to the many thousands of Marylanders who derive employment from the forest industries.

Certain standards are necessary to qualify for participation in the program, Parr continued. The standards are, he said,

(1) The owner must protect his property from forest fires and excessive grazing. This may be accomplished by co-operating with the Forestry Department in the prevention and control of forest fires.

(2) The landowner must follow

Kelly To Halt Work For Week In Yule Season

Normal Schedules Slated For 1949

The Kelly-Springfield Tire Company will halt production for one week during the Christmas holidays, a plant spokesman reported last night.

Five-day work schedules are being planned for the first two weeks of December with a four-day schedule slated during the third week.

Operations will begin tapering off the week of December 20 in preparation for the shutdown scheduled Friday before Christmas, he said.

Production will be resumed Monday, January 3, on the basis of a five-day week, according to present indications.

The local tire plant employing some 2,000 hourly paid workers, closed down Wednesday for the Thanksgiving holidays and will resume full production Monday.

Some light production, however, was scheduled yesterday and today in some departments, the company said.

Seasonal drop in tire demands has kept most departments at the plant on a four-day schedule during this month.

Normal five-day production schedules are expected after New Year, the company said.

Jacob J. Blair, umpire for the company and Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, CIO, will be asked to give an interpretation of his decision on the Rotation case next Saturday the firm said.

Blair recently handed down a decision on the dispute following two hearings, the second held at his request.

Bartenders Seek New Agreement

No agreement was reached yesterday on a new contract between Local 569, Bartenders Union, AFL, and the Allegany County Liquor Dealers Association, C. E. Stutzman, union business agent, reported.

He said the union is asking that the work week be reduced from 48 to 40 hours with $57.50 a week for neighborhood bartenders, $60 for mixed bartenders and $1.40 an hour for extra bartenders.

The union is also asking that New Year's Day, Labor Day and Thanksgiving be made time off holidays.

Liquor dealers, the union said, have asked the union to extend the contract which expires December 1 for another year.

Members of the union will meet Sunday, December 5, at 11 a. m. in the Eagles Home to hear a report of the negotiating committee and to take action on the contract, Stutzman said.

Stutzman and George E. Owings, secretary-treasurer, represented the union. The dealers delegation was headed by Stanley Burke, secretary.

Beegle Refused Building Permit

John E. Beegle, 1209 Bedford Road, was refused a permit to erect a brick home on Schlund Avenue yesterday when he indicated the structure would leave only three feet clearance on either side of the lot.

Attaches in the city engineer's office said the zoning requirements in the area specify that 10 feet clearance be left on either side. The lot is 50 feet wide, the application indicated, while plans for the house indicate it would be 44 feet wide.

An appeal was taken with the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Mrs. Walter Dilfer was elected president of the Friendship Circle of St. Luke's Lutheran Church recently at the home of Miss Helen Wilman, Bedford Street. Mrs. Pearl Metz was named vice president, Mrs. George Hess, secretary, and Mrs. George Hartung, treasurer.

Mullan's Chance To Get Smoke Job Not Too Good

Council Questions Examination Grades

If the appointment of a deputy smoke inspector for Cumberland hinges on examination grades, Francis D. Mullan, one of three candidates, appeared to be out of the picture last night, although his name "definitely" will be submitted again Monday.

Mayor Thomas S. Post inserted the "definite" into the matter leaving three councilmen in a mood of, "I do not care to discuss the situation at this time," while the fourth said, "Positively, no" to Mullan. None but the Mayor indicated a favorite.

Commissioner of Finance William H. Buchholtz was the one councilman who would discuss his position on the inspector's appointment. He said "No" to Mullan and based his action on the grades obtained in a recent examination for the job.

Mullan's Grades Lowest

Mullan was lowest of three men deemed qualified for the position. Frederick Borden, the only man to score over 70 per cent in the examination, was high and J. Walter McKee was second.

Mullan was deemed the best qualified of the three by Mayor Post. The applicant has gained knowledge of the position through correspondence with cities where smoke control is in force, the Mayor explained, and by library research.

George M. Hitchcock, the city's smoke abatement engineer, who conducted the examination and is pushing for an early appointment of a smoke inspector, said he will train the appointee. He did not discuss qualifications but said results will be shown within a month of the appointment.

The remaining three councilmen hedged on discussing the city's current municipal problem last night, but two of them indicated by intimation that they favor approval of an applicant only if he possesses sufficient ability to pass the examination. They were Commissioners William J. Edwards and Edgar Reynolds.

Commissioner William V. Keegan admitted that the enforcement of smoke control is "overdue," but reserved any answer on the appointment until Monday.

The Mayor and four councilmen supported Hitchcock on the appointee's training, and agreed that no technical school training will be needed. All said the inspector will be expected to assume his duties upon appointment.

Both Commissioners Edwards and Reynolds declined to say if they would support or refute Mullan when the Mayor submits the name Monday. Commissioner Keegan said, "I will give my answers Monday." There were indications from other sources that he would support the Mayor.

Admitting that there was a possibility that he could not muster enough support in council to name Mullan to the job, Mayor Post said, "I'm not going to be contrary about the appointment."

This was taken to mean that if he fails to gain the necessary support he would nominate another candidate. He did not mention a second choice, however.

Edwards' and Reynolds' inclination to support only the top man in the examination was given when they answered questions about their support with questions about the examinations' results.

Basically they both said the standings of all three men are known. Wouldn't it be logical to support the man who by examination indicated that he was best qualified to take the job, they asked?

Mayor Post elaborated on his stand by declaring he would be acceptable to a candidate of the council's preference if the four-member body can prove that its selection is better acquainted with the technical necessities of the position.

Commissioner Buchholtz left less certainty as to his willingness to support any of the present three candidates. He said:

Buchholtz Makes Statement

"I feel that we definitely need smoke control, but I also feel that to carry it on successfully and to give the city some relief it should be a well qualified man who holds the job.

"I mean no reflection on the character or ability of these men. I am basing my opinion on the results of grades of all applicants who took the examination. I believe that in order to carry out a program in government efficient personnel is needed.

"I do not believe that the applicant (now being considered) possesses the technical qualifications necessary." Buchholtz said he has no other candidate in mind for the position.

With such statements from the municipal body, many Cumberlanders believed that little more would be accomplished at the Monday morning council meeting than occurred during the past two meetings when Mayor Post submitted Mullan's name and Council tabled the question after failing to second the Mayor's motion.

Navy Men Honored

Petty Officer William Bever, stationed aboard the USS Cadmus, and his guest, Carlos Mongello, were entertained by the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hillebrecht, Beall Street, recently.

Yellow and bronze chrysanthemums centered the table, where covers were laid for eight.

Weather

From sheer endurance, the weatherman may win the fight between his predictions and the actual state of the weather. Once again, with calm, undaunted courage, he has predicted rain. Last night there was a vague mist which at least wet the streets. The possibility of rain was increased by the relatively high temperature of 43 degrees last night. The minimum temperature was 22 degrees which was getting down toward record lows as witnessed by frost on the windshields of unsuspecting motorists. Yesterday afternoon wasn't too bad when the thermometer went up to 55 degrees, although that could hardly be called torrid.

MISS GUELDA HAWKINS

Body Is Found In Potomac River

The ownership of a hound dog puzzled West Virginia State Police last night as they continued to investigate the death of a Washington nurse, formerly of Frostburg, whose body was found in the Potomac River under Blue Beach Bridge Thursday.

Authorities said Miss Guelda Seaton Hawkins, 48, had been dead approximately 48 hours when her body was discovered about noon. Strange action of the dog led to the discovery, police said.

Investigating authorities said Miss Hawkins, who served in the Army Nursing Corps, visited a sister, Mrs. Marjory Evans, in Frostburg Monday and then spent the night and Tuesday morning at the home of a brother, George Hawkins, in Cash Valley, LaVale.

Last Seen Tuesday

The woman was last seen late Tuesday afternoon when she stopped in Springfield, W. Va., police declared. An autopsy revealed only a slight bruise on her hip, according to police, who said it could have been suffered in the leap into the river.

The body was discovered by Lewis West, proprietor of Blue Beach Tavern, who told authorities that he noticed the hound dog running back and forth on the beach barking. The body was hooked to a tree limb in the middle of the river just under the bridge. A. L. Russell, Hampshire County coroner, gave a verdict of suicide in the case.

State Trooper F. H. Tribett said a note found in the dead woman's car indicated she contemplated suicide. The car was parked several miles down the river near a private cabin.

Investigating authorities said they believed the woman parked the car in the isolated spot to prevent it from being discovered too quickly. The note was addressed to the sister in Frostburg and complained of illness.

Police were informed that Miss Hawkins suffered a head injury in an automobile accident about a year ago and was still receiving treatment for "severe head pains."

The dog licked the face of the woman when her body was recovered, police said, and continued to act strangely "and lonesome" after the body was removed.

Authorities said the dog could not be identified by persons in the area, yet relatives of the woman declared she did not have a dog in her possession when she was visiting them.

Seek Dog's Owner

Police declared that the familiarities of the dog were unusual and said they would attempt to identify ownership before closing the investigation. Police dismissed a report that the automobile was seen parked in the area over the weekend. They said information furnished by relatives did not bear out this report.

A funeral service will be held for the victim Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of a sister, Mrs. William Baker, Midland, by Rev. Karle Kauffman, pastor of Frostburg Welsh Memorial Church, and Rev. W. D. Reese, a former pastor. Interment will be in Allegany Cemetery, Frostburg.

Miss Hawkins is also survived by a sister, Miss Gladys Hawkins, serving with the WAC, and four other brothers, Donald Hawkins, National, Alwyn Hawkins, Vienna, Va., Robert Hawkins, Buffalo, and William Hawkins, Baltimore.

Local Authorities To Quiz Pair Held In Hagerstown

Will Check Prints Found In Breakings

Two men arrested in Hagerstown yesterday morning on an armed robbery charge will be questioned by local police who are investigating two breakings and enterings in the Cumberland business district last Saturday night or Sunday morning.

The two men, booked as Michael R. Hill, 20, and William W. Hill, 19, Indianapolis, Ind., were carrying a check "protecting" machine similar to one stolen from the Aetna Finance Company office, Liberty Street, police were informed.

Detective Thomas J. See said he would attempt to compare fingerprints lifted from a window at Peoples Drug Store, Baltimore Street, which was also entered at the same time.

Local authorities were informed that the pair admitted visiting Cumberland earlier this week. They were arrested yesterday in the Blue Ridge Bus Depot, Hagerstown, as they boarded a bus for Cumberland.

Hagerstown authorities said the pair was being held on a charge of armed holdup which netted $30 after one of the pair struck Geary R. Sinnisen, hotel clerk, over the head. They were arrested 16 minutes later.

Sinnisen told police the money was taken from a cash register in the hotel after he was struck over the head. His injuries were slight, according to police.

Local authorities were advised that the pair has been traveling under several aliases and there was some doubt that the names they were booked under were correct. Authorities said police departments in other states have been furnished a description of the pair to determine if they are wanted elsewhere.

Cumberland police said they have no definite proof that the check protecting machine was the one taken from the local office. The prisoners were quoted as saying they "got the machine in the west."

THANKSGIVING BUTCHERING--While most city dwellers were preoccupied with various football scores Thursday, many farm people in Allegany and Garrett counties made use of the holiday to do their fall butchering. The custom of butchering on Thanksgiving was started by the early settlers in this area and is still a day when neighbors "get together" at one farm to butcher their hogs. Shown above is a scene at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. George Meese, Route 40, four miles west of Frostburg in Garrett County. Meese, assisted by four neighbors, Edwin Robeson, Ray Miller, Russell Opel and Forest Michael, all of Garrett County, and Russell Boyd, Cresaptown, killed five hogs, ranging in weight from 168 to 550 pounds dressed. Five women assisted in cutting and packing the meat for winter. The two children facing the camera are Juanita and James Meese.

Woodland Fires Down To Minimum In Local District

Forester Cites Enviable Record

Crediting "Mother Nature" for providing a fairly wet fall season, William A. Parr, district forester, said yesterday, "There have been fewer fires in the county and district this season than in many years past."

There have been but two woodland fires in Allegany County this fall, one a quarter-acre brush fire three miles north of Danville, November 9, and the other a woods fire on Piney Mountain near Barrelville last week which burned only about five acres.

Last year there were 12 fires in Allegany County burning over 394 acres.

This fall there have been only small blazes in other counties of the district. Fire burned over one-quarter acre on Little Bear Creek in Garrett County November 9, for the only reported fire in that vastly wooded area. In Washington County a half acre was burned over on October 28.

Three fires were reported in Frederick County. One on October 17 burned half an acre, another October 18 burned about one-tenth of an acre, and the third on October 30 burned about half an acre.

Last year there were 1089.75 acres burned over in the entire district, including 394 acres in Allegany County.

Parr said educational work in fire prevention, constant patrolling and watching, together with hard work by all members of the forestry service and department are contributing factors to the record low losses for the season, but most of the credit belongs "to old Mother Nature," he said, since there has been little dry and hazardous weather this fall.

VFW Is Asked To Record Activities

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been asked by William P. McShane, Joppa, Maryland Department historian, to make a written record of its various civic and patriotic activities during the present calendar year.

Along with that of 100 other Maryland VFW Posts, the data is to become a permanent part of the organization's activities and contributions to the civic, social and patriotic activities of the various communities in the state.

McShane said such books, showing each post's contributions to veterans and society generally, would help overcome the widespread belief that VFW meetings are largely concerned with pensions, bonuses and other benefits exclusively for veterans.

"Simple logic would show," he added, that veterans, particularly the overseas veterans, are America's most unselfish citizens. Yet because they are not at the meetings, there is no way the public can add up our community record from year to year."

Serve In Japan

Recruit Ralph M. Phillips, brother of Mrs. Georgiana Ilspin, 100 East First Street, is now on occupational duty on Honshu Island, Japan, with the First Cavalry Division. He is now on maneuvers on Mt. Fujiyama.

A Little Care Will Keep Christmas Cards Out Of Dead Letter Office

Meet the man who's going to receive several thousand cheer Christmas cards this season—and isn't the least bit happy about it.

He has charge of the postoffice's undelivered mail—"nixies" to him—stuff for the dead letter office to you.

Last year, according to Acting Postmaster William C. McDermott, the Cumberland Postoffice played host to a large quantity of other people's mail, left on its hands because of faulty addressing.

"Each year, thousands of long friendships suddenly turn chilly when an eagerly-awaited Christmas card or gift fails to arrive," he warned. And again, he pleaded with Cumberlanders to please get out-of-state Christmas cards and packages in the mail by December 10 and cards for local delivery in the box at least a week before Christmas.

"Put the stamps on firmly," he added. "Don't just give stamps a lick and pat—they may fall off en route."

As to addresses, they should be in full. That means, full name, house number, street, name of city, zone number if any and the state.

He emphasized the fact that emergency carriers could hardly be expected to know who the Jones family on Oak Street is. In fact, when the rush gets heavy, there may even be two or three different carriers on different parts of one street.

Don't put "city" on the letters either, McDermott asked. A letter marked "city" may get in the wrong bag and end up in Los Angeles or Jersey City. Write Cumberland, Md. on local cards.

To further insure delivery, the Postmaster recommended sending cards by first class mail. In other words with three cent stamps.

Only first class mail will be forwarded from one address to another and is the only class entitled to "directory service" by skilled postoffice clerks who will try to trace down addressees who have moved since last year's card list was made out.

However, McDermitt added, if you should decide to use one and a half cent stamps—keep your tongue in your cheek and off that flap. Third-class mail must not be sealed and must not contain personal messages, although a handwritten signature is permissable.

Only one effort is made to deliver it—and if the address is incorrect or incomplete, your Christmas card will spend a lonely holiday in the Dead Letter Office.

W. Va. Hunter Shoots Self, Drives To Doctor

Accident Occurred Near Petersburg

A youthful West Virginia hunter who accidentally shot himself, ran 300 yards to his car and then drove two miles to a doctor for medical care was in satisfactory condition in Memorial Hospital here last night.

The youth, Junior Kuykendall, 18, Petersburg, was struck in the left abdominal region, left shoulder, left hand and one finger on his right hand by the discharge from a 12 gauge shotgun, according to Trooper C. H. Lewis of the Petersburg Detachment, West Virginia State Police.

Trooper Lewis said Kuykendall's gun butt was resting on a log when the weapon slipped. The hammer hit the log as it fell and the shotgun discharged, the pellets striking him.

Kuykendall ran the 300 yards to his car and then drove two miles south to Petersburg to the office of Dr. V. L. Dyer for emergency treatment.

Later yesterday afternoon he was brought to Memorial Hospital here.

Kuykendall's mother, Mrs. Oscar Kuykendall, told Trooper Lewis her son had been away from home hunting only about an hour when she received word he had been shot.

With Kuykendall when the accident happened about 2 p. m. yesterday were William Swick, 29, Petersburg, and Melvin Kuykendall, 13, also of Petersburg. The Kuykendall youths are not related.

Man Is Injured By Backing Truck

A 35-year-old man was admitted to Timmins Hospital, Bedford, Pa., yesterday for treatment of head injuries suffered when he was struck by a backing truck.

Bedford state police identified the man as John McDonald, address unknown. The hospital said the man was suffering from a deep laceration on the right side of the head and described his condition as fair.

State police said a truck driven by Neal Oldham, Cleveland, was driving east on the Turnpike when a small trailer it was towing broke loose. They said McDonald was struck as the truck was being backed to pick up the trailer.

New Maryland Tree Farm System Is Helping Improve Forest Lands

Maryland forest land is becoming "profitable business" William A. Parr, district forester, said yesterday, as he discussed the new "Maryland Tree Farm Sytem."

Many owners of timberland throughout the state are discovering, Parr said, that properly managed forests and forest acreage soon become perpetually profitable, producing a timber crop. Many owners are getting increased income from their forest lands, and at the same time are providing wood for many uses, helping to operate factories, increasing the fish and game supply, helping to prevent floods and checking erosion.

Any landowner with five acres or more of timberland or land where timber can be raised may apply to the Department of State Forests and Parks. State Office Building, Annapolis, for registration of their land, and help and advice on the program.

The Maryland Tree Farm System is sponsored by the Maryland Department of State Forests and Parks in co-operation with the Maryland County Forest Conservancy Boards to perpetuate the state's supply of timber by increasing good forestry practices on the two and three-quarter million acres of commercial forests and farm woodlands in Maryland, Parr explained.

The objectives of the movement, he outlined, are to increase the value of the tree "crop" to Marylanders, both to owners of large and small woodland tracts, and to protect the forests of the state so they will be a perpetual source of income to their owners and to the many thousands of Marylanders who derive employment from the forest industries.

Certain standards are necessary to qualify for participation in the program, Parr continued. The standards are, he said,

(1) The owner must protect his property from forest fires and excessive grazing. This may be accomplished by co-operating with the Forestry Department in the prevention and control of forest fires.

(2) The landowner must follow

Kelly To Halt Work For Week In Yule Season

Normal Schedules Slated For 1949

The Kelly-Springfield Tire Company will halt production for one week during the Christmas holidays, a plant spokesman reported last night.

Five-day work schedules are being planned for the first two weeks of December with a four-day schedule slated during the third week.

Operations will begin tapering off the week of December 20 in preparation for the shutdown scheduled Friday before Christmas, he said.

Production will be resumed Monday, January 3, on the basis of a five-day week, according to present indications.

The local tire plant employing some 2,000 hourly paid workers, closed down Wednesday for the Thanksgiving holidays and will resume full production Monday.

Some light production, however, was scheduled yesterday and today in some departments, the company said.

Seasonal drop in tire demands has kept most departments at the plant on a four-day schedule during this month.

Normal five-day production schedules are expected after New Year the company said.

Jacob J. Blair, umpire for the company and Local 26, United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America, CIO, will be asked to give an interpretation of his decision on the Rotation case next Saturday the firm said.

Blair recently handed down a decision on the dispute following two hearings, the second held at his requset.

Bartenders Seek New Agreement

No agreement was reached yesterday on a new contract between Local 569, Bartenders Union, AFL, and the Allegany County Liquor Dealers Association, C. E. Stutzman, union business agent, reported.

He said the union is asking that the work week be reduced from 48 to 40 hours with $57.50 a week for neighborhood bartenders, $60 for mixed bartenders and $1.40 an hour for extra bartenders.

The union is also asking that New Year's Day, Labor Day and Thanksgiving be made time off holidays.

Liquor dealers, the union said, have asked the union to extend the contract which expires December 1 for another year.

Members of the union will meet Sunday, December 5, at 11 a. m. in the Eagles Home to hear a report of the negotiating committee and to take action on the contract, Stutzman said.

Stutzman and George E. Owings, secretary-treasurer, represented the union. The dealers delegation was headed by Stanley Burke, secretary.

Beegle Refused Building Permit

John E. Beegle, 1209 Bedford Road, was refused a permit to erect a brick home on Schlund Avenue yesterday when he indicated the structure would leave only three feet clearance on either side of the lot.

Attaches in the city engineer's office said the zoning requirements in the area specify that 10 feet clearance be left on either side. The lot is 50 feet wide, the application indicated, while plans for the house indicate it would be 44 feet wide.

An appeal was taken with the Zoning Board of Appeals.
